SALVAGE WORK IN A FIRE-RAVAGED HOME

David Irving picks through the rubble of the living room of his parents' home in Tamalpais Valley, ruined by fire yesterday. Damage to the dwelling, at 511 Shasta Way, and contents was estimated at $50,000. Firemen said the blaze, which broke out in a short-circuited lamp in the living room about 2:30 p.m., was discovered by 8-year-old Jack Irving, another son of the owners of the home, the E. J. Irvings, upon returning home from school. The house was unoccupied at the time.

Ecology Plan Is Beaten

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An omnibus Assembly-approved bill creating a single new super agency to fight all the state's pollution battles has been defeated by a Senate committee.

The action by the Governmental Organization Committee leaves a controversial coastline protection bill as the session's only major environmental legislation still alive. And, its future is doubtful.

The committee killed the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, on an overwhelming 3-6 vote Monday and then swiftly rejected two other Assembly-passed bills.

One, by speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, would have empowered the Lands Commission to crack down harder on offshore oil development while the second by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, proposed a moratorium on zoning changes which would increase population density in the scenic Santa Monica Mountains.

DEFEAT DENOUNCED

Defeat of the Z'berg bill was denounced by the conservationist Californians for Environmental Quality as a victory for a "small clique of special interests" which forced "its will on the whole population by manipulating a sensitive bottleneck in the legislature."

The bill would have abolished many antipollution agencies such as the Air Resources and Water Resources Control boards and replaced them with a single "Environmental Quality Board" and a series of satellite regional boards. The boards of "environmental experts" would administer day-today pollution-fighting efforts and enforce laws and rules to protect the natural environment.

There was no testimony on any of the bills because each had been heard previously by the committee at public meetings.

"The bill is still with us," Dills told Z'berg.

TURNED BACK

Moretti's bill was turned back on a 5-2 vote with eight needed for approval. It would have added two public members to the three-member State Lands Commission and allowed the agency to close down oil development operations offshore when they posed an "unreasonable risk of pollution or contamination" to fish, swimmers, the coast, water, navigation and recreation or residential areas.

Additionally, certain sections of the Santa Barbara Channel would have been placed off limits to award of future leases for oil development. An oil sanctuary around the Channel Islands already has been proposed in a bill by Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, which has already been approved.

The opposition votes were by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-Railroad Flat, and Dills. Casting favorable votes were Harmer, Kennick, Mills, Stevens and Way.

On a split 5-5 vote, the committee defeated Sieroty's bill proposing the moratorium until a special commission investigating preservation of the Los Angeles-Ventura Mountains makes its recommendations to the legislature next year.

Sieroty also is author of the only surviving coastline protection bill which would establish an agency empowered to prohibit certain kinds of developments until a master plan for coastal preservation was drafted for legislative approval.

The measure is scheduled for a vote next week in the Senate Natural Resources Committee which previously killed four other coastline bills.

Lucas Valley Faire Plan Withdrawn

Pattersons To Seek Another Center Spot

Lucas Valley homeowners today won their battle to keep the Renaissance Pleasure Faire and cultural center from locating on the Grady Ranch property.

Phyllis and Ronald Patterson, creators of the Pleasure Faire, announced they had decided against appealing Marin County Planning Commission denial of their rezoning application for the 1,000-acre ranch off Lucas Valley Road.

Instead, the Pattersons revealed, the Pleasure Faire will return to the Black Point site for 1972, while they hunt for another permanent site in Marin County.

"The villain was the automobile," the Pattersons said.

They added, "The concern shown ... over traffic problems" at the Lucas Valley site "has given us reason to pause in our efforts ... We had hoped that, even assuming some traffic inconvenience once a year, this might be accepted as a small price to pay to preserve the beautiful Grady property and to create the (Renaissance Study and Cultural) Center which would benefit Marin year-round."

The planning commission rejected the rezoning on Nov. 1, and the Pattersons had until 5 p.m. yesterday to file an appeal with the board of supervisors. But the deadline passed without a protest.

Last month, in a stormy hearing before Deputy County Zoning Administrator Harvey E. Bragdon, the Pattersons won a use permit for the center and fair at the Grady Ranch, conditional on obtaining commercial rezoning of the property.

The Pattersons plan to buy the ranch hinged on county approval of development plans.

Besides objections over potential traffic congestion, opponents contended the development would mar the residential character of the valley. About 350 valley residents appeared at the Nov. 1 commission meeting, many of them wearing armbands and buttons proclaiming "Unfaire."

The Pattersons said they had received many calls and letters urging them not to give up in seeking a Marin County site for the center and Pleasure Faire.

"We were delighted that — even in turning down our application for the Lucas Valley site based on traffic (on Nov. 1) all those who expressed themselves ... at the hearing were unanimous in their praise of the Faire and the center," the Pattersons reported.

Bolinas-Stinson Plan Is Junked

By ERIK M. INGRAM

At the urging of about 100 West Marin residents, the Marin County Planning Commission last night junked the Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan in favor of something more restrictive to growth.

The action, approved on a 6-0 vote with Commissioner George P. Leonard abstaining, followed a lengthy hearing at the Bolinas Community Center where audience members appeared unanimous in their call to dump the old plan.

Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo, in moving that the 1961 plan be scrapped, also won commission support for a proposed interim ordinance to restrict, if not halt, growth in the two seaside communities until a new plan is adopted.

Details of the temporary ordinance were not discussed, county planning officials indicating proposals would be considered at a future commission session.

The commission, accused by some earlier in the evening of showing no apparent concern over the future of the communities, was loudly applauded following the roll-call vote.

Its action still must be rati-

Aqueduct Mini-Plan In Sonoma

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The proposed Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct water plan was officially scrapped yesterday and a small-scale plan to serve Southern Sonoma and North Marin was recommended to the Sonoma County Water Agency.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, sitting as water agency directors, heard chief engineer Gordon Miller recommend construction of a new pipeline to Southern Sonoma to meet water needs there and in North Marin on a short-term basis to 1974 or 1975.

Miller said the aqueduct plan was rejected, in effect, when voters in Marin Municipal Water district last Tuesday defeated a proposal to contract for large amounts of future water from the Russian River.

Miller said the new plan would involve a pipeline from the Russian River to the Rohnert Park-Cotati area to connect with the present north-south supply line.

He said this would supply additional water to Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati, Sonoma State College and North Marin. It would also provide an additional five million gallons per day to be pumped north from Cotati to meet growing water needs in Santa Rosa.

The board directed Miller to meet with agencies it supplies water with to get their reaction to the plan. The agency supplies water on a contract basis with Petaluma, the North Marin Water District, Santa Rosa, Sonoma, Valley of the Moon and Forestville.

Ruling On Women Pensions Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with a lower court ruling that pension plans compelling women workers to retire at an earlier age than men is a civil rights violation.

In another action, the Court let stand a circuit court decision that airlines cannot impose a "women only" qualification for the job of flight attendant without violating the Civil Rights Law against sexual discrimination.

The pension order came in the form of a brief order without comment. It left standing an appeals court decision which is technically binding only in the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin which that circuit contains.

But it could have widespread implications if and when suits on behalf of women's rights are decided in other areas of the country.

The ruling on behalf of an Indiana woman brewery employe came from the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which said that forcing women to retire earlier than men "is tantamount to discharge" on the basis of sex and thus violates the 1964 Civil Rights Law.

In the airlines case, the Su-

Democrats Get Remap Support

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Senate Republicans have registered a favorable reaction to the latest Democratic reapportionment plan which GOP leaders say could be approved by Friday.

But Assembly Republicans Monday rejected the latest Democratic-sponsored proposal after reviewing it behind closed doors.

Senate Republicans discussed the Democratic proposal but decided to analyze it further before saying publicly they are satisfied. Several GOP lawmakers indicated they were pleased with it.

"My initial reaction is very positive," said GOP Caucus Chairman John L. Harmer of Glendale. He said a final vote on the bill could come before Friday.

Senate Republican floor leader Fred Marler Jr. of Redding agreed. Both Marler and Harmer were recipients of major shifts in the latest Democratic plan, which they both appeared to like.

"It looks promising," said Marler. "My initial reaction is favorable."

Harmer's proposed new seat would be entirely within Los Angeles County. Under the previous plan he would also have represented portions of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Ventura counties.

Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield, under the latest proposal, would cut through a corridor from his Kern County district to the coast to embrace the University of California at Isla Vista.

San. Donald L. Grunsky, R-Watsonville, would drop down from Monterey County to pick up the sections of San Luis Obispo County taken from Harmer. Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, would represent the sections of Ventura County vacated by Harmer.

Marler would take in Lake County in his proposed new district. Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, who now represents Lake, would have to make up the population he lost by surrendering the county to Marler by extending his district into the Benecia area.

Sen. William Coombs, R-Rialto, would get a district composed entirely of San Bernardiono County. To accomplish this, it would affect Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter, whose proposed East Central Valley District would have to be revised.

Under the earlier plan, Way was to have represented parts of San Bernardino County, but instead he will swing over to Santa Clara County. Sen. George Zenovich, D-Fresno, would return entirely to the central valley near Fresno.

Lagomarsino and Republican Sen. Robert S. Stevens of Los Angeles must still decide which

5.5 Pct. Line Drawn On Future Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In the most comprehensive government-imposed wage policy since the Korean war, the Pay Board Monday voted to hold future pay increases to about 5.5 per cent and bar most workers from collecting wages they lost during President Nixon's 90-day freeze.

The decision was made over bitter, united labor opposition.

The board also agreed to let most contracts negotiated before or during the freeze take effect unchanged when the controls are lifted at midnight Saturday.

It was the most important decision yet on Phase 2 of Nixon's new economic policy. The Cost of Living Council could announce today what industries will be covered during the extended controls, and the Price Commission is expected to announce its standards by the end of the week.

The post-freeze wage rules were approved 10-5 with labor voting against and industry and public members in favor.

"It means they nullified our contracts" said AFL-CIO President George Meany after the two-hour meeting. Meany said he would take the issue to Miami where meetings preceding the AFL-CIO annual convention were getting underway this week.

The five union presidents on the Pay board did not rule out an eventual walkout —a tactic they used on similar pay boards during World War II and the Korean War.

For the present, however, they were expected to attend the next meeting Thursday which will set up rules for enforcing the new wage policy.

The union leaders were also expected to take their case to Congress, where the retroactive pay principle overturned by the Pay Board majority has received important endorsement from the House Banking Committee and Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the administration is optimistic that labor will not boycott the Pay Board and that public support for Nixon's economic policy will remain high.

"The Pay Board has met and

Tiburon Approves Of Hilarita Housing

By GEORGE NEVIN

A three-year battle ended last night as the Tiburon City Council gave final approval to reconstruction of the Hilarita housing project.

Capping a three-hour hearing on the controversial $2.8 million project, the council first beat back an attempt to delay the development and then voted 4-1 to approve precise plans.

Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, long a foe of the 112-unit moderate income project, cast the lone dissenting vote after sponsoring an unsuccessful move to delay the project for two weeks.

At first, Mayor Denis T. Rice supported the delay, which Fanning asked in order to have a consultant check figures which justified construction of 112 units rather than a lower number. But he then switched and voted with the majority on the final motion.

The stage was set for last night's encounter two weeks ago when a three-member council heard arguments on the project and then postponed action until the return of the full council last night.

The outcome of last night's drama, which was played before an audience of perhaps 200 in the Reed School gymnasium, was in doubt until closing moments of the debate, when Rice announced he would vote for the oft-criticized project which will replace barracks-like structures built at Hilarita during World War II.

As at previous hearings, Fanning questioned the need for 112 units on eight acres and said he preferred 56 units, a figure

Fear 52 Dead In Air Crash

LEGHORN, Italy (UPI)—A U.S.-built Royal Air Force transport plane, ferrying 46 Italian paratroopers and six British airmen to a joint maneuver in Sardinia, crashed into the Tyrrhenian Sea today. All on board were presumed dead.

It was the worst peacetime air tragedy in Italian military history.

Daylight Holdup In San Rafael

Two holdup men entered the gift shop at Mission St. Raphael in San Rafael yesterday, ordered a clerk to the floor and fled with $24, police said.

Clerk Marie C. Smith told officers the men entered the Fifth Avenue shop about 2:15 p.m., and one brandished a pistol. They cut the store's telephone line and made her lie on the floor, she said.

The intruders ran out with $24 from the store's register, with Mrs. Smith close behind, blowing a whistle for help. But the men, described as dark-looking and in their 20s, escaped.

Meatcutters May Strike

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)-The National Meatcutters Union called for consideration of a general strike Tuesday in protest of President Nixon's pay board's decision to outlaw retroactive pay raises and place a 5.5 per cent ceiling on future wage hikes.

The half-million member union also urged AFL-CIO President George Meany and other labor members of the payboard to resign from the board.

School Prayer Issue 'Will Be Back'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "We've interred the issue," said Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler of Monday's House vote against amending the Constitution to put prayer back in public schools. "But I suspect that in a few years it will be back."

Sponsors of the rejected amendment proposal said the issue would not be dormant that long. They promised to take it to the polls in 1972 where they will seek to defeat members who, as they put it, "voted against prayer in school."

Mrs. Ben Ruhlin, the Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, housewife and mother who spearheaded the long campaign that climaxed in Monday's losing vote, said funds would be raised to buy billboard space in the districts of all 162 members whose "no" votes sent the amendment down the drain.

Although 240 other members voted for it, a two-thirds vote was required, and the proposal lost by 28 votes.

Rep. Don Clausen, R-First District, voted for the amendment. Rep. William Mailliard, R-Sixth District, voted against.

The amendment, as drafted and forced to the floor by Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Ohio, was intended to dilute Supreme Court decisions of 1962 and 1963 that barred a state-prescribed prayer in New York, daily Bible reading in Pennsylvania, and a daily recitation of the Lord's Prayer at the opening of schools in Baltimore.

Though in each case it has been held that any child could be excused, the court held the practices in violation of the Constitution's First Amendment which precludes official "establishment" of religion and guarantees religious freedom.

Wylie's proposed amendment would have upheld the right to participate in "nondenominational" prayer in schools and other tax supported buildings. Opponents saw this as a threat to the First Amendment and when its prospective defeat was apparent Wylie accepted revised wording by Rep. John Buchanan, R-Ala., to substitute the word "voluntary" for "nondenominational" and to add "meditation" as an alternative to prayer.

Opponents argued that this either meant nothing, in which case it need not be passed, or something, in which event it could only muddy the legal waters and create confusion.

38 Seized In Belfast Roundup

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Nearly 1,000 British troops swept through Roman Catholic areas of Belfast today rounding up security suspects, guns, explosives and a large quantity of ammunition, army spokesmen said.

Many of the 38 persons seized were on the army's wanted list of Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspects, a spokesman said. The army blames the IRA for much of the violence in the six northern counties called Ulster.

Gunmen fired on British soldiers in Belfast and members of the Ulster Defense Regiment on a freeway outside the Northern Ireland capital.

No casualties were reported, the spokesmen said.

Procunier Calls For 'Mini' Prison Study

TRACY (UPI)—State prisons chief Raymond Procunier has suggested California try a pilot program to evaluate the "mini" prison idea suggested in a recent federally financed study of California's penal system.

The board, which devoted most of its session to a discussion of the three-volume report on California's prison system, took no action on Procunier's suggestion.

Procunier, director of the Department of Corrections, said the recommendation that the state use smaller community-based prisons be tested to see "if this community stuff is all that it is cracked up to be."

"I think it is," Procunier said.

Oakland criminologist Robert E. Keldgord, who compiled the report for the board, said small local facilities were preferable because "you can deal with an offender most advantageously to him and to society if you keep him in the community."

He said it was important in rehabilitation "not to cut the inmate's ties to the community."

But board member Michael N. Canlis, sheriff of San Joaquin County, argued that local communities would be "totally unprepared" to support a modern sophisticated prison system.

The board did not discuss the more controversial suggestions in the prison study, including suggestions that San Quentin and Folsom prisons be closed, conjugal visits be allowed at all prisons and convict living conditions be upgraded.

Before meeting to discuss the study, the board met privately with inmates and staff members at Deuel.

James M. Hall, secretary of the Human Relations Agency and chairman of the board, said he hoped to complete the board's recommendations on the report by January for submission to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The board has scheduled a series of meetings at California prisons as part of its investigation of the report's findings. The next board meeting is scheduled for Nov. 22 at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville.

Onassis Gets Out Of Contract

ATHENS (UPI)—The Greek military regime has decided to release Aristotle Onassis from a $600 million contract calling for establishment of a huge industrial complex in return for an oil refinery concession.

The contract took nearly two years to negotiate and within months after it was signed in January, 1970, Onassis asked for its revision and an increase in oil prices for the refinery.

When the government failed to meet his demands, Onassis turned to international arbitration which was provided for in the contract and asked for his letter of guarantee and $8.3 million to cover his expenses during the preparatory phases of the agreement.

Quang Tri B52 Sortie 1st In Year

SAIGON (UPI) —Waves of Air Force B52 bombers swept in to smash Communist antiaircraft positions and supply bunkers just seven miles south of the main headquarters for the demilitarized zone (DMZ) defense line at Quang Tri city today.

It was the first time in at least one year the eight-engine bombers had flown strikes in the rolling, sparsely jungled foothills of the Annamite Mountains overlooking the northern coastal plain and Highway 1, the main north-south traffic artery below the DMZ.

Spokesmen said two waves of B52s—at least six warplanes—dropped about 180 tons of bombs on the guerrilla positions, about one mile apart and roughly five miles east of the highway.

The targets were listed initially as "about 10 supply bunkers in each location," but spokesmen later said allied helicopters had reported taking antiaircraft fire from the area in the past several days.

The site was seven miles south of Quang Tri Combat Base which overlooks the major land connection between Quanz Tri, headquarters of the South Vietnamese 1st Division.

Amchitka Site Land Caves In

AMCHITKA, Alaska (UPI) — The land immediately above the site of the most powerful U.S. underground nuclear test in history collapsed Monday into a huge crater. The collapse was caused by shift of earth that registered 5 on the Richter Scale.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spokesman Dave Jackson said the ground movement which occurred 38 hours after Saturday's blast 5,975 feet below had been expected. The five-megaton explosion formed an 800-foot diameter cavity more than one-mile below the ground's surface.

"No radiation escaped," Johnson said. "But when the cavity cooled and pressure inside it decreased, the earth above it collapsed and filled the cavity."

There was some seismic activity at the site until the collapse, then it ceased, he said.

Two dead seals and two dead sea otters were found Monday, Jackson said, adding that all the animals had sustained internal injuries.

Thirteen dead birds of various species were found, he said, but none were of species considered endangered.

"One Peregrine Falcon nest and five eagle nests were destroyed, but of course the birds are not nesting at this time of year," Jackson said.

He said several hundred rock greenling fish, which live in kelp beds along Amchitka's shoreline, were found dead as were a large number of three spine stickleback fish, a nongame fish living in lakes on Amchitka.

U.N. Debate Postponed By Egypt

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

Cairo's semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said today Egypt has decided to postpone for two weeks the U.N. General Assembly Middle East debate to give four African leaders more time to complete a peace mission.

The four statesmen left Cairo Monday after a week of talks in Israel and Egypt but promised to return after next week for more discussions.

The four leaders—Presidents Leopold Senghor of Senegal and Ahmado Ahidjou of Cameroon, and Gen. Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria and Gen. Joseph Mobutu of Zaire (Congo)—have described their mission as a "last chance" to reach a peaceful solution in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Al Ahram today said that in order not to hinder this mission, Egypt decided to postpone the U.N. debate for two weeks.

The newspaper also announced a change in the Africans' travel plans. The four were scheduled to return to the Middle East next week for a second round of talks. But they now plan to travel to Israel on Nov. 20 and to Cairo Nov. 22.

The statesmen indicated they would submit "definite ideas" to both sides and a series of questions to Israel, Al Ahram said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Marcos Setback

MANILA (UPI) — Voters handed President Ferdinand E. Marcos a major political setback today, electing opposition Liberal party members as mayor of Manila and to a majority of the eight senate seats on the ballot.

With about 20 per cent of the vote in, Ramon D. Bagatsing won the contest for mayor of Manila and his Liberal party comrades were winning in six of the eight senate seats. There are 24 senators and if the final outcome remains unchanged, it would give Marcos' Nacionalists 15 seats, the Liberal party eight and one independent.

Castro To Chile

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro probably will travel the length and breadth of Chile during his visit here beginning tomorrow, diplomatic spokesmen said today. His tour will include visits to two American-owned copper mines nationalized by Chile.

In addition to Santiago and the cities of Antofagasta, Valparaiso and Concepcion, he will fly to Punta Arenas, the southernmost city of the country 1,500 miles south of the capital.

Other scheduled stops during Castro's first visit outside Cuba in seven years include the nationalized Chuquicamata and El Salvador, copper mines in northern Chile.

Top Attraction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, still not officially a candidate for reelection, will be the top attraction tonight at a GOP fund raising effort designed to drum up $5 million for the 1972 campaign.

In the space of a few hours this evening, Nixon will speak to a $500-a-plate dinner in New York, then hop a plane to Chicago to repeat his performance before a similar gathering there.

In each case the appearances will be linked by closed circuit television to a total of 18 other such $500-a-head events. The Republican Party officially has not said how much it expected to raise but White House sources said the expected return would be $5 million — to be divided evenly between state candidates and the presidential ticket next year.

Arms Crackdown

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department officials have ordered canceled $3.6 million in export licenses to shut off shipments of military supplies to Pakistan that have continued despite an embargo imposed in April.

The embargo, ordered in the spring, excluded exports that already were in the "pipeline" and actually in the process of being shipped. Some members of Congress strongly criticized this ruling, arguing the administration was taking the side of the Pakistani government in the Central Regime's quarrel with East Pakistani separatists.

Charles W. Bray, a State Department spokesman, said the Monday order cancelling export licenses did not apply to $160,000 worth of spare parts which were aboard ship in New York awaiting shipment to Pakistan.

Consumer Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A strong consumer protection bill that would crack down on deceptive advertising and sales practices and make product warranties more honest was passed by the Senate yesterday.

The senate approved the bill 76 to 2 after defeating by 57 to 24 a Republican-led attempt to amend the legislation to remove a provision that would allow the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to get quick injunctions to stop deceptive ads or sales schemes while a case is decided in court.

Present law allows the practices to continue until a case is decided. This process often takes years.

The Senate bill was sent to the House. It was considered unlikely the House would act on the legislation before next year.

Base Operation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Communist Chinese set up their first base of operations on U.S. soil in more than 20 years today in three double rooms of a Madison Avenue hotel.

Six Chinese, described as low level administrators, arrived in New York Monday wearing grey-green Mao jackets. Their job was to prepare for the arrival of the Chinese delegation to the United Nations, expected tomorrow.

Huang Hua, Chinese ambassador to Canada who was named Peking's first representative to the U.N. Security Council, was to fly from Ottawa to Paris today to join the rest of the delegation and then fly back with the group to New York.

Peking Plot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign diplomats here report that Lin Piao, who once was groomed as the successor to Mao Tse-tung, has been ousted from power in mainland China and may be dead.

Lin, China's defense minister since 1959, was purged this year when Mao and Premier Chou En-lai rooted out the last vestiges of a military plot to overthrow them, the diplomats said.

They added, however, there were indications that the purge was a post-mortem formality that followed Lin's death in a plane crash in Mongolia.

The report made by the diplomats last night coincided in some respects with rumors that surfaced in September in Hong Kong and elsewhere. At that time, the Peking government prohibited all aircraft operations over China. The ban lasted — with a few exceptions — for seven weeks.

Muskie, HHH Plea For Unity

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The same team that led the Democrats in the 1968 presidential campaign—Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie—officially opened the 1972 race in Northern California Monday night by pleading for party unity and attacking President Nixon.

Muskie and Humphrey, both unannounced candidates for the 1972 presidential nomination, spoke to some 500 persons, including California's top Democratic leaders, at a $100-a-plate dinner sponsored by the Northern California State Central Committee.

Muskie, the Maine senator who is his party's frontrunner for the nomination, warned that any attempt to create a fourth party would result in "a stunning defeat" for the Democrats.

"As Democrats, the things that unite us are so much stronger than the things that divide us," Muskie said. "Surely, then, we can make our party safe for diversity."

Humphrey, the former vice president who won reelection to the Senate from Minnesota, called on "everyone in the party to understand that you can have competition without confrontation."

Two announced candidates for the party's nomination—Sens. Fred Harris of Oklahoma and George McGovern of South Dakota—had been invited to the affair, which was billed as a "Presidential Dinner," but were unable to appear although Mrs. McGovern sat in for her husband.

Muskie and Humphrey both leveled sharp attacks on Nixon.

"The people know that he (Nixon) has not measured up to the leadership America needs," Muskie said. "We must be able to provide that leadership."

Humphrey, who led the Democratic ticket in 1968, called Nixon a "moving target" and said the president has fallen far short of his campaign promise "to bring us together."

"There is more division in this country tonight than there has been in years," Humphrey said.

Muskie, however, cautioned the Democrats not to overemphasize the economy to the exclusion of other foreign and domestic issues in the campaign.

"We need something more than economics to run on," he said, listing tax reform, national health insurance, guaranteed jobs, equal rights and law and order as other "vital issues" the Democrats could "build a coalition for change."

NOVATO HIGH QUEEN CANDIDATES

Novato High School's homecoming queen will be selected Friday from among these candidates — (from left) Robbie Montero, Cindy Buchan, Linda Pratt, Cheryl De Baun, Lezlie Sisco, Donna King, Diane Crowley and Linda Ford. Although the student body will select the winner Friday, the queen will not be announced until Saturday's game at Novato with San Rafael High which will decide the Marin County Athletic League championship.

Lay Teachers Set Vote On Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Secondary Teachers Association said Monday that a strike vote would be taken among lay teachers in the seven high schools operated by the Roman Catholic Church's archdiocese of San Francisco.

Gerald J. Killian, the president, said negotiations had broken down toward replacing a contract that expires this Saturday.

The schools are Cathedral, Riordan and Sacred Heart in San Francisco, Marin Catholic in Kentfield, Serra in San Mateo and Mitty and St. Lawrence in San Jose. They have a total enrollment of 11,500.

Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal at Marin Catholic, said today the lay teachers association membership is kept secret, but he believes it numbers about 13 of the 38 teachers at the Kentfield school. He said classes would continue for the 767 students if a strike results from the vote.

Killian said his group had been offered no raise this year but four per cent the second and four more the third year.

Boy Breaks Leg In Novato Fall

A 13-year-old San Jose Junior High School student received compound right leg fractures in a bicycle fall enroute to the Novato school yesterday morning.

Scott Hunt, son of Mrs. Marian Hunt of 1098 Cambridge Street, Novato, fell from his bicycle near Raphael Village, police said.

He was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital.

Woman Jailed In Swindling

Jackie Dickerson, 23, of San Francisco, was sentenced to six months in Marin County Jail yesterday for grand theft.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed her on probation for a year.

Miss Dickerson and Carol Reide Simpson, 25, were arrested July 2 by Sausalito police who said the pair had duped a Sausalito woman into giving them $6,000 on the pretense they would share with the woman $38,000 they told her they had found.

Both women pleaded guilty to the charge last month and have reimbursed the Sausalito woman, Marie Pasquinucci of 4 Glen Drive, the full $6,300 they had swindled.

Goals Study Session Is Announced

The Mill Valley School District board, criticized in the past by parents unhappy with the district's goals and objectives, served notice last night it will open up the goals question at its next regular meeting.

The criticism has come from more than 1,300 parents and others who signed petitions taking issue with "The trend of education in the district." They have urged a reformation of goals to stress the teaching of basic skills.

Carroll D. Killingsworth, district director of business services, said the board last night agreed to consider reactivating a district goals committee when it meets at 8 p.m., Nov. 22.

The committee was to be reactivated this spring but was not, Killingsworth said, because a Tamalpais High School District goals committee was studying objectives and the Mill Valley board felt it should dovetail its goals with those of the high school district.

Killingsworth said the board delayed acting on a recommendation by Supt. James A. Collins last night that the goals committee be reformed and will consider the question Nov. 22 when trustees also begin discussion of points raised by petitioners at two special meetings and a third set for 8 p.m. next Monday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

AGENTS — Recognized the Mill Valley Teachers Association and Local 1985 of the American Federation of Teachers as official bargaining agents for teachers. Six teacher association members and one AFT representative will be named to the certificated employees council to engage in contract negotiations with the district.

SCHOOL — Heard that the new middle school is 72 per cent complete.

PLAYGROUND — Agreed to allow the Tamalpais Valley School Parent-Teacher Association to level and reseed a portion of the school's playground.

CLOSED — Met in closed session to discuss contract negotiations with teachers.

Saloon's Use Permit May Be Taken Away

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended that the city council start proceedings to revoke a use permit held by the Kokpit Saloon in the Sundown shopping center south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The commission felt that the owner, Nick Morf, who had obtained the permit for a European-type beer parlor, had not fulfilled permit terms, said city planning technician Michael J. Harlock.

If the council approves revoking the permit, the matter would return to the planning commission for final action, he said.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

MOBILE HOMES — Renewed for a year the use permit for a mobile home sales facility at 7530 Redwood Highway.

REZONING — Denied a request to rezone from single-family and agricultural to administrative and professional district three lots at 1805 Novato Boulevard for Jose and Fulia Gonzalez.

CONTINUED — Continued all other items until 8 p.m. next Monday.

Bel Aire Residents Hit Flood Work Lag

Bel Aire Residents complained bitterly today that the county public works department had failed to live up to its obligation to provide flood control protection this year.

Addressing the Marin County Board of Supervisors, one of the protestors, Judy Le Clerc of 62 Claire Way said residents of the Bel Aire Flood Control Zone had been promised protection through a $1 boost in the district tax rate.

However, she said, nothing has been done to date to correct a drainage problem which created severe flooding in 1969.

"We need it (flood protection) now, not next spring when things are dry," she told the board.

Ray W. Foreaker Jr., director of county public works, said it was too late to begin construction for a new 250-foot section of drainage pipe but that dredging of Greenwood Cove would begin soon.

Residents responded that improvement of the cove wouldn't help their situation on dry land if drainage ditches weren't improved.

The supervisors expressing some displeasure with the delay, directed county officials to attempt interim improvements before rains hit.

"I don't like to berate the staff... but it does upset me that this wasn't done earlier," said Supervisor Michael Wornum, who represents Southern Marin.

ECONOMY

has made a decision .... organized labor is a part of this process. We think organized labor will proceed responsibly as they have throughout this process," Ziegler said.

Although he was asked repeatedly for White House comment on the 5.5 per cent wage guideline, Ziegler said he would not discuss individual decisions of either the Pay Board or the Price Commission.

"The Cost of Living Council will be assessing that to determine whether it meets the goals (of the administration's effort to curb inflation)," Ziegler said.

Ziegler offered this general assessment: "We're optimistic. We feel that progress is being made toward price stability and toward reducing inflation."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined extensive comment on the pay board's guideline but said that he thought there was "a moral obligation" to honor teacher contracts that were signed last spring, well in advance of the wage-price freeze.

Judge George H. Boldt, chairman of the Pay Board, said his group will "abide by anything Congress provides and we will do that if and when it becomes law."

But Boldt insisted that the settlement was "equitable and fair to all, requiring almost every American to make some sacrifice as any control program must do."

The rules approved by the Pay Board cover these areas:

—New contracts: Wage and fringe benefit increases should approximate 5.5 per cent. This yardstick will be reviewed by the Pay Board and might be scaled down if the economy moves toward Nixon's goal of cutting inflation in half by the end of next year.

—Existing contracts: Increases negotiated in contracts signed before or during the freeze may take effect after the freeze is lifted provided they are not "unreasonably inconsistent" with the Board's inflation-fighting goals. A "party at interest" or five Pay Board members may challenge these increases if they are thought to be out of line.

—Retroactivity: In general, these increases will not be approved. But the board said it might consider awarding retroactive wages if a company raised its prices before the freeze in anticipation of having to boost its wages later on.

Back pay also could be collected in the case of a new contract signed after the freeze to replace an earlier pact where the industry or company could prove it was traditional to pay the higher wages back to the date when the previous contract expired.

one will represent southeastern Ventura County.

Currently, Lagomarsino would take in Oxnard, and Stevens would include Thousand Oaks and Camarillo in his district. He also represents portions of Los Angeles County. They must decide the issue between themselves.

Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, would have his district extended over to Fairfield and Rio Vista, to pick up additional territory surrendered by Marler to move into Lake County.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale, DRailroad Flat, would assume the east Sacramento area given up by Short in his move.

Assembly GOP Caucus Chairman John Stull of Leucadia said the latest Democratic proposal would have meant two Republicans—Floyd Wakefield of South Gate and Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks— would have met certain political death.

"Republicans found that to be unreasonable," he said. "We are committed to not less than a 43-37 plan."

Democrats control the lower house by a 43-37 margin and have a 21-19 edge in the senate.

Inmate Stabbed During Scuffle

San Quentin inmate Antonio Montano received a minor stab wound in the chest in a personal dispute with another inmate outside the prison's south mess hall at noon yesterday.

Joseph R. O'Brien, prison information officer, said the wound was not serious enough to require hospitalization. A suspect whom O'Brien declined to name is being questioned, but no weapon has been found.

Montano is serving a sentence of three years to life for rape after being convicted in Yolo County in July 1970. He previously had been in San Quentin on a stolen property conviction from Sacramento County.

Whaler Taken

A 13-foot Boston Whaler and motor, valued at a total of $1,300, were stolen yesterday from a berth behind the home of John B. Christian at 55 Summit Avenue, on the San Rafael Canal, police said.

WORD-A-DAY

PLAN

fied by the county board of supervisors, which will consider the matter in about a month, according to Werner von Gundell, county planning director.

Among the many concerns expressed by residents was that planners in the past have refused to accept the rustic, lightly populated communities as they are — viewing them instead as recreational centers.

"We like the area the way it is," one woman told the commission. "We want the least development possible."

The 1961 plan envisioned the two communities as someday developing to a population of about 20,000, being linked to the rest of the Bay Area by a freeway, and each having a major shopping-recreational center.

"Times, attitudes and values have changed since this plan was adopted," said Hugh Dougherty, former chairman of the planning commission. "It's obsolete...there's a number of things wrong with it. It wouldn't make much sense to try to patch it up."

Dougherty, who lives in Stinson Beach, urged the commission to reevaluate the needs of the communities on the recommendations of the residents who repeatedly expressed no interest in growth.

Proctor P. Jones, also of Stinson Beach, told the commission a general plan for the area should not propose a population greater than 5,000 persons — an increase of 3,600 over last year's census.

At his prompting, nearly every member of the audience raised a hand to signify opposition to the 1961 plan — thus opposition to growth and new development.

Bolinas resident Lewis Macadams said Tuesday's elections showed residents opposed to new growth since winning candidates all had taken positions against contracting for more domestic water which would have encouraged growth.

He urged that the next plan consider agriculture and commercial fishing as sources of revenue to the towns, as opposed to tourism, which, he claimed, was catered to the old plan.

"The recreational classification goes to the essence of the problem," said conservationist Robert Tartaul of Stinson Beach. "This area has values...that are unique and important of themselves,"he continued, adding the communities must not be planned for their commercial value.

Others agreed and added that the proposed preliminary countywide plan — which calls for a Bolinas-Stinson Beach population of about 18,000 — also falls short of their hopes of keeping the communities as they are.

Several urged the county planning staff to work with community groups to develop a plan acceptable to all.

In making her motion to rescind the plan, Mrs. Azevedo warned against the "sense of proprietorship" she felt from some residents' comments about the natural amenities of the area, such as Bolinas Lagoon.

"...I hope you will listen to the rest of the county and open your hearts...," she added.

Prior to the matter being referred to the board of supervisors, details of the interim ordinance will be reviewed by the commission at its Nov. 29 meeting.

Angela 'Has No Glaucoma'

Marin County's chief medical officer said today that while Angela Davis is extremely nearsighted, he found nothing in reports of her eye examination to indicate she has glaucoma.

In Europe last week, Fania Jordan, Miss Davis's sister, said she feared her sister had contracted glaucoma and was in danger of losing her sight.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of county medical services, said today that Miss Davis has been examined several times in her jail cell by Dr. Ernest Marshall, an Oakland ophthalomogist "of her choosing."

Dr. Cooke said that he had reviewed Dr. Marshall's report and found "nothing disturbing" in them. He added that Miss Davis has received new glasses twice since she has been in jail and that with the prescription lenses, her vision is normal. He also said that she has "some pressure" in her eyes, but only enough to indicate she should be rechecked from time to time.

Miss Davis is due to return to Marin Superior Court tomorrow on a challenge to an order that her murder, kidnaping and conspiracy trial be moved to Santa Clara County.

Her attorneys have claimed that she can only receive a fair trial in San Francisco. Judge Richard E. Arnason has agreed to reopen the matter in tomorrow's hearing.

HOUSING

approved by the city council in 1968.

Both he and Councilman Albert H. Sennett tried to show that the developer, the Tiburon Ecumenical Association, could decrease project costs in some way and thus reduce the number of units needed to make the project financially feasible.

But housing consultant E. Morton Schaffran maintained, as he had at previous meetings, that 112 are needed.

Tempers flared briefly at one point when Schaffran, under Fanning's questioning, said his fee for work on the project, estimated at $26,000, depended on the size of the development.

"If I were on that side I'd be trying to get the number of units up, too," Fanning remarked, bringing objections from Schaffran.

After questions on some of the physical aspects of the project, Fanning denied allegations he was a "racist and social bigot" and moved to hire a consultant to check Schaffran's figures to determine if 112 units — 33 three-bedroom and 13 four-bedroom units — were really needed.

Rice seconded his motion. He said he had nagging doubts about the number of larger units but not the total number.

Councilmen Anne L. Ellinwood and M. Carlisle Becker said they flatly opposed the delay, and Sennett said he couldn't support an "open-ended" motion which did not specify how much the study would cost and when it was to be completed.

After some audience debate, the motion was rejected, 3-2, with only Fanning and Rice supporting it.

After Becker moved approval of the precise plans, seconded by Miss Ellinwood, discussion shifted to the merits of the project, with some speakers criticizing the development for its density — 14 units per acre — and others praising it for providing housing for moderate income families.

Finally, almost three hours after the hearing opened, Mayor Rice announced he would vote for the proposal even though he had doubts, the roll was called and the motion carried, 4-1.

Also last night, the council heard a report on the proposed Paradise Drive Walkway and referred the matter to the council's lands and development committee and adjourned to 7:30 p.m. next Monday to take up undiscussed items from last night's agenda.

WOMEN

preme Court let stand a decision by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that the refusal of Pan American World Airways to hire a male as a flight attendant was a civil rights violation.

The Court took these other actions:

—Refused to review a ruling that Thomas G. Jolley, a 27-year-old draft dodger who renounced his American citizenship, is now a man without a country as far as the United States is concerned. Jolley, a native of Greensboro, N.C., formally executed an oath giving up his citizenship after taking refuge from the draft in Canada. He returned to the United States in 1968 and sought to regain his citizenship. The Court refusal to hear his case lets stand an immigration service order that he either leave the country within 90 days or be deported to Canada.

—Agreed to hear a government appeal that rulings by two lower courts have opened huge loopholes in the tax laws to the benefit of heirs of the wealthy. The case involving the estate of an Ohio businessman who died in 1964 and left controlling shares in three corporations in trust to his children will be argued later this term with the Court handing down a written decision later.

—Again refused to consider whether to make retroactive a 1969 ruling that military personnel who commit nonservice-related crimes must be tried in civilian courts. Without comment, the Court dismissed the appeal of Army M.Sgt. Gerald Y. Allen who was convicted by court-martial of assault while stationed in Hawaii.

—Let stand a decision that the Seattle Times was entitled to publish certain aspects of a 1970 murder trial even though the Everett, Wash., trial judge had ruled to the contrary. The Washington state supreme court had thrown out contempt findings against two reporters for the newspaper.

The woman who brought the pension case to the courts was Ann Bartmess of South Bend, Ind., who was forced to retire at Drewry's Brewery on her 62nd birthday under terms of a pension plan negotiated by her union. Male employes were allowed to continue working until age 65.

She first complained to the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) four months before her scheduled retirement date, and when given the go-ahead by the EEOC two years later, sued the company and the union, local 275 of the United Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers of America.

The U.S. District Court at South Bend dismissed her suit on technical grounds —a decision the appeals court reversed in its ruling. The company and the union appealed to the Supreme Court, arguing that the appeals court decision would have "substantial, if not disastrous" financial consequences for "a host of other companies and unions" that have retirement plans differentiating between men and women.

The Supreme Court also refused today to consider whether there is public confusion between the Miss America chosen at Atlantic City each year and a gradeschool queen called Little Miss America crowned at a nearby amusement park.

The Court's action lets stand a lower court ruling favoring the big girls over the little girls in a trademark scrap between promoters of the two beauty pageants.

Palisades Pageants, Inc., began running annual beauty contests for little girls between the ages of 5 and 10 at the Palisades, N.J., amusement park in 1963. When it sought to register its "Little Miss America" name with the government in 1966, however, promoters of the Miss America pageant protested there would be too much confusion with its competition for girls 18 to 28 that has been going on since 1921.

Four-Day Weekend

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Gov. Mike O'Callaghan has declared Nov. 26, the day after Thanksgiving, a legal holiday in Nevada, giving state workers a four-day weekend.

OBITUARIES

Patricia McNulty, Santa Venetian, 36

Patricia H. McNulty, 36, wife of Gallinas Village Improvement Association director James L. McNulty, collapsed at home yesterday, and died at Hamilton Air Force Hospital.

Deputy Coroner Don Cornish reported the death apparently was due to natural causes; the family said Mrs. McNulty had been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. McNulty was a native of Eastport, N.Y., and moved with the family to Marin County about 11 years ago. She formerly was a member of the cystic Fibrosis Foundation and of the Parent-Teachers Association in Santa Venetia.

She is survived by her husband, of the family home at 813 Descanso Way; one son, James Jr.; a daughter, Patricia Denise McNulty; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hopping of New York, and two brothers, James Jr. and Donald, of Long Island, N.Y. Her husband twice has run for election to the Las Gallinas Sanitary District Board.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Thursday in Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia, followed by burial in St. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, tomorrow; the time had not been set today.

MICHAEL LAURANCE

Funeral for Michael Plin Laurance, 23, of Fairfax, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Laurance, a Fairfax teacher's aide and Sonoma State College student, was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident Sunday on Shoreline Highway near Marshall.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Glenn R. Martin, 29, and Mary E. McCurdy, 37, both of Mill Valley.

Federico A. Guitierres, 29, South San Francisco, and Ana Maria Trinidad, 24, Novato.

Flood Curb Proposal Is Approved

A $1.14 million master plan to curb flooding was approved last night by the Santa Venetia Flood Control Zone Advisory Board.

The long-range plan calls for a levee system along Gallinas Creek, a piping system and a network of pumping stations, according to Lewis E. Frederickson, assistant flood control engineer for Marin County.

He said the plan, when fully implemented, would shield homes in the area from the worst flood that could be expected in a 50-year period. He said fewer than 500 homes are in the area covered by the plan.

He saidabout $815,000 would be spent on correcting existing problems while another $328,000 will be needed more than 20 years from now to deal with complications caused by houses settling on filled bay mud they are built on.

Implementation of the plan would require approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors sitting as the Marin County Flood Control District board.

30 Days In Jail Given For Theft

James McGovern, 20, of San Francisco, was sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail yesterday for burglarizing the residence of Marin Grand Jury foreman Milen C. Dempster.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court also placed McGovern on probation for a year.

McGovern and two other men were arrested while leaving Dempster's Tamalpais Valley home on July 11.

The three originally were charged with two counts of burglary and one of possessing stolen property, but the other two counts were dismissed when they pleaded guilty in September to the Dempster burglary.

McGovern's two codefendants were sentenced by Judge Wilson last month. Craig Robert Anderson, 18, of Mill Valley was placed on probation for a year and sentenced to four months in jail and James Floyd Angle, 23, of San Francisco, was placed on a year's probation and sentenced to six months in jail.

Bottles, Watches Taken In Two Night Burglaries

Either a very small-time thief or one who bottles his own beer broke into the Sequoia Auto-Marine in Mill Valley last night and made off with 144 empty soft drink bottles.

Police said owner Richard Lilly reported someone smashed a window and entered the shop, stealing only the empty bottles, worth 5 cents a piece or $7.20 in all.

Police also reported the theft this morning of 30 watches from a display case in the front window of the Clock Shop, 131 Throckmorton Avenue.

They said an officer heard the sound of breaking glass at 3:15 a.m. and found the shop's window smashed and the watches missing. Value of the timepieces was unknown.

Fairfax Delays On Housing Plan

Fearing increased traffic and smog, demand for additional city services and a heightened "impact" on Fairfax, the Fairfax City Council last night withheld approval of plans for a 128-unit housing development and tennis club.

The council referred plans for the Canon Village and Tennis Club at Glen Drive and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard back to the city's planning commission for further study. The commission had previously approved the project.

The council's action followed a 90-minute discussion of the plans with an attorney and an architect for the developer, Denkmann Co. of San Rafael.

"The impact is too much on the city," Councilman Frank J. Egger said, calling the cluster plans for 98 townhouse units and 30 condominiums "more than cluster — just mass housing."

From the audience, the proposal was defended by former councilman Adelaide Wilson, who said it complied with the city's master plan which calls for more cluster development and open spaces and that the proposed development preserved surrounding hillsides.

The plan, as presented by attorney James B. McKenney and architect Monte Bell, would place the 128 units and a nine-court tennis club on 90 acres owned by Edna Getz.

Three of the courts would be indoors, making it the only such facility in the state, according to McKenney.

Councilman Robert R. Souza said he had reservations about the amount of traffic which would be generated by the tennis court, but moved for approval of the plans.

That motion died for lack of a second. A motion by Councilman Lee Nelder, seconded by Egger, to send the proposal back to the planning commission passed unanimously.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

TABLES — With Egger and Councilman Francis J. O'Connell objecting, voted 3-2 to follow a parks and recreation commission recommendation to sell pool tables in Fairfax Pavilion because they are too costly to maintain. Egger considered the tables an asset.

BRIDGE — Approved plans and called for bids to be opened Dec. 7 for reconstruction of a bridge at Bridge Court. Estimated cost is $10,550.

ANIMALS — Approved extending of a joint powers agreement with Marin County for animal control and added an automatic extension clause to the agreement.

FIRELINE — Authorized participation in a 590-foot fireline extension with the city and Marin Municipal Water District, each paying half of the $8,844 cost.

UNDERGROUNDING — Agreed to a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. request to delay undergrounding of utilities on Broadway until after the Christmas holiday season.

REAPPORTIONMENT — Passed a resolution opposing any reapportionment of state senatorial districts which would split Marin into more than one district or include it in a district with counties with dissimilar community interests.

INTERSECTION — Referred to City Administrator Robert E. Crowe to discuss with the police department and interested citizens ideas for improving traffic flow at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Claus and Bank streets.

DISTRICTS — Went on record by a 3-2 vote, with Egger and O'Connell dissenting, in favor of a plan to consolidate all sanitary districts in Marin into one large district, as opposed to a plan to consolidate the sanitary districts under the Marin Municipal and North Marin water districts.

MEETING — Adjourned to 5 p.m. Friday for a study session on plans for city hall remodeling.

Judge Orders Fine Or Work In Drug Case

Virginia Eileen Cowell, 22, of Oakland, has been ordered to pay a $240 fine or do volunteer work in Alameda County after pleading guilty in Marin Municipal Court to driving under the influence of a drug.

Judge Robert A. Smallman also placed the woman on probation for a year and gave her the choice of the fine or working 120 hours for the Alameda Family Service Agency.

Following her plea to the driving charge, a misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana was dismissed.

She was arrested by the California Highway Patrol Sept. 14 on Highway 101 on suspicion of possession of narcotics, as well as the two misdemeanor charges, but a narcotics charge was not filed against her.

Officers said they found red capsules and a bag containing marijuana in her car.

Innocent Plea To Marijuana

William Frederick O'Brien, 22, of New Orleans, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and sleeping on private property without permission.

Pretrial conference was set for tomorrow.

O'Brien was arrested last Tuesday when Mill Valley police checked a vacant house on Miller Avenue and found O'Brien and another man sleeping there.

An open can of suspected marijuana was found in O'Brien's pocket, police said.

Driver Swerves To Avoid Dogs; Hurt

A San Anselmo driver swerved his car into a utility pole to avoid two dogs in the street last night, suffering minor injuries, San Anselmo police reported today.

Robin Joe Stipp, 23, of 141 Tunstead Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut upper lip and scrapes. The accident happened at 10:15 p.m. on San Rafael Avenue near San Anselmo Avenue.

Forest Park Group Slates Meeting

The annual meeting of the Forest Park Homeowners Association will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at San Jose Junior High School in Novato.

Election of a board of directors for the coming year and planning for the luminario display at Christmas are the main items on the agenda according to Mark E. Cory, association president.

Car Hits Light Pole; Driver Hurt

Michael D. Linkem, 27, of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his car struck a traffic light standard at Third and Union streets, San Rafael, police said.

Linkem received minor cuts and scrapes in the 9:16 a.m. mishap.

WOEFUL AFTERMATH OF SPEEDER'S FLING

Pam Ghilardi, 21, of 208 Union Street, San Rafael, looks on in grief at her new birthday present — a 1967 Plymouth — struck at 6:40 p.m. yesterday by an auto driven by Scott V. Hier, 20, of 248 Laurel Place, San Rafael, police said. Pam, a student at the College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, had just received the auto, which was hit while parked on Union Street at Belleve Avenue. Hier's auto also rammed a fire hydrant and a tree. He was cited for speeding and treated at Marin General Hospital for a bloody nose.

Marin College Problem: The 'Hidden 3,000'

Last June, Marin's eight public high schools plus Marin Catholic High School graduated a total of 3,038 seniors. The previous year's graduating total was virtually the same.

About one-half of these graduates enroll in College of Marin, which is a two-year school.

When College of Marin classes opened this fall, enrollment was reported at 5,506, plus about 450 designated as attending Indian Valley Colleges, a "school within a school." The previous fall's enrollment was 6,062.

IT WOULD TAKE the entire graduating classes of all of Marin's public high schools plus Marin Catholic for two years to equal the enrollment at College of Marin. Yet only half of them enter that college — and not all of those return for a second year.

Where do the other 3,000 come from?

This question — to which it is impossible to get a definite answer — is at the heart of many of the college district's difficulties. It is a question that perhaps need not to have been answered if voters on Nov. 2 had approved a $16,750,000 for expanding College of Marin and building Indian Valley Colleges. But since they did not, the answer needs to be found.

There are various categories into which these "hidden 3,000" students may fall.

Some of them, no doubt, are returning students who went into the military or into jobs on graduating from high school and decide later to come back for more education.

Some are students from outside the college district. But College of Marin was toughened its admission rules for these. As of Aug. 31, Dean of Students Iwin P. Diamond reported only 46 "foreign" students accepted for this fall.

Most of them are what the college calls "non-matriculated" students. This means that they are not enrolled as full-time students, getting their first two years beyond high school on the local campus.

Most of these "non-matriculated" students are adults. Some are high school dropouts signed up for vocational courses.

WHEN MARIN JUNIOR College District was set up, it was given two purposes: First, to provide two years of academic education beyond high school, leading to an associate in arts degree and/or transfer to the upper division of a four-year college or university. Second, to provide vocational training for high school graduates who were aiming for the job field and did not want further academic schooling.

It has done the first job well; the second, not so well. But along the way, it has given itself a lot of other jobs which were not in its original assignment.

These include the wider assortment of adult classes, and at the other extreme, a nursery school. They also include an even wider assortment of what the school people like to call "enrichment" courses, which do not fill requirements for either an A.A. degree or transfer to a four-year institution.

ALMOST ALL OF THESE are no doubt desirable. But few if any of them are necessary. And they account for the "hidden 3,000" students.

Since the voters have said "no" to building a second campus, the job for Marin Community College District trustees appears now to be to examine these "fringe benefits" and decide where to reduce or eliminate them, so the college can do the job it was set up to do.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Merv's Marauders' Probe For Tax Law Loopholes

By MARY K. SHELL
(First of two columns on "Project Loophole.")

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — A student protest movement is operating under the capitol dome. However, unlike some of their campus contemporaries, these students have never staged a sit-in or taken over offices.

They have chosen the pen, rather than the sword, to fight "the system." Research data is their ammunition and the news release is their weapon.

Their target is California's tax system.

THE MOVEMENT is known as "Project Loophole." Brainchild of Robert Holmes, chief consultant for the Democratic Caucus, it is sponsored by Sen. Mervyn Dymally, Democrat from the Watts section of Los Angeles.

Unofficially, the students call themselves "Merv's Marauders" — California's answer to "Nader's Raiders."

They are probing the state's tax laws to pin-point inequities and loopholes. They hope the spotlight of publicity will result in correction of these by the legislature or, if necessary, by the people.

Loophole was launched last summer after an employee of the Democratic Caucus broke the news Gov. Ronald Reagan paid no state income tax this year. Members of the student task corce were recruited primarily through stories in college newspapers.

Once an area of study is selected, a "Marauder" is pretty much on his own. Once a week the members get together to pool knowledge and exchange ideas.

Volunteers, their only "salary" is 95 cents a month — and that is given only so they can be included under an insurance program.

They use the Democratic Caucus room on the first floor of the capitol as their headquarters and maintain an office in a downtown Sacramento building.

THERE ARE 19 MARAUDERS, ranging in age from 19 years up. Jean Ogrod, 29, is a recent graduate of Stanford with a master's degree in political science. Gary Kane, 28, is legal counsel for the Sacramento Redevelopment Agency. Clarence Williams, 24, is an instructor in criminal justice at Sacramento State College. Most other members of the project are graduate or undergraduate students at Sacramento State College or University of California, Davis.

Some members of the task force are receiving college credit for their work in the project. A schedule of hours to be worked at the capitol is adopted to meet course requirements.

The loophole probe was originally designed as a summer-only program. But here it is November and it's still going strong. No one really knows when it will end — if ever. In October the group announced it had found "so many inequities" that it is continuing its probe.

They report they have encountered no real barriers in getting information they need from various state agencies.

Some of the inequities they have uncovered in their studies will be the subject of tomorrow's article.

Emergency Services Prompt, Compassionate

I wonder how many of us in our busy day take a minute to realize just how important our police department, fire department, and ambulance service really are. I had an opportunity to witness them all in action last month while visiting relatives in San Anselmo.

My husband suffered a coronary at 10:30 p.m. An ambulance was called to rush him to the city to a hospital. Within minutes a police car arrived offering help, followed by the fire department with skilled training put their resuscitator to work. And in minutes the ambulance arrived. These three groups of men worked rapidly together and had the situation well in hand in a very short time. Not only will I remember the teamwork; I shall never forget the compassion shown. My husband spent two weeks in the hospital and I now have him home and doing well.

My deepest appreciation and a heartfelt thank you to these men. Your community can be very proud of these men that serve you.

Posted Schedules Of Buses Necessary

Although the article in the Oct. 28 I-J concerning the new Marin County bus service does not include the complete details of the Golden Gate Bridge District's plan, I trust the plan will emphasize one aspect of bus service which has been sorely lacking — information about routes, schedules, at each bus stop.

Occasionally I use the Greyhound service presently available. At the bus stops I have frequented in Tiburon, Marin City, and Larkspur there is no information posted. The confusion is apparent; all (non-regular) riders are asking others questions about the service.

Since most Marin County residents are anxious to see increased use of public transportation and a lessening dependency upon the automobile, it is imperative that public transportion systems are given every chance for success. In addition to the publicity work that is incumbent upon the bridge district, might not the I-J and other local papers regularly print schedules, or at least information telephone numbers?

Strange Disposal Of Pair Of Sofas

With regard to the disposal of two sofas by the San Anselmo City Council (see story "Real Stink Over a Pair of Sofas," I-J Oct. 27) the following facts have not been completely brought out:

At the meeting of Oct. 12, the council continued to bring up business after the close of the agenda. Mr. Leitzel brought up the matter of two perfectly serviceable sofas being used at Robson Park; the council declared them surplus and Mr. Leitzell said he "knew someone who would haul them away." From the audience, I protested . . .

At the Oct. 26 council meeting "award of bid and disposal of sofas" was on the agenda. Since permission to remove the sofas had been voted on at the previous meeting, I was curious as to how the council could now be awarding bids especially since they had not met in the meanwhile . . .

I was further told that a bid of $2 was received through the mail and my name on it. Since only the city hall "in" people could know of any advertisement under the above circumstances, I can only conclude that the purpose of this fraud was a further attempt to harass and embarrass a questioning citizen — and that it was made by someone privy to this rather exclusive (certainly not public) knowledge of advertisement.

I was not permitted to make a bid from the floor, nor was another lady.

My purpose in bidding was to give the sofas back to the people of San Anselmo until such time as similar seating could be provided in the park at no expense to the taxpayer. Since Mr. Reed and Mr. Anderson were elected 3½ years ago, the park budget has escalated from $23,160 for all parks to $145,931 ($51,701 for Robson Park alone) this year. And Mr. Reed is publicly accusing me of costing the City the expense of the ad!

Large Response Against Gerrymander

On behalf of the hurriedly formed ad hoc committee of "Nonpartisan Citizens Against Gerrymandering," I want to thank each and every one of the persons who responded to the full-page ad in the Independent Journal on Oct. 23, asking for support against the then-pending proposal to gerrymander Marin County by splitting it into two fragments. Well over 200 signed coupons from the ad had been received by the Senate Committee on Elections and Reapportionment by Tuesday morning in Sacramento (Monday being a holiday without mail). Additional coupons flooded in after that time. Other citizens were provoked by the ad to write letters to the committee, protesting the proposed gerrymander. One telegram went out on Monday morning with the manes of over 50 prominent Democrats protesting the measure. By the end of the week, 31 readers had also responded to the request to help underwrite the cost of the ad.

The evidence of an aroused public which was thus presented to the Senate committee, combined with other communications and efforts made on a bipartisan basis, all helped to stall the progress of the proposed division of Marin . . .

Because of the expense factor, it probably is not feasible to further the campaign through additional ads. We hope that voters will continue, however, to communicate during this very crucial period with the Senate Committee on Elections and Reapportionment, expressing their opposition to any split of Marin, and urging that Marin be kept intact with surrounding counties (such as Napa and Sonoma) with which it has a close community of interest. The Senate committee is most currently planning to combine all of Marin with western San Francisco and pieces of San Mateo County.

U.S. Nuclear Arms On Taiwan May Prevent China Rapprochement

WASHINGTON — This is a highly imaginary preview of one stage of the talks President Nixon will have in January in Peking with Chairman Mao Tse-tung. Politely enough, they have covered relatively noncontroversial issues such as trade and cultural exchanges. Then abruptly Chairman Mao levels with the following:

"Mr. President, we know that you have had for a considerable time a large military establishment on the island of Taiwan, which is a province of China. Your Seventh Fleet patrols the Straits of Taiwan.

"Now another well-authenticated report comes to us. That is that nuclear weapons are in place on Taiwan. This is, in part, nuclear deployment removed from Okinawa in accord with your treaty with Japan for the reversion of that island to Japan. We are very disturbed by this report."

WHETHER THE PRESIDENT can look Chairman Mao square in the eye and deny the report is the question. The location of American nuclear weapons is the top secret that to many critics of secrecy in Congress frustrates all efforts to restrain defense spending. More important, those in the know believe the widespread dispersal of these weapons greatly increases the risk of a nuclear accident.

On Sept. 8 Sen. Stuart Symington made a brief speech on the Senate floor that he had billed as the most important of his career. His colleagues on the foreign relations and armed services committees were somewhat mystified, since in raising the question of whether the Okinawa missiles had been moved to Taiwan he failed to supply an answer. Symington had become a member of the Joint Atmoic Energy Committee, discovering that he learned there more about nuclear weaponry than in 18 years on the other committees.

He put in the record a story from the Washington Post saying that the Pentagon was pressing strongly for moving some of the hundreds of nuclear weapons on Okinawa to Taiwan. This would add, according to the Post account, to the store of such weapons already on the island that has been Chaing Kai-shek's stronghold since he fled from the mainland in 1950.

A LATER NEWS STORY in the New York Times said that plans had been killed to move the Okinawa weapons to Taiwan, South Korea and the Philippines. This would put them too close to the mainland in view of the Nixon policy to improve relations with the People's Republic of China and it was considered unwise.

This is where the matter rests, with the mystery, outside the closed circle of a few with top-secret clearance, as dense as it ever was. The terms of the treaty just approved by the foreign relations committee provide that nuclear weapons must be taken off Okinawa before the island reverts to Japan next April. Under the basic U.S.-Japan treaty the "NUCS" cannot be stored on Japanese territory.

The profoundly troubling issue of the emplacement of nuclear weapons and secrecy is larger than Taiwan, even though Taiwan is the key to closer relations with mainland China. Former Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNarmara once inadvertently let drop that the United States had 7,000 nuclear warheads in Europe. Since then that number is believed to have greatly increased, and they are many, many times more powerful than the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

MORE THAN 20 COUNTRIES in various parts of the world have American nuclear weapons, either deployed or in reserve. Strange things have happened behind the nuclear curtain. In one country the head of state sent word that he meant to take over the weapons. A terrific flap ensued until he was quieted down with promises of various forms of largesse.

In many instances only the American public is kept in the dark. When nuclear missiles were emplaced in Turkey it was, as in all such situations, top secret. But there were 8,000 Turkish employes on the American missile bases and to assume they did not know the facts was to assume that they were deaf, dumb and blind.

The handful of men privy to these secrets control the destiny of peoples everywhere. It is an oppressive burden on a theoretically free world.

Pakistan Refugee Tragedy Adds Threat Of New War

By PHIL NEWSOM
By UPI Foreign News Analyst

India says the number of refugees crowding across her borders from East Pakistan now totals 9.5 million.

Pakistan says it is no more than two million.

Whether it is two or nine, the picture of human suffering it creates is greater than the mind can grasp unless the whole is reduced to its smallest number in the figure of a crying child or a family in whose faces the lines of suffering reflect man's inhumanity to man.

NEITHER PAKISTAN nor India can hold itself wholly blameless as the possibility of war between them mounts and as each attempts to shift to the other responsibility for this massive tragedy whose final toll may even surpass the million lives lost in the crossmigration of 17 million Hindus and Moslems between India and Pakistan in 1947.

India's sympathies clearly have been with the fighters for Bangla Desh, an independent East Pakistan.

She has given East Pakistan guerrilla fighters shelter, training and arms.

On the other hand there is Pakistan, whose leaders, based in West Pakistan, consistently ignored injustices toward and mounting social unrest in East Pakistan and now seek to hold it by force of arms whose success remains uncertain.

PRESIDENT YAHYA KHAN of Pakistan has accused India of interfering in the internal affairs of Pakistan and of waging clandestine war aginst his country.

He has appealed to U.N. Secretary General Thant to mediate between the two countries and has suggested that U.N. observers be placed on both sides of the India-Pakistan border to supervise a mutual withdrawal of forces.

On her side, India Prime Minister Mrs. Indira Gandhi has declared the huge flow of East Pakistan refugees endangers her internal security and demands that Pakistan negotiate a settlement with the Awami league, the outlawed political party which dominates East Pakistan.

MRS. GANDHI HAS been carrying her side of the story to Western capitals, including London and Washington.

Mrs. Gandhi has something on her side.

The flood of refugees has placed an intolerable burden on India, which already has vast problems of over-population and mass poverty of its own.

Most of the refugees are Hindu whose return is unwanted by the Pakistan government but who in any event would not return under present conditions of terror.

MILITARILY, THE SITUATION lines up Communist China and the Soviet Union against each other.

A friendship pact links India with the Soviet Union and a stream of Russian visitors to India in recent days suggests that Soviet aid in case of war has been one of the subjects. No such pact links Pakistan and Communist China, but the Chinese have issued stern warnings against outside interference in the dispute.

At the moment, the military edge seems to rest with India. India is almost self-sufficient in arms and has the larger army. Pakistan has a hodge-podge arsenal whose weapons come from the United States, Communist China and France. With East and West Pakistan divided by 1,000 miles of India, she faces an almost impossible supply problem in the East.

Petaluma Citizen Committees Not Cowed By Professionals

Professional planners are lurking again in Petaluma, but perhaps this time the study will result in a "people's plan."

Six study committees with as many as 10 members each are threshing out various sections of the proposed environmental design plan prepared by professional planners William and Mocine of San Francisco. Instead of simple rubber stamping ideas presented by the professionals, the citizens appear to be doing some independent thinking and planning.

Like some educators, planners can sometimes overwhelm ordinary citizens with fancy planning words and 10-word phrases that could be easily simplified.. The self-confidence of planners, along with the fancy phrasing, has been known to buffalo citizen groups, but reports indicate the study committees have been thorough about looking at the planners' recommendations and are not shy about criticism.

IN SOME CASES it appears the whole concept by the planners may be scrapped and replaced by what the citizens have devised. A more practical approach to planning may result with a plan that will be more acceptable to the people.

In addition to the citizen groups come new plans by several organizations, including the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce and Heritage Homes Club of Petaluma. The chamber's downtown revitalization plan, which includes the abolishment of most parking meters, will have to be considered and perhaps worked into the commercial section of the design plan.

The Heritage Homes group perhaps has the most innovative plan being put forth. The group recommends the plan include a general design theme for the city, utilizing the fine old Victorian buildings and atmosphere. Some members have recommended that new buildings be required to conform whenever possible to the old style architecture and that historically significant buildings be pointed out by a special drive with signs showing designated sports. While this plan may not bring thousands of tourists into the city, it could make residents more aware of their city and its heritage.

IT IS HOPED, TOO, that the people on the committees will pay more attention to the need for bicycle paths than the planners did in their original proposal. It will do no good for Petaluma police to get tough with youngsters by issuing citations for broken safety rules if nothing is done to make the streets safer for bicyclists.

Rice Farmers Had Good Year

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Although the West Coast dock strike cost them $1 million, California rice farmers received a near-record return on their crop this year, according to a top rice official.

Ray Grelecki, vice president and general manager of the Farmers Rice Cooperative (FRC), said Thursday that member growers received an average of $5.11 per hundredweight this year.

He told the annual stockholders meeting that this year's return was higher than any of the past seven years with the exception of 1969 when farmers received $5.25 due to large early export orders. FRC represents 30 per cent of the rice growers in California.

Jubilation At The Pentagon: Billion Bucks For One Bang

WASHINGTON — It had to come sooner or later. The unthinkable has become thinkable. The U.S. Navy is asking for ONE BILLION DOLLARS to build ONE aircraft carrier.

No one thought it would happen for five years, but when the word got out there was jubilation in all the military services at the Pentagon.

An Army general said, "I never thought the Navy would have the guts to ask for it, but now that they've broken the sound barrier, we're all free to ask for a billion dollars for our favorite weapon."

"THEN YOU'RE NOT mad at the Navy for asking for that kind of money for an aircraft carrier?" I asked.

"Why should we be mad?" the general answered. "We've been piddling around with $100 million here, $100 million there on a new piece of hardware, when everyone knows you really can't get a bang for a buck less than a billion.

"But we didn't know how Congress would react until the Navy asked for the billion for a carrier. It didn't faze them in the least, so now if the Navy can get a billion for an aircraft carrier, we can get a billion for something we've wanted to build for some time."

"What is that?"

"IT'S A GIANT tank," he said, "and it takes up eight football fields. It's the greatest advance in military hardware since the invention of the Gatling gun."

"A billion dollars for one tank?"

"It's not just a tank, you fool," the general said. "Look at this model. The top of the tank is flat so bombers can take off and land on it. On the sides you have missiles and in the front and rear you have four 16-inch guns."

"But even with all those things it doesn't seem as it it would cost a billion dollars."

"AHA, THAT'S the surprise," he chuckled. "You see this here on the bottom?"

"It looks like a keel."

"But it looks just like an aircraft carrier," I said.

The general took the model away angrily. "How can it look like an aircraft carrier?" he said. "It's painted brown!"

THE AIR FORCE was also celebrating the Navy's billion-dollar breakthrough. An Air Force colonel in research and development showed me the latest plane the Air Force wants to build.

"This is the greatest bomber ever designed by man," he said. "It flies at 60,000 feet, floats on water and can cut its way through a jungle so silently that not even birds can hear it."

"But it looks like a tank," I said.

"How can it be a tank?" he grumbled. "It says 'U.S. Air Force' on the side."

ALTHOUGH THERE was excitement in the Army and Air Force wings of the Pentagon, it was nothing comparable to what was going on over at the Navy Department.

Officers were handing out cigars and you could feel the excitement in the air.

While I was talking to one admiral, another admiral came down the hall and my admiral rushed up to him saying, "Zeke, for gosh sakes, I haven't seen you in four years. You look like a billion dollars."

The other admiral laughed. "You look like a billion dollars yourself."

Navy Seabees Will Leave Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Navy said Saturday it is sending home the last Seabee construction battalion left in Vietnam. The U.S. Army said it was closing down operations of an engineer battalion that had been assigned to the American Division.

The withdrawal of the two units, totalling 1,175 men, was announced about an hour after Defense Secretary Melvin Laird flew back to the United States on a public promise to beat President Nixon's Dec. 1 deadline of a 184,000-man force in Vietnam.

Tunney Reported Ready To Vote Against Rehnquist Confirmation

By BENJAMIN SHORE
I-J Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Sen. John V. Tunney (D-Calif.) is reported ready to cast his vote against confirmation of Asst. Atty. Gen. William Rehnquist for the U.S. Supreme Court because he believes Rehnquist is too conservative.

Tunney has declined public comment on how he will vote.

The freshman senator is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has been holding confirmation hearings on Rehnquist and on President Nixon's other nominee, attorney Lewis Powell of Richmond, Va.

Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.) is declining all comment until the committee hearing is completed and he has studied the record. However, he is said to share many of the same concerns Tunney has about Rehnquist.

Neither senator has expressed doubts about the qualifications of Powell to be a Supreme Court justice. This is also the view of the American Bar Association, which gave unanimous endorsement to Powell but slightly less than unqualified endorsement to Rehnquist.

During the first day of the hearing last week, Tunney told Rehnquist:

"In reading what you have written and reports on what you have said, I find aspects of your philosophy of government and the rights of the individual which I consider very disturbing."

Tunney then quoted from much of the same critical record compiled by civil libertarian groups which are either opposing Rehnquist or seriously questioning his nomination.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a darkhorse candidate at best, has withdrawn from the field of Democratic presidential aspirants, citing a lack of financial support.

Hostage Freed; Suspect Nabbed

CONCORD, Calif. (UPI)— Police early today arrested the suspected kidnaper of a Martinez teen-ager after he had released his pretty blonde hostage unharmed.

There was no immediate identification of the man suspected of abducting Debbie Devore from the home of her friend last Sunday after pistol-whipping another girl and wounding her parents.

"Tips from concerned citizens and detailed investigation of the FBI and police" were credited by arresting officers for leading to the unoccupied house in an exclusive Concord neighborhood where the 15-year-old girl was released.

Miss Devore, who was returned to the Martinez home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Devore, was found less than 10 miles from the site of the kidnaping.

Some three hours of negotiations followed during which the kidnaper first was talked into releasing his victim and then into dropping his gun and surrendering.

A police spokesman said it was unknown whether the kidnaper had known Miss Devore previously. She was dragged from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitlow Sunday, where she was staying with the Whitlows' daughter Susan, 15.

The FBI said it was routinely called into the case on assumption the kidnaper crossed the state line. They said the abductor's car carried an out-of-state license plate.

Police said the gunman slugged Miss Whitlow on the head with his pistol, shot her father, John, 56, and her mother, Doris, 55, before escaping out a patio door. The Whitlows' wounds were not serious.

Transfer Of Base Area Is Sought

The Kentfield School District board last night asked the Mill Valley School District to take official jurisdiction over the Nike Missile Base on Mount Tamalpais.

Ten students from the Air Force installation have been attending Mill Valley schools, but a recent study showed the base within Kentfield boundaries, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

Last night's action was aimed at correcting the discrepancy, Bacich said.

The board also heard a request from student Daniel Levintow to conduct a paper-recycling project in the district schools and asked him to report back with a complete plan, Bacich said.

The board also learned the State Allocation Board had approved granting $30,450 to develop working drawings of a $300,000 school for deaf students adjoining Adaline E. Kent School, Bachich said.

'Quick Draw' Proves Fatal

FONTANA, Calif. (UPI)—A boy practicing "quick draw" with a stolen pistol shot and killed his sister Monday.

San Bernardino County sheriff's deputies said the boy, Dennis Roy Barnett, 13, admitted loading the .38-caliber revolver and practicing fast draws. The pistol went off and the bullet struck Barnett's sister, Sharon, 17, in the forehead as she sat on the living room couch watching television.

She was dead at the scene.

Deputies said Barnett was taken into custody for investigation when it was discovered the pistol had been stolen.

Petaluma Eyes Sewer Finances

The Petaluma City Council was told last night it could finance its share of the sewer plant expansion without selling bonds, but by juggling city accounts and adding to the tax rate.

City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer, describing a plan devised by him and Finance Director Cecil G. Gealta, told the council the city could save as much as $500,000 in future years by not selling revenue bonds or seeking voter approval for general obligation bonds to fund the project.

Through short-term borrowing from other city funds, such as $500,000 accumulated in the water fund, and with $606,425 expected to be on hand from sewer connection fees by June, the city need not sell any bonds for the project, he said.

With the sewer connection fees earmarked for new construction, Meyer explained, the city would be compelled to increase the city tax rate — by 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation — in order to pay off a 1966 bond issue previously approved for plant expansion. The sewer connection fees had been set aside for that purpose.

The total project has been estimated to cost $8,794,000, with 80 per cent from federal and state sources, reducing the city share to $1,238,800. Meyer said the city has $466,068 needed for land acquisition in a special account. With a total of $606,000 anticipated from sewer connection fees, the city then would need to borrow only $166,307 to fund the project, he said, leaving enough cash on hand to pay contractors before being reimbursed by the state and federal governments.

Besides the water fund, Meyer said, the city also could borrow from money set aside for fire department apparatus, net equipment purchases or $80,000 set aside for an addition to the library. Gealta said he believed that only the water fund need be touched.

Most councilmen spoke in favor of the plan and said action would be taken at next Monday's meeting.

Earlier, the council heard Ernest B. Bodnar of the financial consulting firm of Stone and Youngberg report it would be impossible to sell $500,000 in revenue bonds for the project. Paying off the bonds, he said, would increase the sewer service charge by 20 per cent. He said such a boost would not be permitted by the federal price commission and said he doubted an exemption would be granted.

He recommended that if the council chose to go to voters for approval on general obligation bonds, the election should be held Feb. 22 so the city could meet a timetable for construction.

Coastline Plan Panel Endorsed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to support the proposed California coastline planning commission if two conditions are met.

The bill would create a commission with authority to approve shoreline development plans.

In a 4-1 vote, with Henry Spomer of Healdsburg dissenting, the board indicated support if Sonoma County were included in a north coastal region of the new commission along with Mendocino, Humboldt and Del Norte counties.

The board said it also wants an amendment guaranteeing that the commission's jurisdiction will not include any of the county area east of the shoreline highway or 1,000 yards inland from mean high tide, whichever is less.

Public Schools May Admit 3-Year-Olds

HOUSTON (UPI) — Dr. George Oser, president of the Houston School Board, has recommended admitting 3-year-olds to public schools by the year 1973.

He said the plan, which would start next year with the admission of children aged 4-1-2, would cost $3 million and could be financed by the federal government.

Inmates Win Fight For Law Libraries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that California must provide better legal help than the current list of books it has made available for indigent prisoners who want to test the fairness of their conviction.

In a two-paragraph, unsigned opinion, the court affirmed a ruling by a special three-judge federal panel in San Francisco on May 28, 1970.

The panel struck down a California prison regulation that established an exclusive list of "basic codes and references" for prison use. The panel said this material "would offer meager fare to a criminal lawyer."

California, seeking to retain the regulation, argued before the Supreme Court that law books could be a hindrance to convicts with limited education, who would only sprinkle their habeas corpus petitions with "voluminous, irrelevant and confusing citations."

(San Quentin Prison information officer Joseph R. O'Brien explained today that the prison has maintained a "basic list" of law books, with the inmates being permitted to send to the state library for other books.

O'Brien said the law books get much use. "More and more people are looking into their own legal problems" rather than relying on outside attorneys, he added. He said that new Department of Corrections policy reflecting the Supreme Court ruling had not reached him.)

The panel did not recommend any specific reform for the California prison system. It suggested use of public defenders or programs in which law students and professors could help the indigent convict.

"The solution thus far chosen by California is patchwork," the panel said. "The affluent are guaranteed the right to communicate with private counsel and to buy personal law books without restriction . . . The indigent, however, is relegated to seeking out fellow inmates with legal knowledge and to the resources of the prison law library, the contents of which are severely limited . . ."

Aide Will Join Lindsay 'Campaign'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richard Aurelio, the manager of Mayor John V. Lindsay's successful reelection campaign in 1969, will resign today as deputy mayor to take charge of Lindsay's continuing survey of his presidential prospects, City Hall sources said.

Lindsay, who switched from the Republican to the Democratic party last August, already has visited eight states to sound out party and public sentiment.

Camp Fire Girls Open Horizon Clubs To Boys

(I-J Special Report)

NEW YORK — The Camp Fire Girls have opened their ranks to boys.

The National Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., approved admission to boys to Camp Fire's high school age program, Horizon Clubs, at its national Quadrennial Conference, last week when more than 1,000 adult volunteers, professional staff, Horizon Club members and guests met in Seattle, Wash. to set the new directions for the 700,000 member national youth agency.

Leadership of Camp Fire groups was also opened to men. According to resolutions passed, men and women 18 and over and high school students who participate in special leadership laboratory training may be leaders of groups up through junior high age. Advisers for high school age groups may be men or women age 20 or over.

According to Gwen Harper, national director of program development, the move is in line with contemporary trends toward more casual and informal education directly connected to daily living experiences.

"Young people are freer to see each other as friends, rather than simply as potential mates," she said.

The action to open Horizon Club membership to boys "gives a greater variety of options to communities to use in program and administrative operations. The resolution does not require that every Horizon Club have male members, but it gives greater flexibility and widens the choices for those who do want to open membership. By opening leadership to men, Camp Fire will be able to take advantage of the abilities of many highly trained individuals."

Marin Women

Kenneth Kline Engaged To Lynn Dale Jorgensen

Lynn Dale Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow and Kenneth Michael Kline of San Rafael were married at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo on Saturday afternoon.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Larry Lima of San Rafael as matron of honor and Mrs. Thomas Kline of Fairfax and Mrs. Larry Kline of San Anselmo.

Larry Lima performed the best man duties. Ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Thomas and Larry Kline; the bride's brother, Bill Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow; and Russell Hunt of Woodacre.

The reception was given at Alexander Hall in San Anselmo.

Lynn and Kenneth will make their home in San Rafael when they return from a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Carmel.

The daughter of Professor and Mrs. Eugene Clifford Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow, Lynn was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of California at Santa Barbara.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Smith of Vacaville and Mrs. Soren C. Jorgensen of San Leandro.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Kline of San Anselmo are Kenneth's parents and he is the grandson of Mrs. John Kline of San Francisco. He also is a graduate of Drake High School and served in the Army for three years. He is employed with the Marin County Sheriff's Department.

ORGANIZES KINSHIP

Novatan Is Out To Help Juveniles

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Perhaps it was logical that Dyanne Bohner would be the one to step in and do something about it when she began to see a need to help youngsters with problems in the Novato area.

Working as a volunteer with the girls at Marin Juvenile Hall, riding on patrol with the Novato police observing juvenile law offenders, and studying police science at the College of Marin, Mrs. Bohner began to think that a special kind of help was needed for youngsters with problems before they got into deep trouble.

A program of volunteers specially trained to work with the youngsters and their families might prevent repeaters among children in trouble and discourage a younger brother or sister from following in older youngsters' dubious footsteps, she reasoned.

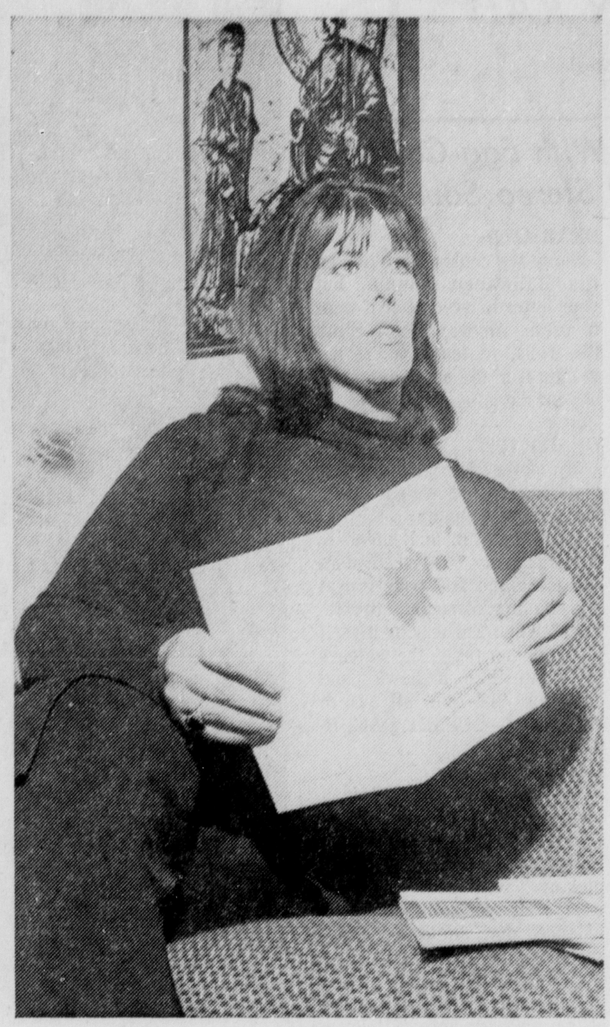
WITH THIS hope, last summer Dyanne Bohner called together an interested group of adults and formed KINSHIP (Kids in Need Seek Help in People), an organization aimed to help youngsters who have problems before they reach the point of being sent to Juvenile Hall.

And she has set up the group to learn to work with the entire family of a problem youngster rather than with the child alone.

Mrs. Bohner, who has two daughters, 12 and 10, found by talking to Detective Sgt. Donald L. Du Par and Sgt. Michael M. Manick of the Novato Police Department that they thought a special program would be helpful to stop the high number of "repeaters" among juveniles in trouble.

She has applied to the Allstate Insurance Foundation for a $25,000 grant to fund a two-year program of KINSHIP. The money would be used mainly to train at least 15 volunteers to work with the youngsters and their families. She hopes that both men and women will be interested in volunteering, and said that the volunteers would have professional advice available at all times in their work.

She has not yet heard whether KINSHIP will receive the grant, but Mrs. Bohner says that the program will be set up anyway, hoping to find professionals to help train the volunteers.



DYANNE BOHNER is known as "The Kin Lady" in Novato, since she has formed a new organization, Kids In Need Seek Help in People, to help youngsters with problems in the Novato area. Seated at her home in Novato, Mrs. Bohner reviews booklets on problems of youngsters. She has applied for a grant of $25,000 which would be used to train volunteers to help youngsters with problems and their families.

Others serving with her on the project are Sergeant Manick, vice chairman; Judy Maxwell, treasurer; Larry Fideler, secretary; and Joe Doherty, Jim Marsters, Chuck Smith and Mary Hill of the Marin County Probation Department, and Jan Murray, Novato School Board member.

Mrs. Bohner hopes that her KINSHIP program will eventually spread throughout California to save juveniles from getting into deep trouble with the law.

A NATIVE of San Francisco, she attended the former Dominican Upper School and is a graduate of St. Rose Academy in San Francisco. She and her husband, John, who is in the insurance business, have been Novato residents for the past seven years.

Dyanne Bohner began volunteer work two-and-a-half years ago with the Volunteer Bureau of Marin and was referred to Judy Maxwell, volunteer director with the Marin County Probation Department. From there she began to work at Juvenile Hall and also helped with transportation and in teachers aide work.

She became interested in police science and began the program at the College of Marin last winter. She also decided to ride with the Novato police patrols, which have a "ride-along" program for Novato citizens.

IT HAS ALL added up to KINSHIP, for which Novato city attorney Clark M. Palmer Jr. is helping draw up incorporation papers.

"Policemen patroling the beat can do much to prevent or intervene in a possible delinquent situation," she has concluded, adding that Novato has a very good program. She said that the ride-along program has been a tremendous success, but added that parents should be encouraged to take part in it.

The idea of using volunteers to work with juveniles and their families will work, she believes, because it isn't necessary to have a certificate or diploma to work with people. But it is important to have confidence about how to react when a parent or child is hostile and to know how to respond to it.

"A great deal of patience is necessary," she said.

AT THE MOMENT Mrs. Bohner says she herself is "pulled between police and probation work" for the future.

But as to KINSHIP she is certain.

"We will not let it die," she stated, funds or no funds.

Round Steak Cooking Hint

Beef round steak cooks to tenderness quickly when sliced in strips to braise. Partially freezing the meat enables slicing it into thin strips easily.

Cut beef strips ⅛ inch thick or thinner and three to four inches long. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings and season meat with salt, pepper and herbs or spices, if desired. Add a small amount of liquid, such as tomato sauce, soy sauce, bouillon or water.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 to 60 minutes depending upon thickness of the strips. Thicken gravy with flour, if desired. Serve over noodles, rice, mashed potatoes or on buns.

THE GENERATION RAP

Nothing Wrong With Egg-Carton Decor For Good Stereo Sounds

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

Our son wants to egg-tray his room! He brought home big stacks of those dividers that separate eggs in their packing boxes, and says he'll spray-paint them, then tack them to walls and ceiling because he's heard they make the best acoustics for his hi-fi.

I've gone through a lot with that room, but I don't know whether I can take all those bumps and hollows — and I do go in there occasionally to clean.

We are a house divided on this, so decided to ask Generation Rap to be the arbiter. If you two can more or less agree, maybe we can too. — EGGED ON

DEAR E.O.:

I've heard that egg trays work great for stereo and they look sorta neat, too. And different — I mean how many people do you know with lumpy walls? If your son paints them right, they'd be outasite. What he wants is neither immoral, illegal or fattening, so don't knock it. — SUE

DEAR EGGED:

It's your son's room, and if egg tray decor doesn't permanently damage it, then leave him his lumps. . . . But get it in writing that he'll do the repaint job (plus plastering nail holes) before he moves out. — HELEN

DEAR "RAP:"

Any good hoaxes recently? We like to read the funny ones you sometimes get. Please print 'em once in a while — THE GROUP

DEAR GROUP:

How about this one? —

DEAR H AND S:

I'm an all right guy with a problem — my parents! They act and think as though they were hundreds of years old.

My father slicks down his hair and wears an old-fashioned cape around the house. I feel sorry for him because his eyes are going bad. He says he can't see his reflection in the mirror.

The house is so depressing. I often sneak out at night, but return — always — before dawn, and all I do is a little necking. What gets me is my folks ground me for the day — they really clamp the lid down tight.

Even though their bark is worse than their bite, I get so blue, I feel as though someone is about to drive a stake through my heart. Please help me before I go batty! — ALWAYS IN THE DARK

P.S. Don't tell me not to cry over spilt blood, because I won't take this lying down.

DEAR AITD:

Sorry we couldn't lay this on the Halloween column, but your letter arrived after it went to press. Anyway, don't climb the walls. At least, you're not getting it in the neck, like some of your dates! — H. AND S.

DEAR RAP:

My mother is constantly on a diet to keep her weight down, but it keeps going up.

I'm quite slim and intend to stay that way. Why then, does she tease me and poke fun at my "dieting" especially to relatives? When I'm serving myself at the dinner table, she watches my plate like a hawk, and exclaims "Is that all you're eating?!!" — UPSET DAUGHTER

DEAR UPSET:

Mothers have this "thing" about feeding kids — you know: the old "Finish your plate," "Eat your vegetables," "Don't pick over your meat" bit. They worry! If you're on a good balanced diet, smile and imply she should be too. — SUE

DEAR DAUGHTER:

There may be a bit of subconscious jealousy here: fat loves company — that's why it often runs in families. Offer her YOUR diet tips. — HELEN

SHARON GRANSEE
To be wed

Couple Sets Wedding In December

Lt. Col. (ret). and Mrs. O. G. Gransee are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sharon, to F. Patrick O'Brien, son of Mrs. H. T. O'Brien and the late Mr. O'Brien of St. Marys, Pa.

Sharon was graduated from Novato High School and Pacific Lutheran University. She did graduate work at San Diego State College and was employed by the Calipatria Unified School District. William Gransee is her brother.

The future bridegroom was graduated from Central Catholic High School and Clarion State College in Pennsylvania and attends San Diego State College, Imperial Valley campus. He is employed by the Calipatria Unified School District. Patrick is also a reserve deputy sheriff in Imperial Valley.

The couple plans a Dec. 28 wedding in Novato.

Retail Store Tours Can Probe Valuable For Decorative Tips

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY

We all have a lot to learn about the history of furniture design and the reasons for the characteristics that make it unique to the period. The decorative arts sections of museums, even the great city ones, seem stiff dusty settings that tell you little about lifestyle and give no explanation of the origins of a particular period.

So on occasion, a tour through a retail store might be more educational in the home furnishings arts.

This fall a line of furniture is being introduced by Tomlinson of North Carolina. Its design inspiration is Chinese as interpreted by Thomas Chippendale in the 1750 to 1760 period of his work. Tomlinson asked a young California designer, Hasi Hester, to help them create this line, and the result is refreshing, though not a low-price tag group.

CHIPPENDALE WAS a popular interior designer in a period when the English began a veritable love affair with China and things Chinese. Trading vessels and clipper ships helped develop an exchange of ideas between the two worlds and many of the Chinese motifs were adapted by Chippendale into furniture. Fretwork and surface ornamentation ignited his imagination as well as the imagination of other 18th-century designers. They preferred this new look, although it had been a centuries old look to the Chinese, and so they borrowed heavily from it, totally rejecting the then popular Georgian designs that were the vogue in England.

Now we not only have Chinese Chippendale but also Hasi Hester's version of Chinese Chippendale, and it's a group of fresher, more lighthearted furnishings.

He uses lots of fretwork. The principle of fretwork is not unlike the idea of applique found in needlework. When they make this furniture they overlay the basic wood structure with a second layer in filigreed wood. Or they might use pierced fretwork — kind of a see-through concept visible in the legs of the table illustrated today.

The Hester group takes a step away from Chippendale by using fretwork under a plate-glass table top. It's a 20th-century variation of an old idea.

COLOR IS part of Hester's interpretation for today's lifestyle so the group is available in pure white as well as glazed tangerine, lime and lemon, all embellished with contrasting stripe detail.

One final note about learning while you shop, don't be afraid to ask the store decorator or design-trained salesperson questions about the background of any period of furniture. The

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Guess who was born today, Nov. 9, and became famous as:

1. Vice President of the United States? A colorful phrasemaker, this World War II combat infantryman (age 53 today) went from a lawyer's office to the Governor's mansion before getting the nation's No. 2 job: (A) Richard Nixon; (B) Hubert Humphrey; (C) Spiro T. Agnew.

2. A celebrated American actress? Success in musical comedy led her to try movie-making with Charlie Chaplin in 1916 and it started a Hollywood career that made her an Oscar winner with Wallace Beery in "Min and Bill": (A) Marie Dressler; (B) Edna Mae Oliver; (C) Zazu Pitts.

3. A martyr to the cause of abolition? A Presbyterian newspaper editor, who refused to stop editorializing against slavery, this 35-year-old abolitionist was murdered by a proslavery mob in 1837 defending his press: (A) William Lloyd Garrison; (B) Elijah Parish Lovejoy; (C) John Brown.

4. A favorite American comic? From vaudeville to television, this high-pitched voice comedian achieved top billing, starring in everything from the "Ziegfeld Follies" to Hollywood films and network broadcasts: (A) Ed Wynn; (B) Eddie Cantor; (C) Joe Penner.

ANSWERS

1. (C) (Spiro T. Agnew); 2. (A) (Marie Dressler); 3. (B) (Elijah Parish Lovejoy); 4. (A) (Ed Wynn).

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It Wasn't The Last Club But High Enough To Be A Winner

Many a bridge player is willing to tell the world how good he is; and since he is not under oath, he makes it clear that only lack of leisure time prevents him from winning a national championship or two every year. The kind of bridge player who hides his light under a bushel is far less common, but I meet one every now and then in a country club. He is usually known as a very lucky player, and he always points out that his luck can't possibly last.

REFUSES TRICK

I led the five of hearts from the West seat, and one of these very lucky players refused the first trick but won the heart continuation. Our lucky South next led the ten of spades and overtook with dummy's king.

Declarer's next move was to lead the seven of clubs for a finesse with the queen. I won with the king of clubs and returned the jack of hearts to the ace.

South cashed the ace of clubs, dropping the jack, and led the deuce of clubs to dummy's ten. Then he cashed the three top diamonds for a total of eight tricks.

LUCKY PLAY

Something about the way South was playing the hand intrigued me. A less skillful player would have tried for a second spade trick, but this would have led to sure defeat. To test my theory, I discarded a heart on the third top diamond, wondering whether South knew that his six of clubs was high.

South then looked at me with a rather peculiar expression on his face. "I have a feeling this is the last club," he remarked as he led the six of clubs.

NOT LAST CLUB

It wasn't the last club, of course, but it was good enough to win the trick and the rubber. Since very few bridge players are good enough to know when a six is high, I understood why South was considered a very lucky player.

"A very lucky hand," I commented as my opponents scored up the rubber. I had a feeling that South didn't want to be commended for skillful play. In the republic of the blind, the one-eyed man can be elected to any office he wants if he doesn't say anything about being able to see.

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - 8 7 3 2
♥ - Q 10
♦ - J 10 8 7 2
♣ - J 9.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. Your hand is just barely worth a response, and you should raise the diamonds rather than show the anemic spade suit.

This Show Biz Is Working

By GEORGE NEVIN

In the high-pressure world of show business promoters, where companies often come and go like number one records, one Marin outfit appears to be here to stay.

Sausalito-based Hananda productions has been around for 18 months, although it just moved to Marin from Santa Rosa, and will present its first Marin act Nov. 20: comedian Bill Cosby and singer Bill Withers in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Eighteen months may not sound like a long time for a business to survive, but the five young men who comprise Hananda say most producers — a term they prefer to promoters — have a considerably shorter lifespan than that.

"When we first got into this business," said 27-year-old Norman Chamlin, a co-owner of Hananda, "booking agents wouldn't even talk to us. Now they won't let us alone."

Chamlin, his brother Gene, 24, and S. Craig Jensen, also 24, started their business in Santa Rosa by doing something they said even San Francisco rock impresario Bill Graham couldn't — putting on successful concerts at the Sonoma County Fairgrounds.

"There was no live music in Santa Rosa at the time," Chamlin said as he sat at a desk on the Gate 6 houseboat which serves as Hananda's headquarters. Classical music played softly in the background and tie-died curtains covered the windows.

"There had been concerts there at one time, though, so we figured there was a market for good acts," he went on. Using local talent, Hananda threw a series of profitable concerts that firmly established the company's reputation in the music world, Chamlin said.

About five months ago Hananda — the name is derived from a word meaning peace and bliss — moved to Marin and began planning a series of concerts at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Chamlin and the others — including Alan L. Woods, 25, production manager, and John Busek, 21, advertising manager — unabashedly call the building "the finest concert hall in the world."

After the Cosby-Withers show this month, they hope to present about one a month, including not only comedy but also jazz and folk and rock — "all the endeavors of the entertainment world," according to Woods. The next show will be Nina Simone and Les McCann, Dec. 16-18.

Although Hananda has concentrated on rock concerts in the past, they're branching out now. "We're looking for the tastiest acts we can get," said Woods. "The public chooses its own music and we give them what they want. We're gearing our shows to the taste of Marin, because we think residents here have the finest taste in the Bay Area."

Other promoters — those who may fold after only a few months — haven't learned the simple rule of giving the customer what he wants, he said.

"We've found that promoters who put on shows they want to hear are the only ones in the audience on opening night, and they go out of business," he said.

Locally, said Chamlin, four promoters have come and gone since Hananda was established. "That's because we're businessmen and they weren't. We all like music, but it's a mistake to get all wrapped up in music and forget the business angle," he said. "That's the fastest way to go broke."

Successful promoters make it their business to anticipate what acts will be big. "The music we're listening to now will be on stage in six months," said Woods. "We're that far ahead of public taste."

Chamlin debunks the notion that music promoters are a heartless, unethical lot. "There are many fine people in this business, and I'm friends with almost everyone I deal with," he said.

"In this business," said Woods, "everyone has his own ethics. If a man gets a bad reputation he doesn't last long. Word gets around."

Chamlin agreed. "I may get on the phone and curse and yell at a booking agent but I still like the guy. I'm only trying to get a better deal," he said.

Started on a shoestring in Chamlin's home in Santa Rosa, Hananda has expanded into a solid business operation and is far beyond the danger of going broke because of one disastrous concert, Chamlin said.

Being promoters is a time-consuming, tedious job that often starts early in the morning and goes beyond midnight, Chamlin said.

"But it's all worth it when you look out at an audience on show night and see thousands of happy faces," he said. "It's the best feeling in the world."

Kensington Trio To Play Saturday

The Kensington Trio's next program in its buffet dinner concert series will be Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The trio is composed of pianist Wilbur F. Russell, violinist Stephen Golden and cellist John Bodo. They will play the J. S. Bach Trio Sonata in C; Dirge and Variations by David Amram and the Trio in D Minor, "Dumky", by Dvorak.

Reservations may be obtained by calling the Tamal Food Service in San Anselmo.

Mineral Society Fair Set Saturday

The Marin Mineral Society will hold its first gem and mineral fair Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

John J. Schuck, spokesman for the society, said jewelry, mineral specimens and fossils from throughout Northern California will be on display. Techniques of cutting gems and carving stone will also be demonstrated, he said.

Restoration Comedy Due At Arts Center

Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops To Conquer," a Restoration comedy that explores the struggle to distinguish personal worth from social standing, will open at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts Friday with a special dinner performance.

Tickets for the opening, set for 8:30 p.m. at 267 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, are on sale at the center and at the Mill Valley bus depot. Regular performances will be given Fridays and Saturdays through Dec. 11.

The play is directed by Edgar Weinstock and produced by Sali Lieberman. The cast includes Ray Stephens, Ellen Ernest, Abe Kalish, Marcia Koski, John Fritz, Tyler Horn, Toni Sawyer, Kenneth Perez, Mary Logan, Pamela Taylor, Charles Moore and Elinor Berman.

Friday's Italian dinner will be prepared by Giovanni Lo Coco. Dianne Vaugeois is in charge of decorations.

Nunes Ranch Annexation Plan On Agency List

The Local Agency Formation Commission will consider a request tomorrow that the 285-acre Nunes Ranch in Upper Lucas Valley be annexed to the Lucas Valley County Service Area.

The proposed annexation is the first step toward what the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association hopes will eventually become a greenbelt recreational area near the Lucas Valley communities.

Last month, the association disclosed plans to purchase the property and create a park and recreational area under the supervision of the county.

The property has an assessed valuation of about $74,000.

The commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center, also is expected to consider a request from the city of Novato for annexation of 43 acres on Trumbull Avenue.

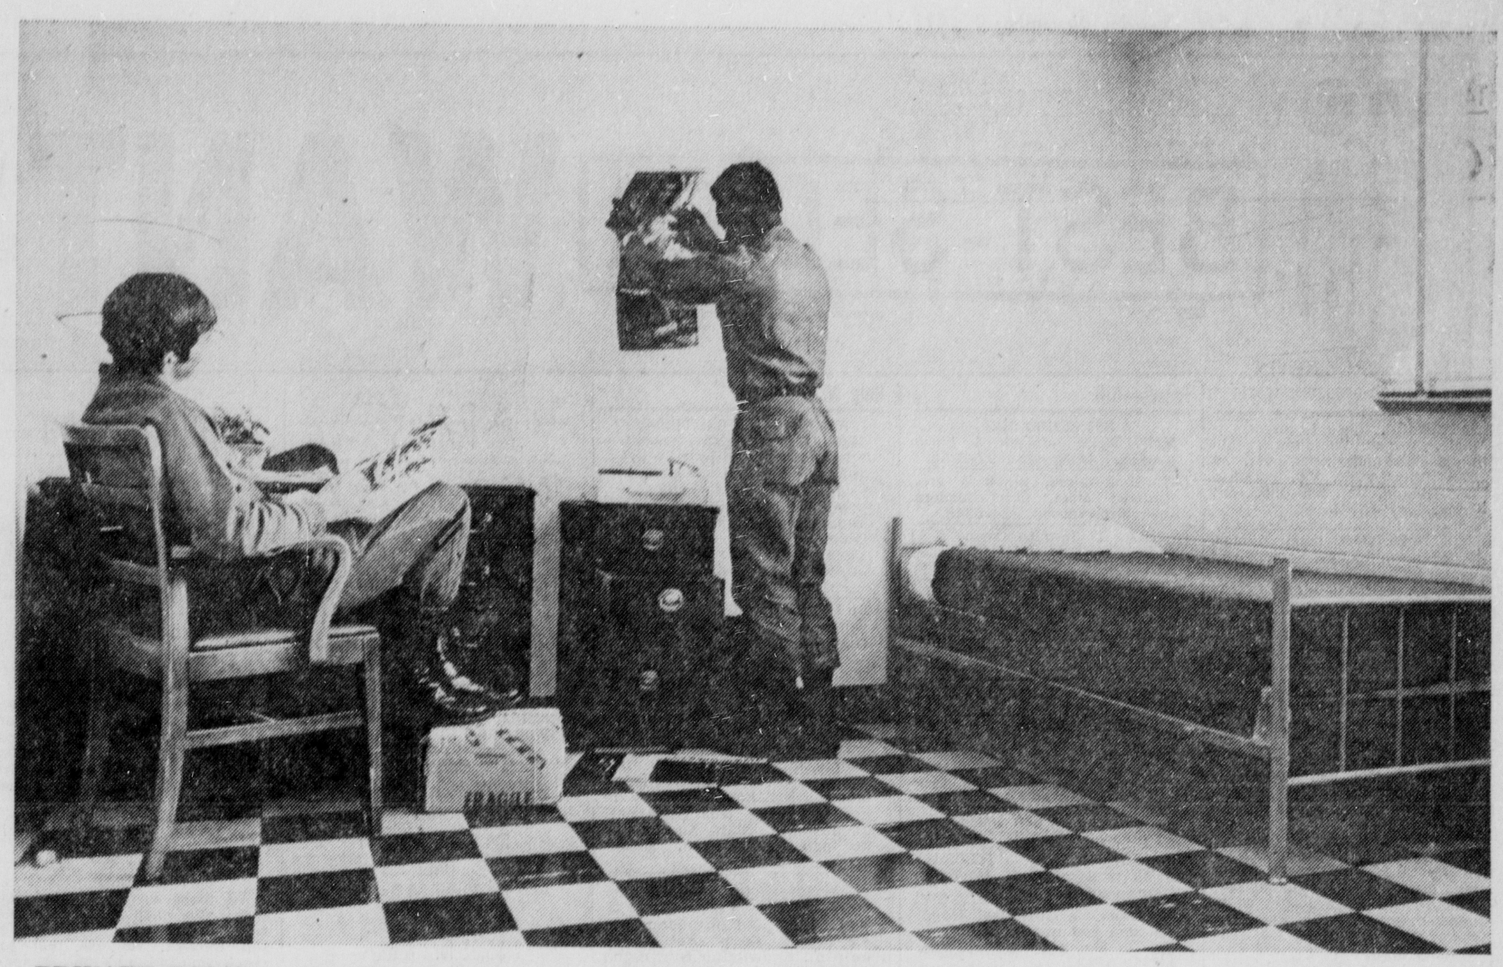
THE ARMY'S NEW LOOK — Army Sp. 4 Michael Bendele eats lunch in the remodeled mess hall at Fort Barry. In place of the traditional metal serving trays and long tables and benches, the fort's mess hall looks more like a cozy neighborhood restaurant, with dishes, bright tablecloths, plants and paintings. The menu ranges from traditional meals through hamburgers and pizza.



PRIVATE ROOM — Pfc. Troy Cowan watches Sgt. John Brooks install a poster on the wall of a room in modernized barracks. The new-look Army life allows not only the posters, but other previously unheard-of luxuries in the barracks such as stereo sets — and even a waterbed in one enlisted man's room at Fort Barry.

GOP Delegate Formula Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Ripon Society, a group of liberal Republicans, has filed suit in U.S. District Court asking that the delegate selection formula for the 1972 GOP national convention be declared unconstitutional.

The suit claimed the formula discriminates against the eight most populous states by giving them fewer delegates than their population would warrant.

A similar suit against the Democratic Party's delegate selection machinery, meanwhile, was appealed to the Supreme Court Monday. The Democratic suit asks that the process be changed so that delegates are selected exclusively by the size of the Democratic vote in each state in the last election —a plan that would also give the larger states more delegates.

Private rooms for privates?

They're being installed at Fort Barry as part of the Army's new look, and soon every man stationed at B Battery, the Marin fort's missile site, will have a measure of privacy formerly enjoyed only by officers.

Not only that, but the men may furnish their rooms any way they wish, and for at least one solider that means a waterbed in place of the regulation Army bunk.

The $22,000 modernization program, in which two former barracks were converted to one-and-two-man rooms, goes hand-in-hand with efforts being made throughout the Army to make it more attractive to potential enlistees.

Hair regulations also have been relaxed — though only slightly — chow improved and the men allowed "to put up whatever they want in their rooms, as long as they keep them neat," said Lt. Douglas L. Walker B Battery's executive officer.

B Battery is part of the First Missile Battalion, 61st Artillery, 13th Artillery Group. It falls under the jurisdiction of the Sixth Region of the Army Air Defense Command, headquartered at Fort Baker. The battery commands a bank of underground Nike Hercules missiles which defend the Bay Area against hostile bombers.

Although the military draft was extended in Congress this year, the Army, aware of mounting criticism to conscription, is presenting a new image to the public in preparation for the time when the Army will be all-volunteer. The new barracks are part of that image.

Walker led a tour of the barracks yesterday and proudly pointed out new color schemes — walls are rust red, yellow and grey instead of institutional green. Area rugs and curtains will match the new paint jobs.

"Now the men can bring in their televisions and stereos and leave them locked up here during the day instead of worrying about them," he said. "They can put up posters or anything they want. There's no restriction on what they can have in their rooms, as long as they're neat."

Gone for good are the days the men had to take down posters for inspections, although inspections themselves remain, Walker said. As he talked, the pungent odor of incense drifted out of one of the rooms.

Between 25 and 30 men live in each barrack, said Walker. Often a two-man room has only one occupant because of cutbacks in troop strength growing out of reduced appropriations by Congress.

To A/5 Jimmy M. Carter, 22, the new regulations mean pinups and a peace symbol on the wall, wind chimes by his door, a stereo component system on his desk and a king-sized waterbed on the floor.

The new barracks are for junior enlisted men, lowest on the military totum pole. Men above specialist fourth class who live at B Battery already had private rooms, as did officers. About half the battery's 127 enlisted men live in private apartments off base.

Like the improved living conditions, the redecorated mess hall with its greater selection of food is designed to compensate the men at B Battery for having to stick close to the base because of drills or the possibility of actual attack.

The mess hall, remodeled last year, has won three awards as best mess hall this year in competition with seven other Bay Area mess halls.

Using an $800 grant, from post exchange funds, the men of the battery installed a false ceiling with subdued lights, built a leather-covered planter-dividier to separate officers from enlisted men and bought a tape deck and amplifier.

Not only is standard Army chow available, but men may order a hamburger, pizza or other nontypical fare if they aren't in the mood for chipped beef on toast, Walker said.

Bright red tablecloths, white curtains and paintings on the hardwood walls give the mess hall the appearance of afriendly, small restaurant rather than a military eating place. There is more variety of food and drink than ever before, according to Mess Sgt. Oliver Browder.

At least one soldier, however, isn't much impressed by all the changes. "My tour is over in six months and I can't wait to get out. This Army is too much," he said.

Davis, Magee Trials: State May Foot Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Senate Finance Committee has approved a bill requiring the state to pay for the murder trials of Angela Davis and Ruchell Magee.

The measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, of San Rafael, was sent on a unanimous vote Monday to the full Senate. Bagley's Marin County district now must bear the costs of the complex cases.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post estimated the trials will cost in excess of $1 million. A spokesman for Marin County said more than $350,000 has already been expended in pretrial activity.

Miss Davis and Magee are charged with murder, kidnaping and conspiracy in connection with the Marin County shootout last year in which a judge and three other persons were shot to death.

The trial of Miss Davis has been moved from Marin to Santa Clara County, but Bagley said Marin would still be liable for the costs if his measure were not passed.

Two Treated In Car Crash

Two 18-year-old San Rafael youths were treated at Marin General Hospital Sunday after their car struck a parked car on San Pedro Road in San Rafael.

The driver of the car, Wayne H. Rogers of 17 Hammondale Court, was treated for multiple cuts, according to hospital officials, and his passenger, Craig M. Hecht of 223 Knight Drive, suffered a mild neck sprain and bruises on his left shoulder.

San Rafael police said Rogers's car struck another car parked on San Pedro Road near Embarcadero Way at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

FFA Barbecue Is Tomorrow Night

The annual chicken barbecue of the Tomales High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Tomales High School, according to Earl Smith, chapter adviser.

Jail Term On Felony Charge

Patrick Wallace Finley, 43, of Petaluma, has been sentenced to 60 days in Marin County Jail for felony drunken driving.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed him on probation for two years and fined him $250.

Finley, who pleaded no contest to the charge in September, was arrested following a head-on collision on the Richardson Bay Bridge Dec. 23.

When we say Park Terrace is in Mill Valley, we mean it's IN Mill Valley.

Park Terrace is Mill Valley's newest residential area. Mill Valley, not overlooking Mill Valley or near Mill Valley. Location is such a big factor in a home that you can scarcely expect to find an older home, let alone a new home, in Mill Valley for anything under $35,000. YET PARK TERRACE TOWNHOUSES START AT $33,900 for 2 bedrooms, 1¾ baths, luxury features, & room to expand. If you're in the market for a new home, you've got to see what Park Terrace has for you & how living IN Mill Valley can make life a whole lot easier for you and your family.

HOW TO BUY MORE HOUSE THAN YOU CAN AFFORD

Pick a price out of thin air. Then go out and buy it by yourself, and pay more than you'd planned, because you couldn't find what you wanted at the price you had in mind.

A better idea is to let us help. We're Realtors. Experts who know how to help you find what you can afford. And even help you find mortgage money.

Whatever we do, we'll do in your best interest, because we're pledged to a strict code of ethics.

So, doesn't it make sense to see us first?

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

Many, many things, whether you are a buyer or seller. For instance, a Realtor can be invaluable in judging prices and values of homes. He can tell you what the market is (he knows it well) — what homes are worth, and what they are selling for; he can evaluate properties properly, and he can tell you if a price is realistic.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 179350

Superior Court of the State of California City and County of San Francisco

Estate of ADOLPH A. TISCORNIA, also known as A. A. TISCORNIA, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 26th day of November, 1971, the undersigned ALICE B. COPELAND, as executrix of the Will of Adolph A. Tiscornia, also known as A. A. Tiscornia, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest net bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Court, all the right, title and interest the estate has, consisting of a remainder interest only, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, in and to that certain real property situated in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, described as:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of King Street distant thereon 100 feet easterly from the point of intersection of the southerly line of King Street and the easterly line of Magnolia Avenue; running thence easterly along the said southerly line of King Street 50 feet to the northwest corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Giovanni Gianelli to The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, recorded May 19, 1955, in Book 942 of Official Records at page 597, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle southerly along the westerly boundary line of said parcel of land 100 feet; thence at a right angle westerly 50 feet along the southerly line of the parcel of land described in the deed from Walter G. Sellmer to A. B. Copeland, recorded June 13, 1935, in Book 298 of Official Records at page 426, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle northerly along the westerly line of said Copeland parcel (298-426) 100 feet to the southerly line of King Street and the point of beginning.

SUBJECT TO:

Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way and easements of record.

Bid or offers for the property are invited, must be, in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 180 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser.

The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale in preference to cash sale if in the best interests of the estate.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE RE: MINORS' CHANGE OF NAME
No. 61509

WHEREAS, JOHN JAMES FLORES and KAREN FLORES, his wife, petitioners, as guardians of applicants, ELIZABETH DENISE HERNANDEZ, ROBERT ANTHONY HERNANDEZ, MELINDA THERESE HERNANDEZ, and VERONICA DORESE HERNANDEZ, all being under 18 years of age, have filed a petition with the clerk of this court for an order changing applicants' family name from HERNANDEZ to FLORES.

IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above-entitled matter appear before this court at 9 A.M., on Nov. 11, 1971, in the courthouse in San Rafael, Marin County, California, and show cause, if any, why the petition for change of name should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order to show cause be published in the Independent-Journal of Marin, a newspaper of general circulation printed in the County of Marin, California, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the date set for hearing on the petition.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT AND NOTICE TO DEPOSITORS

Notice is hereby given that an Agreement entered into as of March 16, 1971, by and between Union Bank, as Seller and California Canadian Bank, as Purchaser, whereby the Seller sold a portion of its banking business, consisting of its Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices (excluding therefrom its trust business) to the Purchaser, became effective, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of California, at the commencement of business on November 1, 1971.

Please be advised that the deposit liabilities shown on the books of the undersigned bank, Union Bank, for its Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices, as of the commencement of business on November 1, 1971, have been assumed by California Canadian Bank, and that the status of the Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices of Union Bank as insured Bank offices will therefore terminate, as provided in Section 8(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act.

You are further advised that California Canadian Bank is an insured Bank, and that your deposits will continue to be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, in the same manner and to the extent provided in said Act.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING IN THE MATTER OF OLIVER KULLBERG (CURRENT OWNER OF THE LODGE) AND CLARENCE AND DAVID LEVERONI FOR WASTE DISCHARGE FROM THE LODGE 8141 REDWOOD HIGHWAY, NOVATO, CALIFORNIA

The California Regional Water Quality Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, November 23, 1971 at 9:30 A.M. in the Alameda County Public Works Building Auditorium, 399 Elmhurst Street, Hayward to consider issuance of an order pursuant to Section 13301 of the California Water Code requiring Oliver Kullburg (CURRENT OWNER OF THE LODGE) and Clarence and David Leveroni to cease and desist from discharging or threatening to discharge waste in violation of waste discharge requirements and directing said dischargers to comply with said requirements or take appropriate remedial or preventive action forthwith or in accordance with a time schedule to be set by the Regional Board. The specific requirements in question are the following:

Discharge be confined to discharger's property at all times.

The Board's staff, the discharger and other interested persons will be given an opportunity to present evidence concerning whether the discharge requirements have been violated and plans and time schedules for obtaining compliance at the earliest practicable date. The discharger and all other interested persons may, but need not, be represented by counsel.

If possible, written copies of testimony to be presented at the hearing should be furnished to the Board in advance of hearing.

The Regional Board file on the discharge of Oliver Kullberg and Clarence and David Leveroni is open to public inspection from 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. on weekdays.

SUMMONS
No. 60127

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

vs.

SAMUEL I. MOORE, also known as S. I. MOORE, and ALSO ALL OTHER PERSONS UNKNOWN, CLAIMING ANY RIGHT, TITLE, ESTATE, LIEN OR INTEREST IN THE REAL PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE COMPLAINT ADVERSE TO PLAINTIFF'S OWNERSHIP OR ANY CLOUD UPON PLAINTIFF'S TITLE THERETO, Defendants.

To the Defendants:

A civil complaint has been filed by the plaintiffs against you. If you wish to defend this lawsuit, you must file in this court a written pleading in response to the complaint within thirty (30) days after this summons is served on you. Otherwise your default will be entered on application by the plaintiffs and the court may enter a judgment against you for the money or other relief requested in the complaint.

The object of this action is to make the above-named defendants set forth the nature of their claim or claims to the real property in the complaint and hereinafter described, if any they have, and that such claim or claims be adjudged to be of no effect and void, and that plaintiffs' title to said real property be quieted against them.

That said real property is situate in the City of Belvedere, County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described as follows:

Parcel One:

Beginning at a point in the northeasterly line of Beach Road, formerly "Bay View Ave." which point is the most southerly corner of Lot 12, Block 1, as said lot and block are shown on that certain map entitled, "Map No. 3 of the Belvedere Peninsula, Marin County, Cal." filed June 26, 1891 in the Office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin; running thence from said point of beginning along said road line south 38° 21' east 51.36 feet to the most southerly corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Rose M. Rotchy to Martha M. Morrison, recorded July 25, 1955 in Book 958 of Official Records at page 161; thence along the southeasterly line of the parcel of land described in said last mentioned deed north 38° 26' east 134.72 feet to a point distant 65.02 feet from the easterly corner thereof; thence leaving said line north 77° 51' west 89.22 feet; thence south 28° 26' west 50.0 feet; thence south 27° 23' east 32.89 feet and south 38° 26' and west 20.0 feet to the point of beginning.

Parcel Two:

Beginning at the most easterly corner of the property described above as Parcel One and running north 38° 26' east 65.02 feet to the northeasterly line of Lot 11 in Block 1, map above referred to.

IF YOU WISH TO SEEK THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY IN THIS MATTER, YOU SHOULD DO SO PROMPTLY SO THAT YOUR PLEADING, IF ANY, MAY BE FILED ON TIME.

Insurance Through Mails Is Growing

NEW YORK (UPI) —Mail order insurance is gaining an increasing share of the annual $20 billion health insurance market, according to an industry executive.

Harry T. Dozor, president of Union Fidelity Corporation, health and accident insurance company, says a growing number of consumers are purchasing health insurance protection directly from companies in response to offers made through various advertising media. He attributes this to a number of factors, including a vacuum which has developed in agency insurance selling and a desire of consumers to make an independent judgment in purchasing protection.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Those Who Use Arms A Lot Frequently Suffer Bursitis

Bursitis is one of the most common rheumatic disorders. Bursae are the thin-walled sacs located wherever tendons move across one another or over bones. These structures contain lubricating fluid to help the tendons glide smoothly.

Shoulder bursitis does not begin as true inflammation of a bursa. The culprit is the supraspinatus tendon that passes from the upper shoulder through the middle of the bursa to the outer part of the upper arm. It helps raise or lower the arm, and in so doing may get pinched between the shoulder bone and upper arm bone.

Those who use the arm more than usual — such as violinists, conductors, athletes and painters — are more likely to be bothered with bursitis of the shoulder. Repeated trauma leads to swelling of the tendon within the bursal sac. A blister forms in much the same way as it does on the foot that rubs against a shoe.

As pressure within the bursa increases, the shoulder becomes painful. This may take place suddenly or gradually. When severe, pain occurs throughout the shoulder and extends downward into the hand. It may be so excruciating, the arm cannot be moved more than a few inches. Pain lessens within 7 to 10 days, as swelling subsides. Several weeks may elapse before the individual can reach into his back pocket or put an arm into a sleeve without distress. Injecting a steroid directly into the bursa is the best remedy.

Also useful are X-rays, procaine injections or needling to remove the fluid. Heat and massage lessen residual stiffness. It is advisable to move the arm periodically to avoid scar tissue and a frozen shoulder.

WHY TORTURE

M. B. R. writes: I am in perfect health and for years have been smoking one cigarette each night before I go to bed to stop me from thinking. It also stops me from doing everything else as it makes my heart beat fast and hard. I can barely get my clothes off and get into bed. In the morning I'm fit as a fiddle but if I take one cigarette during the day I'm so nervous and depressed I can't work and the thought of food nauseates me. I would like to know why smoking has this effect.

REPLY

Some people are more sensitive than others to nicotine. Many persons have strange rituals to promote sleep. Why don't you change yours, since smoking knocks you out?

LOW FAT DIET

H. M. writes: My doctor wants me to reduce by cutting down on fats in the diet but otherwise to eat the same. Does this mean I can eat all the fruits and vegetables I want?

REPLY

Yes, although carbohydrates may encourage more weight gain than fats. However, don't butter the vegetables. Our low fat diet may be obtained by sending a stamped, self--addressed envelope with request.

THE HARDENING PROCESS

Y. I. writes: Do most old people have some hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Yes. The hardening process begins the moment we are born. Arteriosclerosis has been found in young soldiers killed on the battlefield and it is doubtful whether anyone past 60 does not have a few hardened arteries here and there. But water will run through a rusty pipe for many years and the same can be said of blood coursing through the hardened vessel. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

'GAS' FROM MILK

E. L. writes: Could drinking two quarts of milk a day cause excessive gas in an adult!

REPLY

Yes, but why guess? Give up the milk for a few days and you will have your answer.

EXTRACTIONS IN DIABETICS

S. K. writes: Is it safe for a diabetic to have two bad teeth extracted?

REPLY

Yes, provided the diabetes is under control.

BRACES AND ARTHRITIS

E. F. writes: Is wearing a brace of any value in arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the back needs rest and added support.

BOY OR GIRL?

S. C. writes: What factors determine the sex of the fetus?

REPLY

The combination of chromosomes in the original germ cells. Both male and female have 46 chromosomes. The male has 44 plus an X and a Y sex chromosome and the female 44 plus XX sex chromosomes. An XY mean a boy whereas an XX is a girl.

LIP SURGERY

A reader writes: I know that plastic surgery is used on the nose and ears but is it ever used on the lips? A heavy bottom lip is just as unattractive as a big nose and large ears.

REPLY

Yes.

'ANEMIC' BRAIN

H. G. writes: What can be done for anemia of the brain?

REPLY

Medicines are available to improve the circulation of the brain and to increase the force of the heart so that it pumps more blood to our gray matter.

AN ETHNIC ANEMIA

R. D. writes: Where does pernicious anemia come from?

REPLY

We know what the disease does and what to do for it but the cause has escaped detection. In PA, a defect in the stomach prevents the absorption of vitamin B12. The condition seems to run in families and is partial to certain nationalities such as the British and Scandinavians.

Defective Mounts Found In 1965 To 1969 Autos

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The Auto Club of Missouri said Monday tests on American cars produced since 1965 showed that a percentage of every make of automobile had defective motor mounts.

In a report released Monday, the club said it made the discovery while checking Chevrolets at its auto diagnostic center to document recent National Highway Traffic Safety Administration charges that faulty motor mounts had been found in Chevrolets produced from 1965 to 1969.

Other cars produced since 1965 also were checked during the study, the club said, and their motor mounts were found defective.

The mounts, consisting of a pad of rubber between two steel plates, are designed to absorb noise, vibration and torque reaction from the engine's operation while providing support. Defective mounts can cause loss of control of a car.

The club said it inspected 536 cars at its clinic last month and 115 were found to have broken mounts and 56 worn mounts. Of the cars inspected, the club said General Motors cars had 29 per cent defective mounts, Ford 22 per cent and Chrysler 10 per cent. ONE of 19 American Motor Co. cars checked on had a broken mount. In addition, defective mounts were discovered on Volkswagen, Mercedes and MG cars, the club said.

Tests showed that a motor mount can separate. When it does, the engine raises and can jam the accelerator and gear shift linkages and can possibly affect the power steering and power brakes.

Wallet Turns Up On A Man's Body

CAIRO (UPI)—Abdel Karim Maksoud was bemoaning the loss of his wallet Monday when police arrived and asked him to identify the body of Abdel Karim Maksoud.

It turned out the dead man was a thief who had taken Maksoud's wallet and then had died. Police had gone to Maksoud's house on the basis of papers found in the wallet.

U.C. Loses Round In Angela Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A judge Monday refused to dismiss a lawsuit filed more than two years ago aimed at preventing the University of California from ever rehiring Angela Davis.

The UC Board of Regents sought a summary judgment dismissing the suit on grounds it had become moot because Miss Davis is charged with murder.

But Superior Court Judge Robert Wenke said the case "is a matter of great public interest" and indicated a dangerous precedent could be set if the suit were thrown out.

The suit was filed by Donald C. Gallagher, an attorney and onetime Republican congressional candidate.

Stanley Shapiro, appearing for Gallagher Monday, said the suit would be withdrawn if Miss Davis "will sign a written statement that she will never seek a teaching position" at the university.

"If not, this action is the only insurance that our taxpayers have that Miss Davis will not, if she is found not guilty in her criminal action, return to the UCLA teaching staff as a heroine and a martyr and a constant source of inspiration to existing potential communists and Black Panthers on campus."

Miss Davis taught a philosophy course for one year at UCLA.

EQUAL TREATMENT

His Job: Smoothing Ruffled Feathers

Keeping life in the Air Force a two-way street, might be described as the job for Capt. Kenneth L. Coleman, who has the title of Equal Opportunities Officer for Hamilton Air Force Base.

The title is relatively new — it was created by the Air Defense Command on Sept. 1 — but some of the complaints it handles are as old as society.

One recent case, Captain Coleman reported, was the problem of the Hamilton Air Force Base man from Guam who wanted to send one of his children back to his Pacific home to go to college.

The father ran into a one-way regulation. It said that GIs stationed in Guam, Alaska, Hawaii or Puerto Rico could fly their children to colleges in the mainland United States free on military aircraft when space was available, but, the policy didn't work the other direction.

The man from Guam turned to Captain Coleman, who worked through official channels to show the Pentagon that its rule was unfair. The student got his free ride to Guam.

Many of the problems handled by the 29-year-old black Captain Coleman involve racial prejudice, but "I want to see every military person get equal treatment regardless of race, creed or sex," he said.

The equal opportunities officer met with some suspicion when he began the job. But Coleman stressed that he was a member of the establishment, working through the establishment to solve inequities.

"After I had been on the job for some time some of the whites told me they saw I hadn't burned down Hamilton, so I was OK," Coleman said.

But to "the white conservative, I am a militant; to the militant blacks and whites, I am a conservative," Coleman said. "Why, I've even been called an Uncle Tom," he added.

His job is fourfold: Counseling base airmen, assuring that the base's services are responsive to all personnel, advising unit commanders and supervisors on dealings with minorities, and disseminating information on what the base does for its personnel.

The problems range from obtaining a transfer for a racially mixed couple whose mutual supervisor opposed their marriage, to smoothing the ruffled feathers of a serviceman who may only imagine that he is a victim of prejudice.

Coleman's job requires close cooperation with the base legal office and with the base commander, Col. Vermont Garrison, whom Coleman praised for his support of the new Office of Equal Opportunity.

Coleman joined the Air Force seven years ago after graduating with an industrial management degree from Ohio State University. He plans to study law in the future.

Coleman's wife, Jackie, is a counselor at the University of Santa Clara.

The equal opportunities officer said Marin County provides a healthy social climate for the base and for his job of making sure that the military system is "more responsive to the individual, rather than treating them like masses."

Less Psychiatry Services Use

BERKELEY (UPI) —Student use of the psychiatric services at the University of California's Cowell Hospital has dropped 50 per cent, it was reported Monday.

Alan Fong, copresident of the Associated Students organization, said the clinic patients last month numbered 448 hours in comparison with 990 hours for the same period in 1970.

Ten staff members have been suspended and seven quit over the policies of the director, a spokesman said.

The controversy stemmed over the discussion of personal interviews of patients.

Mamie Released

TOUGH TANDEM — Novato High School halfback Leo Magers took a quick handoff from All-League quarterback Marty Moroski, while (right) San Rafael fullback Mark Farrar supplied downfield interference for sensational tailback Scott Duncan in games earlier this year. These stars head the cast appearing in the Marin County Athletic League football title contest Saturday, 1 p.m. in Novato. A San Rafael win would give the visitors a share of the championship; a Novato triumph would make the hosts undisputed kings. The four prep standouts are among the leaders in their respective categories. Duncan heads the rushing parade, while Magers and Farrar follow in hot pursuit. Moroski is among the passing leaders.

Big Prep Grid Windup On Novato Field

The fate of the coveted Marin County Athletic League football crown will be decided when San Rafael High School invades Novato High Saturday, 1 p.m.

The remaining league slate shows Terra Linda at Drake on the San Rafael High School field, Friday, 8 p.m. and Redwood at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley, Saturday, 1 p.m. O'Connell High of San Francisco visits Marin Catholic in Kentfield Saturday, 2 p.m., in a non-league game.

Station KTIM will broadcast the San Rafael-Novato titanic, pitting the league's two top offenses. Novato, which already owns a share of the 1971 title, presents a diversified attack, while San Rafael relies on its gaudy ground attack.

The San Rafael Bulldogs, seeking an MCAL championship deadlock, will star All-League halfback Scott Duncan and a cast of four. The quartet includes fullback Mark Farrar, quarterback Dirk Gansloser, wingback Dave Urquhart and alternate halfback Jim Grigg.

Despite the flashiness of this unit, Duncan is still the key. The brilliant tailback has amassed some 2,492 yards in his Bulldog career going into the finale. Novato must contain him without overlooking the other four. Terra Linda seemingly geared its defense to stop Duncan but Farrar ran wild.

Although the San Rafael attack is impressive, so is Novato's. The Hornets have All-League quarterback Marty Moroski, an able field general who mixes up his calls well. Additionally, the Black and Gold trot out brilliant halfback Leo Magers. This elusive game breaker has proven to be a fine clutch performer, scoring two touchdowns in Novato's 21-15 triumph over Redwood Friday. That victory insured the Hornets of at least a piece of the championship; a win Saturday would give Novato undisputed honors.

Only pride will be at stake in the other battles. The 1970 champion Terra Linda Trojans close out the year against Drake. Both teams were midseason contenders but losses to Novato snuffed out their championship dreams. The Trojans may have an edge with quarterback Kevin Donohoe at the controls, providing he has sufficiently recovered from a head injury suffered Saturday in a

Raiders Receive The Nevers' Wrath

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Nevers, chairman of the Northern California chapter of the foundation, received a $100 check for the foundation from the Goal Rushers, and then talked football.

SAN FRANCISCO cornerback Jim Johnson was supposed to be the 49er guest speaker at yesterday's luncheon at Holiday Inn, but never showed up. Just another name added to the list of missing persons.

Nevers and Al Scott, coach of the Marin County Athletic League champion Novato High School Hornets, did a good job of making up for Johnson's absence.

Nevers talked about the Raiders' 20-20 tie with Kansas City two weeks ago, in which Oakland had a fourth down and inches to go for a touchdown, with 2:31 left in the game, and went for the tying field goal instead.

"I LOST ALL my respect for the Raiders when they went for the tie," he declared. "I never played a game in my life that I didn't play to win."

Scott agreed with the former All-American from Stanford.

"I know the players can't say much," said Scott, "but I know they would have rather gone for the touchdown. They should have gone for the whole ball of wax. When we play San Rafael Saturday, a tie would still give us the undisputed championship. But we won't be going for a tie against San Rafael. We're going for a win."

SCOTT BROUGHT along his star running back, Leo Magers, who was introduced to the Goal Rushers. "I'm really happy to be on a number one team," said the scrappy Magers. "I couldn't be playing with a better bunch of kids."

Nevers noted that there is nothing new, offensively, in pro football, allowing the defense to dominate play, which got nods of agreement from his listeners.

"I think football will have to have some changes offensively," he said. "I would like to see them throw out the three-point field goal." He went on to say new formations offensively would probably befuddle most pro defenses, as did the 49ers' "Shotgun" formation of a few years back.

NEVERS EXPLAINED how the Northern California Chapter of the Football Foundation and Hall of Fame awards five $1,000 scholarships to high school graduates in the San Francisco Bay Area. Of the 22 nominations for the scholarships, Marin County will get two. The granting of the scholarships is based on scholarship, need, outside activities, and football talent, in that order.

Scott urged the Goal Rushers to take in some of the Marin County high school games because there's always excitement on the prep scene. Then he declared a new dynasty in prep football.

"We're taking Terra Linda's place winning titles," he said referring to the school that had won five straight MCAL crowns prior to this season. The way he said it, he didn't get any arguments.

Those of you who saw Novato's title clinching 21-15 victory over Redwood last Friday know why I had to ask Magers whether he kept that white jersey No. 11. By the time the game ended, the shirt was literally ripped to shreds.

'Friendly' 49ers Set Title Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49er defense is still friendly with the offense, the team's coaches guarantee.

While the defense made like the thin red line last Sunday at Minnesota and repelled every Viking touchdown bid, the offense turned the ball over to the enemy five times.

San Francisco finally staggered to victory 13-9 in one of the team's all-time best defensive games while the offense seemingly still can't figure out how to cut down on the mistakes.

Wiggin also said he thought the offense "played a good game overall, considering the strength of the Minnesota defense."

Head coach Dick Nolan echoed the unity theme when he said everybody was still friends: "Sometimes the offense wins it; sometimes the defense; sometimes the special teams," he said. "I thought our offensive line played good football."

Nolan denied that wider line spacing has been responsible for John Brodie's 15 interceptions in eight games as compared to 10 in the 1970 season.

"The worst thing an offensive line can do is crowd in close. It's too restrictive. You can't run the ball, "Nolan said.

The statistics bear out that the 49er running attack is far better than last year's—as long as the 1971 runners can hold on to the ball.

Marin's Horwitz Wins Cycle Race At Corte Madera

Marc Horwitz of the Marin Cyclists won the first race of the nine-race winter training bicycle series with a time of 24:28 for 10 miles Sunday in Corte Madera.

The series is run by Marin County's three cycling clubs — Marin, the Belmont Bicycle Club, and Club Endspurt. It will continue through Feb. 20.

Second to Horwitz was Keith Vierra of Belmont with 25:22. Horwitz and Vierra are both classified as juniors, and usually seniors finish at the top of races like this.

DEFENSE SHINES

Baltimore Colts Bombard Rams

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts parlayed back-to-back roughing the kicker penalties, a piece of plaster and a garbage can runner, subbing for a sick and injured running star, into a 24-17 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Monday night.

Played beneath a lurid, red half moon in the cold of Memorial Stadium, the bizarre became the commonplace in critical games for each team.

HENDRICKS SCORES

Baltimore had just tied the score at 10-10 with a Jim O'Brien' 32-yard field goal, when Curtis stuck his mummified thumb into Larry Smith's arm-cradle of the ball. The ball squirted straight back five yards into the arms of Ted Hendricks, who raced 31 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

For Curtis, the play signifed some personal revenge on the Rams. Soaking his thumb in the whirlpool bath after the game, the Colt linebacker quipped, "One of the Rams told Ray May they were looking past Miami to last week when they lost to the Dolphins, the jerks."

MATTE TALLIEST

It was Matte's second touchdown of the game. He ran four yards for the Colts' first touchdown. Matte was also the Colts chief offensive threat picking up 97 yards in 19 carries as fever and an ankle injury slowed Norm Bulaich, Baltimore's leading rusher.

Dubbed a garbage can runner by former Lion Alex Karras and coming off knee surgery, Matte was elated over his best performance of the season.

OUTLASTS KARRAS

"I outlasted Karras in this league, so I guess he can call me anything he wants," Matte laughed.

The Colts' only offensive weapon against the stringent Ram defense in the first half was the roughing-the-kicker call.

Baltimore punter David Lee was knocked down by charging Dave Elmendorf while punting from the Colt 19. Elmendorf said he had touched the ball first, thereby making his action legal, but the referee saw it differently and returned possession of the ball to the Colts.

Baltimore advanced to midfield before their drive was halted and Lee came on to punt again. Elmendorf clearly ran into Lee after he got his punt off and the Colts again retained possession, this time driving downfield for Matte's first score.

Roman Gabriel almost capped the evening's weird events when he hit Matt Maslowski for a 36-yard touchdown to bring the Rams to within seven, 24-17, but the Colts' Tom Curtis grabbed L.A.'s onside kick to preserve the Baltimore win.

The victory kept the Colts only a half-game behind Miami in their battle in the AFC east, while the Rams fell to one and a half games behind the NFC West's pace-setting San Francisco 49ers.

Stanford Band Back In Furor

STANFORD (UPI) — The unique Stanford band, which salutes such unusual subjects as pornography and pot, was back in the middle of a controversy today.

This was a reference to UCLA's Jim McAlister, the legendary back who didn't pass the projected 1.6 grade average test and thus was not eligible this season.

Coach Pepper Dodgers admitted he was annoyed and commented "they don't seem to like James McAlister. Well, they'll hear from him in the future."

And Stanford Athletic Director Chuck Taylor said he did not see the formation, but that he was unhappy with the antic. He promised to write UCLA athletic director J. D. Morgan an apology.

"I don't know who is responsible. You just never know what kids are going to do," Taylor said.

Morgan declined comment.

A spokesman for SMUT—that's Stanford Marching Unit Thinkers—said the idea was supposed to be a joke, not a putdown.

"All of our antics are lighthearted. No one should be offended. Outside of the National Anthem and Stanford fight song nothing we do is taken very seriously. Actually, we're in sympathy with McAlister.

Injuries, Trades, Mishaps Underscore Raiders' New Look

OAKLAND (UPI) —Of the 24 men who started at offense, defense and kickers for the Oakland Raiders in the championship game at Baltimore last January, only 12 remained for last Sunday's frustrating 21-21 tie at New Orleans.

That's because the Raiders have traded heavily and been racked with strange mishaps but still somehow stay on top of the heap. While they tied New Orleans, Kansas City was upset by the New York Jets so the Raiders (5-1-2) lead their archrival Chiefs (5-2-1) in the American Division West.

Traditionally, the loser of that struggle still makes the playoffs with the best second place finish but Miami (6-1-1) and Baltimore (6-2) are fighting it out in the Eastern Division so while a mediocre Central Division team gets to the playoffs one of the four powerhouse teams won't.

The wide receiver spot symbolizes the Raiders' difficulties.

Warren Wells was jailed; Rod Sherman twisted his ankle; Eldridge Dickey was suspended last week for disciplinary problems, so Dre Buie started against the Saints.

Seals Embark On Road Swing; Visit Boston

OAKLAND (UPI) —The California Golden Seals have a few days to rest and enjoy a situation they haven't been in since 1968.

The Seals amazed a crowd of 3,865 home fans in the Oakland coliseum arena Sunday night by whipping Toronto, 8-1, and moved into third place in the National Hockey League Western Division behind Chicago and first-place Minnesota.

Golden State Warriors Host Houston Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Golden State Warriors hope they can keep their hot start going tonight when they return to Oakland Arena to face the uncertain Houston Rockets.

The Warriors have won six of their last seven and the Rockets have lost 11 of their last 13, but will undoubtedly be much stronger when they resolve their internal problems.

The Warriors have averaged only 101 points per game, but that figure looks good when matched with the defensive mark of 95 points allowed — second low in the NBA.

Cazzie Russell not only has been the difference for the Warriors on the floor, as his number 10 rating in latest scoring statistics shows, but also he has meant a difference at the gate, too.

The Warriors are drawing the kinds of procage crowds that haven't been seen in the Bay Area since the days of Rick Barry.

In addition, the Barry-less Warriors seemingly display better teamwork under coach Al Attles. The North Carolina A & T graduate unloaded hot shooting, but slow moving, Jerry Lucas for Russell's speed and hustle. Attles also picked up guard Jim Barnett from Portland and three draft picks. The latter move has added guard depth, enabling Attles to retire and devote full attention to coaching.

FISH AND GAME

Salmon Season Finale Sunday; Fish Biting

By AL GIDDINGS

Most of the anglers after salmon this past week found the weather good and the fish biting. The salmon season closes next Sunday and the fishing is still worthwhile. Bob Lochinauer and his gang, fishing out of Loch Lomond, tried the Duxberry Buoy area. They caught two fish per rod with an 18-pounder the top fish.

AT THE San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, Lloyd Hahn and his crew took eight nice fish with John Flint of Belvedere taking a 28-pound lunker. They fished the Duxberry-Rocky Point area, also. It looked like 50-75 boats out last Sunday in that area.

Not to be outdone by the salmon fishermen, Chet Lavin of the Marin Road and Gun Club tried the club pier. He's the fellow who caught that 164-pound sturgeon last season; the one with the 32 pounds of caviar. Well, he did it again! He successfully hooked and landed a 90-pound sturgeon from practically the same spot.

INCIDENTALLY, I finally received the results of the mercury test from his last year's fish. The amount was very small and with Chet giving all his friends a piece of fish, there was no danger problems.

There were a number of other fish, both sturgeon and bass, taken at the Pumphouse-S.P. buoy areas. Things are picking up. Chet caught his sturgeon on an anchovy.

FOR THE HUNTERS: Duck hunting is generally fair in most areas. Gray Lodge and Sutter provided some top shooting with their Oct. 30 late opening. Norm Quadros took a limit at Grizzly Island last Wednesday and he said he wasn't shooting up to par. Lots of canvasbacks noted around the bay. Don't forget the limit on cans this year statewide is two birds.

On Saturday, pheasant season opens. The season runs from Nov. 13 through Dec. 5 statewide. In some of the southern counties, hens may be taken, but in all local areas and the balance of the state only males can be taken. Two male pheasants per day on Nov. 13 and 14, four males per day on Nov. 15 through Dec. 5, but not more than ten males per season. Hunters may possess four pheasants on the second day of the hunting season.

I received a note from the Kiwanis Club of Tule Lake. Here it is:

PHEASANT HUNTERS hunting for a place to hunt when the season opens Nov. 13, are made a good offer by the Kiwanis Club of Tulelake, in Siskiyou County.

"The annual Pheasant Hunt and Key Club Breakfast the following morning, Nov. 14, will again be sponsored by the Tulelake Kiwanis Club, reports Leonard O. Weber, Kiwanis Hunt Club Chairman.

"The club has sponsored the subscription hunt for several years and makes available thousands of acres of private farm lands to participating hunters.

"This year's autumn top upland bird attraction will blast off at 8 a.m. Saturday, November 13, and run through December 5.

"For additional information on the upcoming pheasant season, write for your application from to, Leonard Weber, Tulelake Kiwanis Hunt Club, P. O. Box 2, Tulelake, California, 96134. It could mean a season's limit of ringnecks in your freezer."

20-6 loss to St. Ignatius of San Francisco. Regardless of Donohoe's status, the Trojans will miss the versatile Mike Sabel, out with a hip pointer. The combination end-halfback was a valuable cog in the Terra Linda offensive machine.

Without him, the running responsibilities will fall on backs Sean Casey and Doug Long. Each has enjoyed outstanding moments this annum.

Conversely, the Drake Pirates have healthy stallions to prance out Friday. Halfback Phil Wilkinson and fullback Rick Bozzio head this parade, backed strongly by Dave DeMoss and Rick Herbert.

In this year of the running back, Redwood also stands out. The Giants will trot out Mark Asiano, Mike Connor, Daryl Edralin and Jay Lehman, hoping to hand Tam its ninth consecutive defeat. The Indians will attempt to counter with a sound running assault of its own led by Craig Marshall, Don Parker, Alvin Price, and Clifford Hall. Quarterback Pat Locey adds another dimension with his successful scrambling antics, while alternate signal caller Tim Nowell brings a strong arm into vogue.

Marin Catholic will try to collect its seventh straight triumph at O'Connell's expense. If Bruno Banducci's charges pull it off, this would complete quite a reversal from the 0-2 start this fall.

The Wildcats of Kentfield will pin its hopes on a precocious defense and a quarterbacking combination of Steve Sherry and Steve Schaumleffel. Each has excelled at various points throughout the year. The offense also sports halfbacks Lane Cozza and Rick Cervisi, a consistent pair who came through when tailback Pat Parnow was injured. The outstanding tailback's return Saturday would conceivably enhance the Wildcat's chances of notching that sought-after seventh win.

PREP OF THE WEEK

Quiet Doar Leads By Example

When San Marin High School was seeking to protect a hard-earned 12-8 lead Saturday against Tamalpais High in the waning moments, the loser's of 13 straight football games reached deep into the team's playbook for appropriate calls.

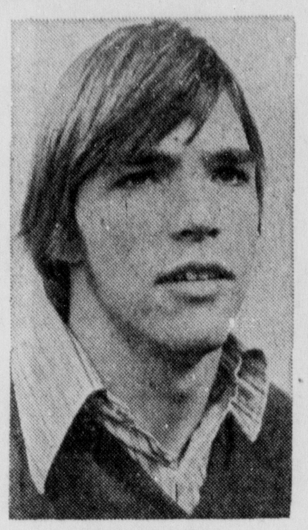
The sequences which followed in the waning moments were predictable — Fred Doar over left guard and Fred Doar over-right guard. For diversity, Fred Doar went up the middle.

The results were a 12-8 victory for San Marin and Independent-Journal recognition as the top prep player of the week for Fred Doar. The 6-foot-2, 185-pound junior fullback completed the highly satisfying afternoon of heroics with 108 yards in 16 carries, which speaks loudly for a man of few words.

"Fred is a quiet guy, but he is a leader," said San Marin coach Bob Martin. "He leads by example, and the other players selected him captain of the team this year."

Doar just about grew up with football. His father was a lineman for the University of New Mexico's Sun Bowl team in 1946, and both brothers are currently playing football — Jeff with Sinaloa Junior High and Mark for the San Marin Colts in the Pop Warner League.

Football takes up a lot of Fred's time, but he is still able to stay involved in his hobby — motorcycling. Dirt bike riding, to be specific. "It's a lot more fun than street riding," he says. "You can just go. Greg Sherwood (San Marin teammate) and I both have dirt bikes."



FRED DOAR
Clutch runner

College football certainly enters into Fred's plans. "I'd like to go to a football school, possibly back east." He was born in Wisconsin and lived for seven years near Cleveland, Ohio, before his father was transferred to this area by the Hills Bros. Coffee Co.

"Fred has the potential to be a major college football player," said Martin. "We'd like to see him work with the weights and get up to maybe 210 pounds next year. He's one of the hardest hitters on the team — he runs so hard in practice, our kids hate to tackle him."

With a 3.8 grade-point average, Doar could make it into virtually any school.

This season, Doar has averaged 4.6 yards a carry, gaining 427 yards on 97 tries. He also starts at linebacker on defense.

Doar is a valuable cog in Martin's developing defense. This young unit will be back next year, and Doar is one reason why big things are expected from the 1972 San Marin defenders. Throughout this year, Martin lauded Doar for helping to mold the linebacking corps into the heart of the highly regarded defense. Marin County Athletic League observers pointed to Doar's sure-tackling abilities and overall strength.

This type of versatility, which manifests in both his offensive and defensive play, carries over into two other sports, notably basketball and track.

He was a forward for San Marin's junior varsity cage team last year, and in track did the triple jump, 220-yard relay, 440 relay and mile relay.

This kind of agility and athletic prowess, combined with his aggressiveness and potential for size, stamp Fred Doar as one of the finest high school football players in Marin County.

COAST FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Stanford middle linebacker Jeff Siemon is the Pacific 8 Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

Siemon, called by his coach the best linebacker in the country, called the signals for the Stanford defense and contributed eight primary stops and five assists as the Indians cinched the Rose Bowl with a 20-9 win over UCLA.

Previously, Oregon's Bobby Moore was named offensive player for his 94 yards rushing and 112 yards on pass receptions in Oregon's win over Air Force.

California

BERKELEY (UPI) — California drilled for only an hour Monday as coach Ray Willsey cut the practice schedule to give his team a "needed rest."

Willsey said the Bears had their usual "bumps and bruises" after a 30-7 loss Saturday to Washington, but may be in better shape for Saturday's game against Oregon in Eugene.

Running back Isaac Curtis, who scored Cal's only touchdown against the Huskies with a 63-yard gallop late in the game, was excused from practice. He picked up his wife Dianne from the UC Medical center where she had a baby girl Saturday.

Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) —The Rose Bowl-bound Stanford Indians had a leisurely workout Monday to begin preparation for a game Saturday with San Jose State.

Workouts were on an informal basis, he said, featuring weight lifting and exercises.

Southern California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tailback Sam Cunningham is out for the season for the University of Southern California football team and will undergo surgery to repair injuries to knee ligaments he suffered Saturday.

The Trojans still are hopeful that running back Charles Hinton, who received rib injuries, would be available for Saturday's game against Washington. Hinton, however, did not practice Monday.

Expansion Plans Top NHL Meeting

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — The expansion of the National Hockey League to Long Island and Atlanta is expected to be recommended today at the completion of a two-day meeting of the NHL's Board of Governors.

Such expansion would block the scheme of the proposed World Hockey Association, whose plans are based on having a team play in the 15,000-seat Nassau Coliseum slated for completion next year.

Farm Director Seghi Quits Oakland A's

OAKLAND (UPI) —Phil Seghi, director of farm operations and scouting for the Oakland Athletics for the past four seasons, resigned Monday to "look elsewhere for a new opportunity."

Seghi insisted there was "no dispute with Mr. Finley (Charlie, owner of the A's) and no animosity. He has been very kind to me."

SPORT SHORTS

Baseball

NEW YORK — The World Series payoff pie was divided Monday and each member of the winning Pittsburgh Pirates received a slice worth $18,164.58. Members of the losing Baltimore Orioles were awarded $13,906.46.

The San Francisco Giants and Oakland Athletics, West Division champions who lost in the playoffs, split $217,790.66. Individual shares for the A's amounted to $6,365.58, while Giant players will receive $6,198.29 each.

Bowling

ROCHESTER, N.Y — Veteran righthander Johnny Guenther, down by 51 pins midway through the final phase of the Mercury Open, bounced back to capture his sixth Professional Bowlers Association title Monday night, winning the $40,000 event by a 278-pin margin.

Arthur Ashe Up To Fifth In Rankings

DALLAS (UPI)—Arthur Ashe jumped from seventh to fifth place in the World Championship Tennis point standings by winning the Stockholm Open, according to latest figures released Monday.

Ashe's victory over Czech Jan Kodes in the finals gave Ashe $10,000 and 10 WCT points virtually assuring him a spot in the $100,000 playoffs that will decide this year's professional tennis champion.

The championship matches begin next week in Houston and the only person not sure of a spot in the runoffs is Bob Lutz of Tiburon.

Lutz has 39 points and his only serious challenger for the No. 8 spot is Andres Gimeno of Spain. Gimeno has 30 points and if he could win this week's Italian Indoor Championships at Bologna and if Lutz is eliminated in the first round, Gimeno would replace Lutz as the eighth and final entry in the championship tournament.

The first rounds of the $100,000 playoff will be held Nov. 18, 19, and 21 in Houston. The finals, which will be televised nationally, will be held Nov. 26 in Dallas.

The eight WCT players with the most points at the end of the season compete for the $50,000 first prize in the final tournament. The current point standings with only the Italian tournament left:

Rod Laver, Australia, 77.25 points; Tom Okker, Netherlands, 73 points; Ken Rosewall, Australia, 70 points; Cliff Drysdale, South Africa, 67.25 points; Ashe, United States, 61.25 points; John Newcombe, Australia, 60 points; Marty Riessen, United States, 53 points; and Lutz, United States, 39 points.

Roy Emerson of Australia is currently in ninth place with 34 points but will not be able to overtake Lutz.

Frazier Ready For Ali But. . .

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier said Monday he would like to fight Muhammed Ali again next year but predicted it might be two or three years before they could have a rematch.

"There's a lot of legal aspects, problems with contracts," Fraxier said. "It might not be until '73 or '74. I'm ready anyway."

He did not specify the "problems."

Frazier, appearing on a syndicated television show from inside the Ohio Penitentiary, admitted he was "about 10 pounds overweight" at 225 pounds.

About 250 of the 1,840 inmates at the maximum security prison were in the audience, and one of them asked Frazier why he usually refers to Ali by his former name, Cassius Clay, instead of his chosen Muslim name.

"I don't do it to be disrespectful," Frazier said. "I'm just a little more clever than him. I do it to make him angry.

"He'll call me tomorrow and say, 'Joe Frazier — I'm gonna get you.' "

"He's liable to tell you anything," Frazier responded. "As far as he was concerned, he wasn't even down."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Capital Gain Of Firm Is Sluggish

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I would very much appreciate your view on Midland-Ross. My 500 shares cost $39 and I am wondering about averaging down. — R.M.

A. A disappointing third quarter — 10 cents a share vs. 49 cents in the 1970 quarter — casts doubt on the security of Midland's 35-cent quarterly dividend rate. Market sentiment on this score is indicated by the excessive 7.8 per cent current yield now available in these shares. For the 9 months, sales receded 2.6 per cent while net income plunged 29 per cent.

Midland, a cyclical issue, produces capital goods, automotive products, railroad equipment and construction materials. The first two categories account for about two-thirds of company production. While the investment tax credit, if enacted, would boost earnings, Midland's products are such that substantial lead time is required before installation. Thus meaningful profit gains would probably not accrue before late 1972.

The company's Midrex division, which produces metallized pellets for the steel industry, has above-average long-term potential. Plant capacity will be doubled to 800,000 tons annually by 1973.

Midland acquired 50,000 of its own shares in October when trading was at the 10-21 level. Although much of the bad news has been discounted, shares are vulnerable to further erosion in a down market, thus additional purchases should be timed accordingly.

Q. Could you discuss American Standard. It seems to get no place although it is heavily traded. What other plumbing issues would you recommend? — E.K. & G.N.

A. American Standard is the leading manufacturer of plumbing equipment; other major producers include Borg-Warner, Crane Co. and Kohler. A drop in third quarter net marks the eighth consecutive decline in American's interim earnings. In announcing its deteriorating results, management stated that a substantial loss will be reported for the year.

A complete restructuring, including disposal of one-fifth of assets, elimination of certain products, plant closings and a 45 per cent reduction of debt is planned for the next few years. Crane Co. appears to be the most promising of the plumbing issues.

Savings Loan Association's New Name

Colonial Savings and Loan Association offices in Novato and Tiburon have undergone their third name change as a result of this firm's merger into Home Savings and Loan Association.

Originally Novato Savings and Loan, the two offices were named Franciscan Savings and Loan about three years ago and later were purchased by Colonial.

The seven-branch Colonial Bay Area operation, headquartered in San Francisco, joins Walnut Creek Savings and Loan and San Mateo County Savings and Loan in becoming part of the Home Savings chain. Other Colonial branches in Southern California are expected to be added to the network by the end of the year.

Home is the largest savings and loan association in the United States and now has over $4 billion in assets.

Food Sale Hike

SANTA MONICA (BW) — Host International Inc., the world's largest operator of airport terminal food, beverage and merchandise facilities, has reported sales for the nine-month period ended Sept. 30 increased to $84,417,000 compared with $82,397,000 for the like period in 1970.

DALLAS (BW) — Southland Paper Mills Inc. has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering the proposed sale of 500,000 shares of common stock.

Southland, headquartered in Lufkin, Tex., is an integrated manufacturer of pulp and paper products, principally newsprint, Kraft papers and groundwood specialty papers. Southland has papermills in Lufkin and Houston.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Helene Fly Looking For Quarters For Manufacturing Soap

Now well into production and marketing a new product and looking for a permanent manufacturing location is Helene Fly of Novato, co-founder and first president of Zolene, Inc. and its line of cosmetics that launched Holiday Magic on its course.

Mrs. Fly, under her present corporate name of Helene's Formulas, Inc., is now turning out a clear glycerine soap "in 12 delicious flavors" with the help of her two daughters. She already has this in the hands of distributors and in the stores. Brand name is Nature's Way.

From all indications it appears she will be as successful with soaps as she was with her famous skin creams.

NEWLY OPENED LAW OFFICES are those of Barrett and Keyes at 4340 Redwood Highway, Northgate Industrial Park.

Martin E. Barrett of Larkspur was formerly a lawyer-editor at Commerce Clearing House. Vincent E. Keyes has had his practice in San Francisco and probably will be moving from that city to Marin.

Lease negotiations were handled by William W. Hoey Co.

SAID TO BE the only all-woman-staffed finance company office in the county is American Finance Co., 1417 Fourth Street, San Rafael, which has been here about six years.

Staff consists of Christine Dippon of Sonoma, office manager; Sylvia Senter of San Rafael, cashier; and Betty Dominguez of San Rafael, assistant manager.

This seems to be a trend of American Finance, which is based at Silver Springs, Md. It now has 24 women managers.

WRONG CORNER: The new Mobilgas service station will be located at the southwest corner of Lincoln and Mission avenues, San Rafael — not the southeast corner as reported in this column on Nov. 4.

TWO MARIN MEN, Richard A. Drever Jr. of Mill Valley and Mark A. Lechowski of San Rafael, have been named senior associates at the San Francisco architectural firm of Rex Whitaker Allen and Associates.

Drever

Lechowski

Drever, who is in charge of management for the firm, joined Allen in 1963. He has served as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission of the Tamalpais Community Services District and is a director of the district.

Lechowski, who is director of design, joined the firm in 1964. He had design responsibility for two hospitals which won the 1971 annual design award of Progressive Architecture magazine.

Both men have been associated with the conception of design of several major hospitals in Northern California.

REAL ESTATE: Peter Fitzhugh of Ross has joined the San Rafael sales staff of Frank Howard Allen and Co. he is a commercial and investment property specialist and was previously with William S. Johnstone, Inc. of Tiburon.

MOTORCRAFT: Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael Volkswagen dealer, will hold its annual European Tourist and Travel Night next Friday at 8 p.m., when auto touring in Europe will be discussed in movies, color slides and by speakers Leo S. Noah and Don McPherson, who will answer questions on transportation from the U.S., auto delivery in Europe and offer another tour suggestions

Stan Wisnes of Isi-Wisnes, Inc., San Rafael recently took part in a big truck driveaway promotion at International Harvester's plant in San Leandro which generated orders for more than 500 International trucks.

Gross Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — National Bankamericard Inc. reported a third quarter gross volume Monday of $871.49 million, compared with $704.35 million for the same period a year ago.

Early Hour Stocks Show Slight Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) —Gold mining and selected electronic issues paced a small advance on the New York Stock Exchange through the first two hours of trading today.

Motors and airlines generally tacked on fractions, while steels, chemicals, oils, rails and aircrafts traded in narrowly irregular fashion.

The Pay Board, one of the units responsible for establishing guidelines for the administration's Phase Two Economic program, voted Monday to hold future pay increases to about 5.5 per cent and bar most workers from collecting wages lost during President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze which ends Nov. 13. The move, bitterly opposed by labor, raised the question of whether labor representatives will continue to participate on the board.

On Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was ahead around 3 points at 840.61, and advances topped declines, 727 to 384, among the 1,433 issues crossing the tape.

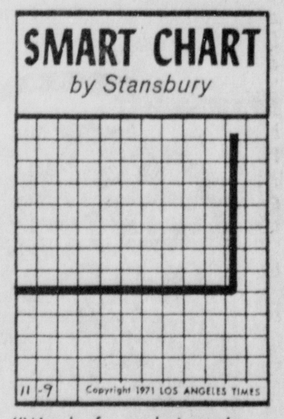
Prices also pointed higher in light trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were TWA warrants up 3-8 on a volume of around 30,000, Syntex more than a point higher on 18,000 shares, and Presley Development fractionally higher on 15,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Bausch & Lomb and IBM gained more than 2 apiece.

Gold mining shares up a point or so were Dome Mines and American-South African Investment.

Also a point or so higher were Polaroid, Xerox, Walt Disney, and Northwest Airlines.



"Word of our chairman's retirement has leaked."

Credit Plan

LOS ANGELES (BW) — National Airlines has entered into a new $175 million credit agreement with its regular group of lending banks led by Chemical Bank.

Real Estate Syndication and Financial Planning

Lack of predictability in mutual fund and stock market investments, together with the "non-inflation proof" returns of saving institutions, are causing many investors to turn to real estate, and real estate syndication.

As much as we believe in real estate syndication for TAX SHELTER, HIGH INCOME, CAPITAL GAINS and EQUITY ACCUMULATION, we discourage such investments made without knowledgeable and competent financial planning.

Our expertise in these areas has previously been available only on a private client basis, but is now expanded to include public offerings.

IMMEDIATE REPLACEMENT BATTERY GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees this battery to be free from defects in material and workmanship. If this battery fails to hold a charge Montgomery Ward will: 1. For 90 days from purchase, replace the battery free. 2. After 90 days, to the end of the guarantee period specified, replace the battery, charging a prorated amount—based on time since purchase—of the regular no trade-in selling price then in effect. Batteries used in commercial vehicles are guaranteed on a similar prorata basis for half of the normally specified term. For service under this guarantee, return battery with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

SALVAGE WORK IN A FIRE-RAVAGED HOME

David Irving picks through the rubble of the living room of his parents' home in Tamalpais Valley, ruined by fire yesterday. Damage to the dwelling, at 511 Shasta Way, and contents was estimated at $50,000. Firemen said the blaze, which broke out in a short-circuited lamp in the living room about 2:30 p.m., was discovered by 8-year-old Jack Irving, another son of the owners of the home, the E. J. Irvings, upon returning home from school. The house was unoccupied at the time.

Ecology Plan Is Beaten

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An omnibus Assembly-approved bill creating a single new super agency to fight all the state's pollution battles has been defeated by a Senate committee.

The action by the Governmental Organization Committee leaves a controversial coastline protection bill as the session's only major environmental legislation still alive. And, its future is doubtful.

The committee killed the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, on an overwhelming 3-6 vote Monday and then swiftly rejected two other Assembly-passed bills.

One, by speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, would have empowered the Lands Commission to crack down harder on offshore oil development while the second by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, proposed a moratorium on zoning changes which would increase population density in the scenic Santa Monica Mountains.

DEFEAT DENOUNCED

Defeat of the Z'berg bill was denounced by the conservationist Californians for Environmental Quality as a victory for a "small clique of special interests" which forced "its will on the whole population by manipulating a sensitive bottleneck in the legislature."

The bill would have abolished many antipollution agencies such as the Air Resources and Water Resources Control boards and replaced them with a single "Environmental Quality Board" and a series of satellite regional boards. The boards of "environmental experts" would administer day-today pollution-fighting efforts and enforce laws and rules to protect the natural environment.

There was no testimony on any of the bills because each had been heard previously by the committee at public meetings.

"The bill is still with us," Dills told Z'berg.

TURNED BACK

Moretti's bill was turned back on a 5-2 vote with eight needed for approval. It would have added two public members to the three-member State Lands Commission and allowed the agency to close down oil development operations offshore when they posed an "unreasonable risk of pollution or contamination" to fish, swimmers, the coast, water, navigation and recreation or residential areas.

Additionally, certain sections of the Santa Barbara Channel would have been placed off limits to award of future leases for oil development. An oil sanctuary around the Channel Islands already has been proposed in a bill by Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, which has already been approved.

The opposition votes were by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-Railroad Flat, and Dills. Casting favorable votes were Harmer, Kennick, Mills, Stevens and Way.

On a split 5-5 vote, the committee defeated Sieroty's bill proposing the moratorium until a special commission investigating preservation of the Los Angeles-Ventura Mountains makes its recommendations to the legislature next year.

Sieroty also is author of the only surviving coastline protection bill which would establish an agency empowered to prohibit certain kinds of developments until a master plan for coastal preservation was drafted for legislative approval.

The measure is scheduled for a vote next week in the Senate Natural Resources Committee which previously killed four other coastline bills.

Pattersons To Seek Another Center Spot

Lucas Valley homeowners today won their battle to keep the Renaissance Pleasure Faire and cultural center from locating on the Grady Ranch property.

Phyllis and Ronald Patterson, creators of the Pleasure Faire, announced they had decided against appealing Marin County Planning Commission denial of their rezoning application for the 1,000-acre ranch off Lucas Valley Road.

Instead, the Pattersons revealed, the Pleasure Faire will return to the Black Point site for 1972, while they hunt for another permanent site in Marin County.

"The villain was the automobile," the Pattersons said.

They added, "The concern shown ... over traffic problems" at the Lucas Valley site "has given us reason to pause in our efforts ... We had hoped that, even assuming some traffic inconvenience once a year, this might be accepted as a small price to pay to preserve the beautiful Grady property and to create the (Renaissance Study and Cultural) Center which would benefit Marin year-round."

The planning commission rejected the rezoning on Nov. 1, and the Pattersons had until 5 p.m. yesterday to file an appeal with the board of supervisors. But the deadline passed without a protest.

Last month, in a stormy hearing before Deputy County Zoning Administrator Harvey E. Bragdon, the Pattersons won a use permit for the center and fair at the Grady Ranch, conditional on obtaining commercial rezoning of the property.

The Pattersons plan to buy the ranch hinged on county approval of development plans.

Besides objections over potential traffic congestion, opponents contended the development would mar the residential character of the valley. About 350 valley residents appeared at the Nov. 1 commission meeting, many of them wearing armbands and buttons proclaiming "Unfaire."

The Pattersons said they had received many calls and letters urging them not to give up in seeking a Marin County site for the center and Pleasure Faire.

"We were delighted that — even in turning down our application for the Lucas Valley site based on traffic (on Nov. 1) all those who expressed themselves ... at the hearing were unanimous in their praise of the Faire and the center," the Pattersons reported.

Bolinas-Stinson Plan Is Junked

By ERIK M. INGRAM

At the urging of about 100 West Marin residents, the Marin County Planning Commission last night junked the Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan in favor of something more restrictive to growth.

Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo, in moving that the 1961 plan be scrapped, also won commission support for a proposed interim ordinance to restrict, if not halt, growth in the two seaside communities until a new plan is adopted.

Details of the temporary ordinance were not discussed, county planning officials indicating proposals would be considered at a future commission session.

The commission, accused by some earlier in the evening of showing no apparent concern over the future of the communities, was loudly applauded following the roll-call vote.

Its action still must be rati-

Aqueduct Mini-Plan In Sonoma

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The proposed Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct water plan was officially scrapped yesterday and a small-scale plan to serve Southern Sonoma and North Marin was recommended to the Sonoma County Water Agency.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, sitting as water agency directors, heard chief engineer Gordon Miller recommend construction of a new pipeline to Southern Sonoma to meet water needs there and in North Marin on a short-term basis to 1974 or 1975.

Miller said the aqueduct plan was rejected, in effect, when voters in Marin Municipal Water district last Tuesday defeated a proposal to contract for large amounts of future water from the Russian River.

Miller said the new plan would involve a pipeline from the Russian River to the Rohnert Park-Cotati area to connect with the present north-south supply line.

He said this would supply additional water to Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati, Sonoma State College and North Marin. It would also provide an additional five million gallons per day to be pumped north from Cotati to meet growing water needs in Santa Rosa.

The board directed Miller to meet with agencies it supplies water with to get their reaction to the plan. The agency supplies water on a contract basis with Petaluma, the North Marin Water District, Santa Rosa, Sonoma, Valley of the Moon and Forestville.

Ruling On Women Pensions Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with a lower court ruling that pension plans compelling women workers to retire at an earlier age than men is a civil rights violation.

In another action, the Court let stand a circuit court decision that airlines cannot impose a "women only" qualification for the job of flight attendant without violating the Civil Rights Law against sexual discrimination.

The pension order came in the form of a brief order without comment. It left standing an appeals court decision which is technically binding only in the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin which that circuit contains.

But it could have widespread implications if and when suits on behalf of women's rights are decided in other areas of the country.

The ruling on behalf of an Indiana woman brewery employe came from the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which said that forcing women to retire earlier than men "is tantamount to discharge" on the basis of sex and thus violates the 1964 Civil Rights Law.

In the airlines case, the Su-

Democrats Get Remap Support

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Senate Republicans have registered a favorable reaction to the latest Democratic reapportionment plan which GOP leaders say could be approved by Friday.

But Assembly Republicans Monday rejected the latest Democratic-sponsored proposal after reviewing it behind closed doors.

Senate Republicans discussed the Democratic proposal but decided to analyze it further before saying publicly they are satisfied. Several GOP lawmakers indicated they were pleased with it.

"My initial reaction is very positive," said GOP Caucus Chairman John L. Harmer of Glendale. He said a final vote on the bill could come before Friday.

Senate Republican floor leader Fred Marler Jr. of Redding agreed. Both Marler and Harmer were recipients of major shifts in the latest Democratic plan, which they both appeared to like.

"It looks promising," said Marler. "My initial reaction is favorable."

Harmer's proposed new seat would be entirely within Los Angeles County. Under the previous plan he would also have represented portions of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Ventura counties.

Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield, under the latest proposal, would cut through a corridor from his Kern County district to the coast to embrace the University of California at Isla Vista.

San. Donald L. Grunsky, R-Watsonville, would drop down from Monterey County to pick up the sections of San Luis Obispo County taken from Harmer. Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, would represent the sections of Ventura County vacated by Harmer.

Marler would take in Lake County in his proposed new district. Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, who now represents Lake, would have to make up the population he lost by surrendering the county to Marler by extending his district into the Benecia area.

Sen. William Coombs, R-Rialto, would get a district composed entirely of San Bernardiono County. To accomplish this, it would affect Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter, whose proposed East Central Valley District would have to be revised.

Under the earlier plan, Way was to have represented parts of San Bernardino County, but instead he will swing over to Santa Clara County. Sen. George Zenovich, D-Fresno, would return entirely to the central valley near Fresno.

Lagomarsino and Republican Sen. Robert S. Stevens of Los Angeles must still decide which

5.5 Pct. Line Drawn On Future Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In the most comprehensive government-imposed wage policy since the Korean war, the Pay Board Monday voted to hold future pay increases to about 5.5 per cent and bar most workers from collecting wages they lost during President Nixon's 90-day freeze.

The decision was made over bitter, united labor opposition.

The board also agreed to let most contracts negotiated before or during the freeze take effect unchanged when the controls are lifted at midnight Saturday.

It was the most important decision yet on Phase 2 of Nixon's new economic policy. The Cost of Living Council could announce today what industries will be covered during the extended controls, and the Price Commission is expected to announce its standards by the end of the week.

The post-freeze wage rules were approved 10-5 with labor voting against and industry and public members in favor.

"It means they nullified our contracts" said AFL-CIO President George Meany after the two-hour meeting. Meany said he would take the issue to Miami where meetings preceding the AFL-CIO annual convention were getting underway this week.

The five union presidents on the Pay board did not rule out an eventual walkout —a tactic they used on similar pay boards during World War II and the Korean War.

For the present, however, they were expected to attend the next meeting Thursday which will set up rules for enforcing the new wage policy.

The union leaders were also expected to take their case to Congress, where the retroactive pay principle overturned by the Pay Board majority has received important endorsement from the House Banking Committee and Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the administration is optimistic that labor will not boycott the Pay Board and that public support for Nixon's economic policy will remain high.

Tiburon Approves Of Hilarita Housing

By GEORGE NEVIN

A three-year battle ended last night as the Tiburon City Council gave final approval to reconstruction of the Hilarita housing project.

Capping a three-hour hearing on the controversial $2.8 million project, the council first beat back an attempt to delay the development and then voted 4-1 to approve precise plans.

Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, long a foe of the 112-unit moderate income project, cast the lone dissenting vote after sponsoring an unsuccessful move to delay the project for two weeks.

At first, Mayor Denis T. Rice supported the delay, which Fanning asked in order to have a consultant check figures which justified construction of 112 units rather than a lower number. But he then switched and voted with the majority on the final motion.

The stage was set for last night's encounter two weeks ago when a three-member council heard arguments on the project and then postponed action until the return of the full council last night.

The outcome of last night's drama, which was played before an audience of perhaps 200 in the Reed School gymnasium, was in doubt until closing moments of the debate, when Rice announced he would vote for the oft-criticized project which will replace barracks-like structures built at Hilarita during World War II.

As at previous hearings, Fanning questioned the need for 112 units on eight acres and said he preferred 56 units, a figure

Fear 52 Dead In Air Crash

LEGHORN, Italy (UPI)—A U.S.-built Royal Air Force transport plane, ferrying 46 Italian paratroopers and six British airmen to a joint maneuver in Sardinia, crashed into the Tyrrhenian Sea today. All on board were presumed dead.

It was the worst peacetime air tragedy in Italian military history.

Daylight Holdup In San Rafael

Two holdup men entered the gift shop at Mission St. Raphael in San Rafael yesterday, ordered a clerk to the floor and fled with $24, police said.

Clerk Marie C. Smith told officers the men entered the Fifth Avenue shop about 2:15 p.m., and one brandished a pistol. They cut the store's telephone line and made her lie on the floor, she said.

The intruders ran out with $24 from the store's register, with Mrs. Smith close behind, blowing a whistle for help. But the men, described as dark-looking and in their 20s, escaped.

Meatcutters May Strike

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)-The National Meatcutters Union called for consideration of a general strike Tuesday in protest of President Nixon's pay board's decision to outlaw retroactive pay raises and place a 5.5 per cent ceiling on future wage hikes.

The half-million member union also urged AFL-CIO President George Meany and other labor members of the payboard to resign from the board.

School Prayer Issue 'Will Be Back'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "We've interred the issue," said Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler of Monday's House vote against amending the Constitution to put prayer back in public schools. "But I suspect that in a few years it will be back."

Sponsors of the rejected amendment proposal said the issue would not be dormant that long. They promised to take it to the polls in 1972 where they will seek to defeat members who, as they put it, "voted against prayer in school."

Mrs. Ben Ruhlin, the Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, housewife and mother who spearheaded the long campaign that climaxed in Monday's losing vote, said funds would be raised to buy billboard space in the districts of all 162 members whose "no" votes sent the amendment down the drain.

Although 240 other members voted for it, a two-thirds vote was required, and the proposal lost by 28 votes.

Rep. Don Clausen, R-First District, voted for the amendment. Rep. William Mailliard, R-Sixth District, voted against.

The amendment, as drafted and forced to the floor by Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Ohio, was intended to dilute Supreme Court decisions of 1962 and 1963 that barred a state-prescribed prayer in New York, daily Bible reading in Pennsylvania, and a daily recitation of the Lord's Prayer at the opening of schools in Baltimore.

Though in each case it has been held that any child could be excused, the court held the practices in violation of the Constitution's First Amendment which precludes official "establishment" of religion and guarantees religious freedom.

Wylie's proposed amendment would have upheld the right to participate in "nondenominational" prayer in schools and other tax supported buildings. Opponents saw this as a threat to the First Amendment and when its prospective defeat was apparent Wylie accepted revised wording by Rep. John Buchanan, R-Ala., to substitute the word "voluntary" for "nondenominational" and to add "meditation" as an alternative to prayer.

Opponents argued that this either meant nothing, in which case it need not be passed, or something, in which event it could only muddy the legal waters and create confusion.

38 Seized In Belfast Roundup

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Nearly 1,000 British troops swept through Roman Catholic areas of Belfast today rounding up security suspects, guns, explosives and a large quantity of ammunition, army spokesmen said.

Many of the 38 persons seized were on the army's wanted list of Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspects, a spokesman said. The army blames the IRA for much of the violence in the six northern counties called Ulster.

Gunmen fired on British soldiers in Belfast and members of the Ulster Defense Regiment on a freeway outside the Northern Ireland capital.

No casualties were reported, the spokesmen said.

Procunier Calls For 'Mini' Prison Study

TRACY (UPI)—State prisons chief Raymond Procunier has suggested California try a pilot program to evaluate the "mini" prison idea suggested in a recent federally financed study of California's penal system.

The board, which devoted most of its session to a discussion of the three-volume report on California's prison system, took no action on Procunier's suggestion.

Procunier, director of the Department of Corrections, said the recommendation that the state use smaller community-based prisons be tested to see "if this community stuff is all that it is cracked up to be."

"I think it is," Procunier said.

Oakland criminologist Robert E. Keldgord, who compiled the report for the board, said small local facilities were preferable because "you can deal with an offender most advantageously to him and to society if you keep him in the community."

He said it was important in rehabilitation "not to cut the inmate's ties to the community."

But board member Michael N. Canlis, sheriff of San Joaquin County, argued that local communities would be "totally unprepared" to support a modern sophisticated prison system.

The board did not discuss the more controversial suggestions in the prison study, including suggestions that San Quentin and Folsom prisons be closed, conjugal visits be allowed at all prisons and convict living conditions be upgraded.

James M. Hall, secretary of the Human Relations Agency and chairman of the board, said he hoped to complete the board's recommendations on the report by January for submission to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The board has scheduled a series of meetings at California prisons as part of its investigation of the report's findings. The next board meeting is scheduled for Nov. 22 at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville.

Onassis Gets Out Of Contract

ATHENS (UPI)—The Greek military regime has decided to release Aristotle Onassis from a $600 million contract calling for establishment of a huge industrial complex in return for an oil refinery concession.

The contract took nearly two years to negotiate and within months after it was signed in January, 1970, Onassis asked for its revision and an increase in oil prices for the refinery.

When the government failed to meet his demands, Onassis turned to international arbitration which was provided for in the contract and asked for his letter of guarantee and $8.3 million to cover his expenses during the preparatory phases of the agreement.

15 Die In Escape

MANILA (UPI) — Nineteen prisoners with fire bombs tried to escape from the Philippine national prison Monday night but 15 of them were killed by guards.

Quang Tri B52 Sortie 1st In Year

SAIGON (UPI) —Waves of Air Force B52 bombers swept in to smash Communist antiaircraft positions and supply bunkers just seven miles south of the main headquarters for the demilitarized zone (DMZ) defense line at Quang Tri city today.

It was the first time in at least one year the eight-engine bombers had flown strikes in the rolling, sparsely jungled foothills of the Annamite Mountains overlooking the northern coastal plain and Highway 1, the main north-south traffic artery below the DMZ.

Spokesmen said two waves of B52s—at least six warplanes—dropped about 180 tons of bombs on the guerrilla positions, about one mile apart and roughly five miles east of the highway.

The targets were listed initially as "about 10 supply bunkers in each location," but spokesmen later said allied helicopters had reported taking antiaircraft fire from the area in the past several days.

The site was seven miles south of Quang Tri Combat Base which overlooks the major land connection between Quanz Tri, headquarters of the South Vietnamese 1st Division.

Amchitka Site Land Caves In

AMCHITKA, Alaska (UPI) — The land immediately above the site of the most powerful U.S. underground nuclear test in history collapsed Monday into a huge crater. The collapse was caused by shift of earth that registered 5 on the Richter Scale.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spokesman Dave Jackson said the ground movement which occurred 38 hours after Saturday's blast 5,975 feet below had been expected. The five-megaton explosion formed an 800-foot diameter cavity more than one-mile below the ground's surface.

"No radiation escaped," Johnson said. "But when the cavity cooled and pressure inside it decreased, the earth above it collapsed and filled the cavity."

There was some seismic activity at the site until the collapse, then it ceased, he said.

Two dead seals and two dead sea otters were found Monday, Jackson said, adding that all the animals had sustained internal injuries.

Thirteen dead birds of various species were found, he said, but none were of species considered endangered.

"One Peregrine Falcon nest and five eagle nests were destroyed, but of course the birds are not nesting at this time of year," Jackson said.

He said several hundred rock greenling fish, which live in kelp beds along Amchitka's shoreline, were found dead as were a large number of three spine stickleback fish, a nongame fish living in lakes on Amchitka.

U.N. Debate Postponed By Egypt

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

Cairo's semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said today Egypt has decided to postpone for two weeks the U.N. General Assembly Middle East debate to give four African leaders more time to complete a peace mission.

The four statesmen left Cairo Monday after a week of talks in Israel and Egypt but promised to return after next week for more discussions.

The four leaders—Presidents Leopold Senghor of Senegal and Ahmado Ahidjou of Cameroon, and Gen. Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria and Gen. Joseph Mobutu of Zaire (Congo)—have described their mission as a "last chance" to reach a peaceful solution in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Al Ahram today said that in order not to hinder this mission, Egypt decided to postpone the U.N. debate for two weeks.

The newspaper also announced a change in the Africans' travel plans. The four were scheduled to return to the Middle East next week for a second round of talks. But they now plan to travel to Israel on Nov. 20 and to Cairo Nov. 22.

The statesmen indicated they would submit "definite ideas" to both sides and a series of questions to Israel, Al Ahram said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Marcos Setback

MANILA (UPI) — Voters handed President Ferdinand E. Marcos a major political setback today, electing opposition Liberal party members as mayor of Manila and to a majority of the eight senate seats on the ballot.

With about 20 per cent of the vote in, Ramon D. Bagatsing won the contest for mayor of Manila and his Liberal party comrades were winning in six of the eight senate seats. There are 24 senators and if the final outcome remains unchanged, it would give Marcos' Nacionalists 15 seats, the Liberal party eight and one independent.

Castro To Chile

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro probably will travel the length and breadth of Chile during his visit here beginning tomorrow, diplomatic spokesmen said today. His tour will include visits to two American-owned copper mines nationalized by Chile.

In addition to Santiago and the cities of Antofagasta, Valparaiso and Concepcion, he will fly to Punta Arenas, the southernmost city of the country 1,500 miles south of the capital.

Other scheduled stops during Castro's first visit outside Cuba in seven years include the nationalized Chuquicamata and El Salvador, copper mines in northern Chile.

Top Attraction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, still not officially a candidate for reelection, will be the top attraction tonight at a GOP fund raising effort designed to drum up $5 million for the 1972 campaign.

In the space of a few hours this evening, Nixon will speak to a $500-a-plate dinner in New York, then hop a plane to Chicago to repeat his performance before a similar gathering there.

In each case the appearances will be linked by closed circuit television to a total of 18 other such $500-a-head events. The Republican Party officially has not said how much it expected to raise butWhite House sources said the expected return would be $5 million — to be divided evenly between state candidates and the presidential ticket next year.

Arms Crackdown

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department officials have ordered canceled $3.6 million in export licenses to shut off shipments of military supplies to Pakistan that have continued despite an embargo imposed in April.

The embargo, ordered in the spring, excluded exports that already were in the "pipeline" and actually in the process of being shipped. Some members of Congress strongly criticized this ruling, arguing the administration was taking the side of the Pakistani government in the Central Regime's quarrel with East Pakistani separatists.

Charles W. Bray, a State Department spokesman, said the Monday order cancelling export licenses did not apply to $160,000 worth of spare parts which were aboard ship in New York awaiting shipment to Pakistan.

Consumer Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A strong consumer protection bill that would crack down on deceptive advertising and sales practices and make product warranties more honest was passed by the Senate yesterday.

The senate approved the bill 76 to 2 after defeating by 57 to 24 a Republican-led attempt to amend the legislation to remove a provision that would allow the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to get quick injunctions to stop deceptive ads or sales schemes while a case is decided in court.

Present law allows the practices to continue until a case is decided. This process often takes years.

Base Operation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Communist Chinese set up their first base of operations on U.S. soil in more than 20 years today in three double rooms of a Madison Avenue hotel.

Six Chinese, described as low level administrators, arrived in New York Monday wearing grey-green Mao jackets. Their job was to prepare for the arrival of the Chinese delegation to the United Nations, expected tomorrow.

Huang Hua, Chinese ambassador to Canada who was named Peking's first representative to the U.N. Security Council, was to fly from Ottawa to Paris today to join the rest of the delegation and then fly back with the group to New York.

Peking Plot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign diplomats here report that Lin Piao, who once was groomed as the successor to Mao Tse-tung, has been ousted from power in mainland China and may be dead.

Lin, China's defense minister since 1959, was purged this year when Mao and Premier Chou En-lai rooted out the last vestiges of a military plot to overthrow them, the diplomats said.

They added, however, there were indications that the purge was a post-mortem formality that followed Lin's death in a plane crash in Mongolia.

The report made by the diplomats last night coincided in some respects with rumors that surfaced in September in Hong Kong and elsewhere. At that time, the Peking government prohibited all aircraft operations over China. The ban lasted — with a few exceptions — for seven weeks.

Muskie, HHH Plea For Unity

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The same team that led the Democrats in the 1968 presidential campaign—Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie—officially opened the 1972 race in Northern California Monday night by pleading for party unity and attacking President Nixon.

Muskie and Humphrey, both unannounced candidates for the 1972 presidential nomination, spoke to some 500 persons, including California's top Democratic leaders, at a $100-a-plate dinner sponsored by the Northern California State Central Committee.

Muskie, the Maine senator who is his party's frontrunner for the nomination, warned that any attempt to create a fourth party would result in "a stunning defeat" for the Democrats.

"As Democrats, the things that unite us are so much stronger than the things that divide us," Muskie said. "Surely, then, we can make our party safe for diversity."

Humphrey, the former vice president who won reelection to the Senate from Minnesota, called on "everyone in the party to understand that you can have competition without confrontation."

Two announced candidates for the party's nomination—Sens. Fred Harris of Oklahoma and George McGovern of South Dakota—had been invited to the affair, which was billed as a "Presidential Dinner," but were unable to appear although Mrs. McGovern sat in for her husband.

Muskie and Humphrey both leveled sharp attacks on Nixon.

"The people know that he (Nixon) has not measured up to the leadership America needs," Muskie said. "We must be able to provide that leadership."

Humphrey, who led the Democratic ticket in 1968, called Nixon a "moving target" and said the president has fallen far short of his campaign promise "to bring us together."

"There is more division in this country tonight than there has been in years," Humphrey said.

Muskie, however, cautioned the Democrats not to overemphasize the economy to the exclusion of other foreign and domestic issues in the campaign.

"We need something more than economics to run on," he said, listing tax reform, national health insurance, guaranteed jobs, equal rights and law and order as other "vital issues" the Democrats could "build a coalition for change."

NOVATO HIGH QUEEN CANDIDATES

Lay Teachers Set Vote On Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Secondary Teachers Association said Monday that a strike vote would be taken among lay teachers in the seven high schools operated by the Roman Catholic Church's archdiocese of San Francisco.

Gerald J. Killian, the president, said negotiations had broken down toward replacing a contract that expires this Saturday.

The schools are Cathedral, Riordan and Sacred Heart in San Francisco, Marin Catholic in Kentfield, Serra in San Mateo and Mitty and St. Lawrence in San Jose. They have a total enrollment of 11,500.

Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal at Marin Catholic, said today the lay teachers association membership is kept secret, but he believes it numbers about 13 of the 38 teachers at the Kentfield school. He said classes would continue for the 767 students if a strike results from the vote.

Killian said his group had been offered no raise this year but four per cent the second and four more the third year.

Boy Breaks Leg In Novato Fall

A 13-year-old San Jose Junior High School student received compound right leg fractures in a bicycle fall enroute to the Novato school yesterday morning.

Scott Hunt, son of Mrs. Marian Hunt of 1098 Cambridge Street, Novato, fell from his bicycle near Raphael Village, police said.

He was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital.

Woman Jailed In Swindling

Jackie Dickerson, 23, of San Francisco, was sentenced to six months in Marin County Jail yesterday for grand theft.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed her on probation for a year.

Miss Dickerson and Carol Reide Simpson, 25, were arrested July 2 by Sausalito police who said the pair had duped a Sausalito woman into giving them $6,000 on the pretense they would share with the woman $38,000 they told her they had found.

Both women pleaded guilty to the charge last month and have reimbursed the Sausalito woman, Marie Pasquinucci of 4 Glen Drive, the full $6,300 they had swindled.

Goals Study Session Is Announced

The Mill Valley School District board, criticized in the past by parents unhappy with the district's goals and objectives, served notice last night it will open up the goals question at its next regular meeting.

The criticism has come from more than 1,300 parents and others who signed petitions taking issue with "The trend of education in the district." They have urged a reformation of goals to stress the teaching of basic skills.

Carroll D. Killingsworth, district director of business services, said the board last night agreed to consider reactivating a district goals committee when it meets at 8 p.m., Nov. 22.

The committee was to be reactivated this spring but was not, Killingsworth said, because a Tamalpais High School District goals committee was studying objectives and the Mill Valley board felt it should dovetail its goals with those of the high school district.

Killingsworth said the board delayed acting on a recommendation by Supt. James A. Collins last night that the goals committee be reformed and will consider the question Nov. 22 when trustees also begin discussion of points raised by petitioners at two special meetings and a third set for 8 p.m. next Monday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

AGENTS — Recognized the Mill Valley Teachers Association and Local 1985 of the American Federation of Teachers as official bargaining agents for teachers. Six teacher association members and one AFT representative will be named to the certificated employees council to engage in contract negotiations with the district.

SCHOOL — Heard that the new middle school is 72 per cent complete.

PLAYGROUND — Agreed to allow the Tamalpais Valley School Parent-Teacher Association to level and reseed a portion of the school's playground.

CLOSED — Met in closed session to discuss contract negotiations with teachers.

Saloon's Use Permit May Be Taken Away

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended that the city council start proceedings to revoke a use permit held by the Kokpit Saloon in the Sundown shopping center south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The commission felt that the owner, Nick Morf, who had obtained the permit for a European-type beer parlor, had not fulfilled permit terms, said city planning technician Michael J. Harlock.

If the council approves revoking the permit, the matter would return to the planning commission for final action, he said.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

MOBILE HOMES — Renewed for a year the use permit for a mobile home sales facility at 7530 Redwood Highway.

REZONING — Denied a request to rezone from single-family and agricultural to administrative and professional district three lots at 1805 Novato Boulevard for Jose and Fulia Gonzalez.

CONTINUED — Continued all other items until 8 p.m. next Monday.

Bel Aire Residents Hit Flood Work Lag

Bel Aire Residents complained bitterly today that the county public works department had failed to live up to its obligation to provide flood control protection this year.

Addressing the Marin County Board of Supervisors, one of the protestors, Judy Le Clerc of 62 Claire Way said residents of the Bel Aire Flood Control Zone had been promised protection through a $1 boost in the district tax rate.

However, she said, nothing has been done to date to correct a drainage problem which created severe flooding in 1969.

"We need it (flood protection) now, not next spring when things are dry," she told the board.

Ray W. Foreaker Jr., director of county public works, said it was too late to begin construction for a new 250-foot section of drainage pipe but that dredging of Greenwood Cove would begin soon.

Residents responded that improvement of the cove wouldn't help their situation on dry land if drainage ditches weren't improved.

The supervisors expressing some displeasure with the delay, directed county officials to attempt interim improvements before rains hit.

"I don't like to berate the staff. . . but it does upset me that this wasn't done earlier," said Supervisor Michael Wornum, who represents Southern Marin.

ECONOMY

has made a decision .... organized labor is a part of this process. We think organized labor will proceed responsibly as they have throughout this process," Ziegler said.

Although he was asked repeatedly for White House comment on the 5.5 per cent wage guideline, Ziegler said he would not discuss individual decisions of either the Pay Board or the Price Commission.

"The Cost of Living Council will be assessing that to determine whether it meets the goals (of the administration's effort to curb inflation)," Ziegler said.

Ziegler offered this general assessment: "We're optimistic. We feel that progress is being made toward price stability and toward reducing inflation."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined extensive comment on the pay board's guideline but said that he thought there was "a moral obligation" to honor teacher contracts that were signed last spring, well in advance of the wage-price freeze.

Judge George H. Boldt, chairman of the Pay Board, said his group will "abide by anything Congress provides and we will do that if and when it becomes law."

But Boldt insisted that the settlement was "equitable and fair to all, requiring almost every American to make some sacrifice as any control program must do."

The rules approved by the Pay Board cover these areas:

—New contracts: Wage and fringe benefit increases should approximate 5.5 per cent. This yardstick will be reviewed by the Pay Board and might be scaled down if the economy moves toward Nixon's goal of cutting inflation in half by the end of next year.

—Existing contracts: Increases negotiated in contracts signed before or during the freeze may take effect after the freeze is lifted provided they are not "unreasonably inconsistent" with the Board's inflation-fighting goals. A "party at interest" or five Pay Board members may challenge these increases if they are thought to be out of line.

—Retroactivity: In general, these increases will not be approved. But the board said it might consider awarding retroactive wages if a company raised its prices before the freeze in anticipation of having to boost its wages later on.

Back pay also could be collected in the case of a new contract signed after the freeze to replace an earlier pact where the industry or company could prove it was traditional to pay the higher wages back to the date when the previous contract expired.

one will represent southeastern Ventura County.

Currently, Lagomarsino would take in Oxnard, and Stevens would include Thousand Oaks and Camarillo in his district. He also represents portions of Los Angeles County. They must decide the issue between themselves.

Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, would have his district extended over to Fairfield and Rio Vista, to pick up additional territory surrendered by Marler to move into Lake County.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale, DRailroad Flat, would assume the east Sacramento area given up by Short in his move.

Assembly GOP Caucus Chairman John Stull of Leucadia said the latest Democratic proposal would have meant two Republicans—Floyd Wakefield of South Gate and Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks— would have met certain political death.

"Republicans found that to be unreasonable," he said. "We are committed to not less than a 43-37 plan."

Democrats control the lower house by a 43-37 margin and have a 21-19 edge in the senate.

Inmate Stabbed During Scuffle

San Quentin inmate Antonio Montano received a minor stab wound in the chest in a personal dispute with another inmate outside the prison's south mess hall at noon yesterday.

Joseph R. O'Brien, prison information officer, said the wound was not serious enough to require hospitalization. A suspect whom O'Brien declined to name is being questioned, but no weapon has been found.

Montano is serving a sentence of three years to life for rape after being convicted in Yolo County in July 1970. He previously had been in San Quentin on a stolen property conviction from Sacramento County.

Whaler Taken

A 13-foot Boston Whaler and motor, valued at a total of $1,300, were stolen yesterday from a berth behind the home of John B. Christian at 55 Summit Avenue, on the San Rafael Canal, police said.

WORD-A-DAY

By BACH

fied by the county board of supervisors, which will consider the matter in about a month, according to Werner von Gundell, county planning director.

Among the many concerns expressed by residents was that planners in the past have refused to accept the rustic, lightly populated communities as they are — viewing them instead as recreational centers.

"We like the area the way it is," one woman told the commission. "We want the least development possible."

The 1961 plan envisioned the two communities as someday developing to a population of about 20,000, being linked to the rest of the Bay Area by a freeway, and each having a major shopping-recreational center.

"Times, attitudes and values have changed since this plan was adopted," said Hugh Dougherty, former chairman of the planning commission. "It's obsolete. . .there's a number of things wrong with it. It wouldn't make much sense to try to patch it up."

Dougherty, who lives in Stinson Beach, urged the commission to reevaluate the needs of the communities on the recommendations of the residents who repeatedly expressed no interest in growth.

Proctor P. Jones, also of Stinson Beach, told the commission a general plan for the area should not propose a population greater than 5,000 persons — an increase of 3,600 over last year's census.

At his prompting, nearly every member of the audience raised a hand to signify opposition to the 1961 plan — thus opposition to growth and new development.

Bolinas resident Lewis Macadams said Tuesday's elections showed residents opposed to new growth since winning candidates all had taken positions against contracting for more domestic water which would have encouraged growth.

He urged that the next plan consider agriculture and commercial fishing as sources of revenue to the towns, as opposed to tourism, which, he claimed, was catered to the old plan.

"The recreational classification goes to the essence of the problem," said conservationist Robert Tartaul of Stinson Beach. "This area has values. . .that are unique and important of themselves,"he continued, adding the communities must not be planned for their commercial value.

Others agreed and added that the proposed preliminary countywide plan — which calls for a Bolinas-Stinson Beach population of about 18,000 — also falls short of their hopes of keeping the communities as they are.

Several urged the county planning staff to work with community groups to develop a plan acceptable to all.

In making her motion to rescind the plan, Mrs. Azevedo warned against the "sense of proprietorship" she felt from some residents' comments about the natural amenities of the area, such as Bolinas Lagoon.

". . .I hope you will listen to the rest of the county and open your hearts. . .," she added.

Prior to the matter being referred to the board of supervisors, details of the interim ordinance will be reviewed by the commission at its Nov. 29 meeting.

Angela 'Has No Glaucoma'

Marin County's chief medical officer said today that while Angela Davis is extremely nearsighted, he found nothing in reports of her eye examination to indicate she has glaucoma.

In Europe last week, Fania Jordan, Miss Davis's sister, said she feared her sister had contracted glaucoma and was in danger of losing her sight.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of county medical services, said today that Miss Davis has been examined several times in her jail cell by Dr. Ernest Marshall, an Oakland ophthalomogist "of her choosing."

Dr. Cooke said that he had reviewed Dr. Marshall's report and found "nothing disturbing" in them. He added that Miss Davis has received new glasses twice since she has been in jail and that with the prescription lenses, her vision is normal. He also said that she has "some pressure" in her eyes, but only enough to indicate she should be rechecked from time to time.

Miss Davis is due to return to Marin Superior Court tomorrow on a challenge to an order that her murder, kidnaping and conspiracy trial be moved to Santa Clara County.

Her attorneys have claimed that she can only receive a fair trial in San Francisco. Judge Richard E. Arnason has agreed to reopen the matter in tomorrow's hearing.

approved by the city council in 1968.

Both he and Councilman Albert H. Sennett tried to show that the developer, the Tiburon Ecumenical Association, could decrease project costs in some way and thus reduce the number of units needed to make the project financially feasible.

But housing consultant E. Morton Schaffran maintained, as he had at previous meetings, that 112 are needed.

Tempers flared briefly at one point when Schaffran, under Fanning's questioning, said his fee for work on the project, estimated at $26,000, depended on the size of the development.

"If I were on that side I'd be trying to get the number of units up, too," Fanning remarked, bringing objections from Schaffran.

After questions on some of the physical aspects of the project, Fanning denied allegations he was a "racist and social bigot" and moved to hire a consultant to check Schaffran's figures to determine if 112 units — 33 three-bedroom and 13 four-bedroom units — were really needed.

Rice seconded his motion. He said he had nagging doubts about the number of larger units but not the total number.

Councilmen Anne L. Ellinwood and M. Carlisle Becker said they flatly opposed the delay, and Sennett said he couldn't support an "open-ended" motion which did not specify how much the study would cost and when it was to be completed.

After some audience debate, the motion was rejected, 3-2, with only Fanning and Rice supporting it.

After Becker moved approval of the precise plans, seconded by Miss Ellinwood, discussion shifted to the merits of the project, with some speakers criticizing the development for its density — 14 units per acre — and others praising it for providing housing for moderate income families.

Finally, almost three hours after the hearing opened, Mayor Rice announced he would vote for the proposal even though he had doubts, the roll was called and the motion carried, 4-1.

Also last night, the council heard a report on the proposed Paradise Drive Walkway and referred the matter to the council's lands and development committee and adjourned to 7:30 p.m. next Monday to take up undiscussed items from last night's agenda.

WOMEN

preme Court let stand a decision by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that the refusal of Pan American World Airways to hire a male as a flight attendant was a civil rights violation.

The Court took these other actions:

—Refused to review a ruling that Thomas G. Jolley, a 27-year-old draft dodger who renounced his American citizenship, is now a man without a country as far as the United States is concerned. Jolley, a native of Greensboro, N.C., formally executed an oath giving up his citizenship after taking refuge from the draft in Canada. He returned to the United States in 1968 and sought to regain his citizenship. The Court refusal to hear his case lets stand an immigration service order that he either leave the country within 90 days or be deported to Canada.

—Agreed to hear a government appeal that rulings by two lower courts have opened huge loopholes in the tax laws to the benefit of heirs of the wealthy. The case involving the estate of an Ohio businessman who died in 1964 and left controlling shares in three corporations in trust to his children will be argued later this term with the Court handing down a written decision later.

—Again refused to consider whether to make retroactive a 1969 ruling that military personnel who commit nonservice-related crimes must be tried in civilian courts. Without comment, the Court dismissed the appeal of Army M.Sgt. Gerald Y. Allen who was convicted by court-martial of assault while stationed in Hawaii.

—Let stand a decision that the Seattle Times was entitled to publish certain aspects of a 1970 murder trial even though the Everett, Wash., trial judge had ruled to the contrary. The Washington state supreme court had thrown out contempt findings against two reporters for the newspaper.

The woman who brought the pension case to the courts was Ann Bartmess of South Bend, Ind., who was forced to retire at Drewry's Brewery on her 62nd birthday under terms of a pension plan negotiated by her union. Male employes were allowed to continue working until age 65.

She first complained to the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) four months before her scheduled retirement date, and when given the go-ahead by the EEOC two years later, sued the company and the union, local 275 of the United Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers of America.

The U.S. District Court at South Bend dismissed her suit on technical grounds —a decision the appeals court reversed in its ruling. The company and the union appealed to the Supreme Court, arguing that the appeals court decision would have "substantial, if not disastrous" financial consequences for "a host of other companies and unions" that have retirement plans differentiating between men and women.

The Supreme Court also refused today to consider whether there is public confusion between the Miss America chosen at Atlantic City each year and a gradeschool queen called Little Miss America crowned at a nearby amusement park.

The Court's action lets stand a lower court ruling favoring the big girls over the little girls in a trademark scrap between promoters of the two beauty pageants.

Palisades Pageants, Inc., began running annual beauty contests for little girls between the ages of 5 and 10 at the Palisades, N.J., amusement park in 1963. When it sought to register its "Little Miss America" name with the government in 1966, however, promoters of the Miss America pageant protested there would be too much confusion with its competition for girls 18 to 28 that has been going on since 1921.

Four-Day Weekend

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Gov. Mike O'Callaghan has declared Nov. 26, the day after Thanksgiving, a legal holiday in Nevada, giving state workers a four-day weekend.

OBITUARIES

Patricia McNulty, Santa Venetian, 36

Patricia H. McNulty, 36, wife of Gallinas Village Improvement Association director James L. McNulty, collapsed at home yesterday, and died at Hamilton Air Force Hospital.

Deputy Coroner Don Cornish reported the death apparently was due to natural causes; the family said Mrs. McNulty had been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. McNulty was a native of Eastport, N.Y., and moved with the family to Marin County about 11 years ago. She formerly was a member of the cystic Fibrosis Foundation and of the Parent-Teachers Association in Santa Venetia.

She is survived by her husband, of the family home at 813 Descanso Way; one son, James Jr.; a daughter, Patricia Denise McNulty; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hopping of New York, and two brothers, James Jr. and Donald, of Long Island, N.Y. Her husband twice has run for election to the Las Gallinas Sanitary District Board.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Thursday in Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia, followed by burial in St. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, tomorrow; the time had not been set today.

MICHAEL LAURANCE

Funeral for Michael Plin Laurance, 23, of Fairfax, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Laurance, a Fairfax teacher's aide and Sonoma State College student, was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident Sunday on Shoreline Highway near Marshall.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Glenn R. Martin, 29, and Mary E. McCurdy, 37, both of Mill Valley.

30 Days In Jail Given For Theft

James McGovern, 20, of San Francisco, was sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail yesterday for burglarizing the residence of Marin Grand Jury foreman Milen C. Dempster.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court also placed McGovern on probation for a year.

McGovern and two other men were arrested while leaving Dempster's Tamalpais Valley home on July 11.

The three originally were charged with two counts of burglary and one of possessing stolen property, but the other two counts were dismissed when they pleaded guilty in September to the Dempster burglary.

McGovern's two codefendants were sentenced by Judge Wilson last month. Craig Robert Anderson, 18, of Mill Valley was placed on probation for a year and sentenced to four months in jail and James Floyd Angle, 23, of San Francisco, was placed on a year's probation and sentenced to six months in jail.

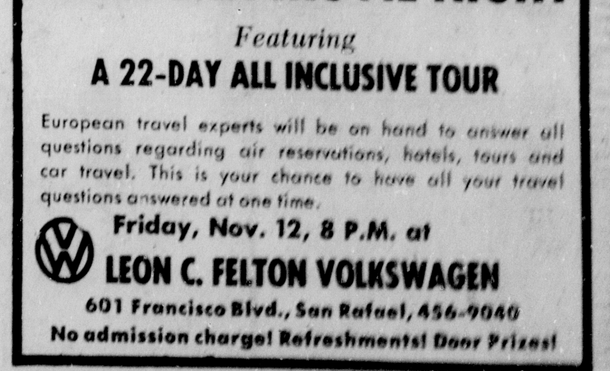
Bottles, Watches Taken In Two Night Burglaries

Either a very small-time thief or one who bottles his own beer broke into the Sequoia Auto-Marine in Mill Valley last night and made off with 144 empty soft drink bottles.

Police said owner Richard Lilly reported someone smashed a window and entered the shop, stealing only the empty bottles, worth 5 cents a piece or $7.20 in all.

Police also reported the theft this morning of 30 watches from a display case in the front window of the Clock Shop, 131 Throckmorton Avenue.

They said an officer heard the sound of breaking glass at 3:15 a.m. and found the shop's window smashed and the watches missing. Value of the timepieces was unknown.



Fairfax Delays On Housing Plan

Fearing increased traffic and smog, demand for additional city services and a heightened "impact" on Fairfax, the Fairfax City Council last night withheld approval of plans for a 128-unit housing development and tennis club.

The council referred plans for the Canon Village and Tennis Club at Glen Drive and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard back to the city's planning commission for further study. The commission had previously approved the project.

The council's action followed a 90-minute discussion of the plans with an attorney and an architect for the developer, Denkmann Co. of San Rafael.

"The impact is too much on the city," Councilman Frank J. Egger said, calling the cluster plans for 98 townhouse units and 30 condominiums "more than cluster — just mass housing."

From the audience, the proposal was defended by former councilman Adelaide Wilson, who said it complied with the city's master plan which calls for more cluster development and open spaces and that the proposed development preserved surrounding hillsides.

The plan, as presented by attorney James B. McKenney and architect Monte Bell, would place the 128 units and a nine-court tennis club on 90 acres owned by Edna Getz.

Three of the courts would be indoors, making it the only such facility in the state, according to McKenney.

Councilman Robert R. Souza said he had reservations about the amount of traffic which would be generated by the tennis court, but moved for approval of the plans.

That motion died for lack of a second. A motion by Councilman Lee Nelder, seconded by Egger, to send the proposal back to the planning commission passed unanimously.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

TABLES — With Egger and Councilman Francis J. O'Connell objecting, voted 3-2 to follow a parks and recreation commission recommendation to sell pool tables in Fairfax Pavilion because they are too costly to maintain. Egger considered the tables an asset.

BRIDGE — Approved plans and called for bids to be opened Dec. 7 for reconstruction of a bridge at Bridge Court. Estimated cost is $10,550.

ANIMALS — Approved extending of a joint powers agreement with Marin County for animal control and added an automatic extension clause to the agreement.

FIRELINE — Authorized participation in a 590-foot fireline extension with the city and Marin Municipal Water District, each paying half of the $8,844 cost.

UNDERGROUNDING — Agreed to a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. request to delay undergrounding of utilities on Broadway until after the Christmas holiday season.

REAPPORTIONMENT — Passed a resolution opposing any reapportionment of state senatorial districts which would split Marin into more than one district or include it in a district with counties with dissimilar community interests.

INTERSECTION — Referred to City Administrator Robert E. Crowe to discuss with the police department and interested citizens ideas for improving traffic flow at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Claus and Bank streets.

DISTRICTS — Went on record by a 3-2 vote, with Egger and O'Connell dissenting, in favor of a plan to consolidate all sanitary districts in Marin into one large district, as opposed to a plan to consolidate the sanitary districts under the Marin Municipal and North Marin water districts.

MEETING — Adjourned to 5 p.m. Friday for a study session on plans for city hall remodeling.

Judge Orders Fine Or Work In Drug Case

Virginia Eileen Cowell, 22, of Oakland, has been ordered to pay a $240 fine or do volunteer work in Alameda County after pleading guilty in Marin Municipal Court to driving under the influence of a drug.

Judge Robert A. Smallman also placed the woman on probation for a year and gave her the choice of the fine or working 120 hours for the Alameda Family Service Agency.

Following her plea to the driving charge, a misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana was dismissed.

She was arrested by the California Highway Patrol Sept. 14 on Highway 101 on suspicion of possession of narcotics, as well as the two misdemeanor charges, but a narcotics charge was not filed against her.

Officers said they found red capsules and a bag containing marijuana in her car.

Innocent Plea To Marijuana

William Frederick O'Brien, 22, of New Orleans, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and sleeping on private property without permission.

Pretrial conference was set for tomorrow.

O'Brien was arrested last Tuesday when Mill Valley police checked a vacant house on Miller Avenue and found O'Brien and another man sleeping there.

An open can of suspected marijuana was found in O'Brien's pocket, police said.

Driver Swerves To Avoid Dogs; Hurt

A San Anselmo driver swerved his car into a utility pole to avoid two dogs in the street last night, suffering minor injuries, San Anselmo police reported today.

Robin Joe Stipp, 23, of 141 Tunstead Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut upper lip and scrapes. The accident happened at 10:15 p.m. on San Rafael Avenue near San Anselmo Avenue.

Forest Park Group Slates Meeting

The annual meeting of the Forest Park Homeowners Association will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at San Jose Junior High School in Novato.

Election of a board of directors for the coming year and planning for the luminario display at Christmas are the main items on the agenda according to Mark E. Cory, association president.

Car Hits Light Pole; Driver Hurt

Michael D. Linkem, 27, of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his car struck a traffic light standard at Third and Union streets, San Rafael, police said.

Linkem received minor cuts and scrapes in the 9:16 a.m. mishap.

WOEFUL AFTERMATH OF SPEEDER'S FLING

Pam Ghilardi, 21, of 208 Union Street, San Rafael, looks on in grief at her new birthday present — a 1967 Plymouth — struck at 6:40 p.m. yesterday by an auto driven by Scott V. Hier, 20, of 248 Laurel Place, San Rafael, police said. Pam, a student at the College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, had just received the auto, which was hit while parked on Union Street at Belleve Avenue. Hier's auto also rammed a fire hydrant and a tree. He was cited for speeding and treated at Marin General Hospital for a bloody nose.

Marin College Problem: The 'Hidden 3,000'

Last June, Marin's eight public high schools plus Marin Catholic High School graduated a total of 3,038 seniors. The previous year's graduating total was virtually the same.

About one-half of these graduates enroll in College of Marin, which is a two-year school.

When College of Marin classes opened this fall, enrollment was reported at 5,506, plus about 450 designated as attending Indian Valley Colleges, a "school within a school." The previous fall's enrollment was 6,062.

IT WOULD TAKE the entire graduating classes of all of Marin's public high schools plus Marin Catholic for two years to equal the enrollment at College of Marin. Yet only half of them enter that college — and not all of those return for a second year.

Where do the other 3,000 come from?

This question — to which it is impossible to get a definite answer — is at the heart of many of the college district's difficulties. It is a question that perhaps need not to have been answered if voters on Nov. 2 had approved a $16,750,000 for expanding College of Marin and building Indian Valley Colleges. But since they did not, the answer needs to be found.

There are various categories into which these "hidden 3,000" students may fall.

Some of them, no doubt, are returning students who went into the military or into jobs on graduating from high school and decide later to come back for more education.

Some are students from outside the college district. But College of Marin was toughened its admission rules for these. As of Aug. 31, Dean of Students Iwin P. Diamond reported only 46 "foreign" students accepted for this fall.

Most of them are what the college calls "non-matriculated" students. This means that they are not enrolled as full-time students, getting their first two years beyond high school on the local campus.

Most of these "non-matriculated" students are adults. Some are high school dropouts signed up for vocational courses.

WHEN MARIN JUNIOR College District was set up, it was given two purposes: First, to provide two years of academic education beyond high school, leading to an associate in arts degree and/or transfer to the upper division of a four-year college or university. Second, to provide vocational training for high school graduates who were aiming for the job field and did not want further academic schooling.

It has done the first job well; the second, not so well. But along the way, it has given itself a lot of other jobs which were not in its original assignment.

These include the wider assortment of adult classes, and at the other extreme, a nursery school. They also include an even wider assortment of what the school people like to call "enrichment" courses, which do not fill requirements for either an A.A. degree or transfer to a four-year institution.

ALMOST ALL OF THESE are no doubt desirable. But few if any of them are necessary. And they account for the "hidden 3,000" students.

Since the voters have said "no" to building a second campus, the job for Marin Community College District trustees appears now to be to examine these "fringe benefits" and decide where to reduce or eliminate them, so the college can do the job it was set up to do.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Merv's Marauders' Probe For Tax Law Loopholes

By MARY K. SHELL
(First of two columns on "Project Loophole.")

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — A student protest movement is operating under the capitol dome. However, unlike some of their campus contemporaries, these students have never staged a sit-in or taken over offices.

They have chosen the pen, rather than the sword, to fight "the system." Research data is their ammunition and the news release is their weapon.

Their target is California's tax system.

THE MOVEMENT is known as "Project Loophole." Brainchild of Robert Holmes, chief consultant for the Democratic Caucus, it is sponsored by Sen. Mervyn Dymally, Democrat from the Watts section of Los Angeles.

They are probing the state's tax laws to pin-point inequities and loopholes. They hope the spotlight of publicity will result in correction of these by the legislature or, if necessary, by the people.

Loophole was launched last summer after an employee of the Democratic Caucus broke the news Gov. Ronald Reagan paid no state income tax this year. Members of the student task corce were recruited primarily through stories in college newspapers.

Once an area of study is selected, a "Marauder" is pretty much on his own. Once a week the members get together to pool knowledge and exchange ideas.

Volunteers, their only "salary" is 95 cents a month — and that is given only so they can be included under an insurance program.

They use the Democratic Caucus room on the first floor of the capitol as their headquarters and maintain an office in a downtown Sacramento building.

THERE ARE 19 MARAUDERS, ranging in age from 19 years up. Jean Ogrod, 29, is a recent graduate of Stanford with a master's degree in political science. Gary Kane, 28, is legal counsel for the Sacramento Redevelopment Agency. Clarence Williams, 24, is an instructor in criminal justice at Sacramento State College. Most other members of the project are graduate or undergraduate students at Sacramento State College or University of California, Davis.

Some members of the task force are receiving college credit for their work in the project. A schedule of hours to be worked at the capitol is adopted to meet course requirements.

The loophole probe was originally designed as a summer-only program. But here it is November and it's still going strong. No one really knows when it will end — if ever. In October the group announced it had found "so many inequities" that it is continuing its probe.

They report they have encountered no real barriers in getting information they need from various state agencies.

Some of the inequities they have uncovered in their studies will be the subject of tomorrow's article.

Emergency Services Prompt, Compassionate

I wonder how many of us in our busy day take a minute to realize just how important our police department, fire department, and ambulance service really are. I had an opportunity to witness them all in action last month while visiting relatives in San Anselmo.

My husband suffered a coronary at 10:30 p.m. An ambulance was called to rush him to the city to a hospital. Within minutes a police car arrived offering help, followed by the fire department with skilled training put their resuscitator to work. And in minutes the ambulance arrived. These three groups of men worked rapidly together and had the situation well in hand in a very short time. Not only will I remember the teamwork; I shall never forget the compassion shown. My husband spent two weeks in the hospital and I now have him home and doing well.

My deepest appreciation and a heartfelt thank you to these men. Your community can be very proud of these men that serve you.

Posted Schedules Of Buses Necessary

Although the article in the Oct. 28 I-J concerning the new Marin County bus service does not include the complete details of the Golden Gate Bridge District's plan, I trust the plan will emphasize one aspect of bus service which has been sorely lacking — information about routes, schedules, at each bus stop.

Occasionally I use the Greyhound service presently available. At the bus stops I have frequented in Tiburon, Marin City, and Larkspur there is no information posted. The confusion is apparent; all (non-regular) riders are asking others questions about the service.

Since most Marin County residents are anxious to see increased use of public transportation and a lessening dependency upon the automobile, it is imperative that public transportion systems are given every chance for success. In addition to the publicity work that is incumbent upon the bridge district, might not the I-J and other local papers regularly print schedules, or at least information telephone numbers?

Strange Disposal Of Pair Of Sofas

With regard to the disposal of two sofas by the San Anselmo City Council (see story "Real Stink Over a Pair of Sofas," I-J Oct. 27) the following facts have not been completely brought out:

At the meeting of Oct. 12, the council continued to bring up business after the close of the agenda. Mr. Leitzel brought up the matter of two perfectly serviceable sofas being used at Robson Park; the council declared them surplus and Mr. Leitzell said he "knew someone who would haul them away." From the audience, I protested . . .

At the Oct. 26 council meeting "award of bid and disposal of sofas" was on the agenda. Since permission to remove the sofas had been voted on at the previous meeting, I was curious as to how the council could now be awarding bids especially since they had not met in the meanwhile . . .

I was further told that a bid of $2 was received through the mail and my name on it. Since only the city hall "in" people could know of any advertisement under the above circumstances, I can only conclude that the purpose of this fraud was a further attempt to harass and embarrass a questioning citizen — and that it was made by someone privy to this rather exclusive (certainly not public) knowledge of advertisement.

I was not permitted to make a bid from the floor, nor was another lady.

My purpose in bidding was to give the sofas back to the people of San Anselmo until such time as similar seating could be provided in the park at no expense to the taxpayer. Since Mr. Reed and Mr. Anderson were elected 3½ years ago, the park budget has escalated from $23,160 for all parks to $145,931 ($51,701 for Robson Park alone) this year. And Mr. Reed is publicly accusing me of costing the City the expense of the ad!

Large Response Against Gerrymander

On behalf of the hurriedly formed ad hoc committee of "Nonpartisan Citizens Against Gerrymandering," I want to thank each and every one of the persons who responded to the full-page ad in the Independent Journal on Oct. 23, asking for support against the then-pending proposal to gerrymander Marin County by splitting it into two fragments. Well over 200 signed coupons from the ad had been received by the Senate Committee on Elections and Reapportionment by Tuesday morning in Sacramento (Monday being a holiday without mail). Additional coupons flooded in after that time. Other citizens were provoked by the ad to write letters to the committee, protesting the proposed gerrymander. One telegram went out on Monday morning with the manes of over 50 prominent Democrats protesting the measure. By the end of the week, 31 readers had also responded to the request to help underwrite the cost of the ad.

The evidence of an aroused public which was thus presented to the Senate committee, combined with other communications and efforts made on a bipartisan basis, all helped to stall the progress of the proposed division of Marin . . .

Because of the expense factor, it probably is not feasible to further the campaign through additional ads. We hope that voters will continue, however, to communicate during this very crucial period with the Senate Committee on Elections and Reapportionment, expressing their opposition to any split of Marin, and urging that Marin be kept intact with surrounding counties (such as Napa and Sonoma) with which it has a close community of interest. The Senate committee is most currently planning to combine all of Marin with western San Francisco and pieces of San Mateo County.

U.S. Nuclear Arms On Taiwan May Prevent China Rapprochement

WASHINGTON — This is a highly imaginary preview of one stage of the talks President Nixon will have in January in Peking with Chairman Mao Tse-tung. Politely enough, they have covered relatively noncontroversial issues such as trade and cultural exchanges. Then abruptly Chairman Mao levels with the following:

"Mr. President, we know that you have had for a considerable time a large military establishment on the island of Taiwan, which is a province of China. Your Seventh Fleet patrols the Straits of Taiwan.

"Now another well-authenticated report comes to us. That is that nuclear weapons are in place on Taiwan. This is, in part, nuclear deployment removed from Okinawa in accord with your treaty with Japan for the reversion of that island to Japan. We are very disturbed by this report."

WHETHER THE PRESIDENT can look Chairman Mao square in the eye and deny the report is the question. The location of American nuclear weapons is the top secret that to many critics of secrecy in Congress frustrates all efforts to restrain defense spending. More important, those in the know believe the widespread dispersal of these weapons greatly increases the risk of a nuclear accident.

On Sept. 8 Sen. Stuart Symington made a brief speech on the Senate floor that he had billed as the most important of his career. His colleagues on the foreign relations and armed services committees were somewhat mystified, since in raising the question of whether the Okinawa missiles had been moved to Taiwan he failed to supply an answer. Symington had become a member of the Joint Atmoic Energy Committee, discovering that he learned there more about nuclear weaponry than in 18 years on the other committees.

He put in the record a story from the Washington Post saying that the Pentagon was pressing strongly for moving some of the hundreds of nuclear weapons on Okinawa to Taiwan. This would add, according to the Post account, to the store of such weapons already on the island that has been Chaing Kai-shek's stronghold since he fled from the mainland in 1950.

A LATER NEWS STORY in the New York Times said that plans had been killed to move the Okinawa weapons to Taiwan, South Korea and the Philippines. This would put them too close to the mainland in view of the Nixon policy to improve relations with the People's Republic of China and it was considered unwise.

This is where the matter rests, with the mystery, outside the closed circle of a few with top-secret clearance, as dense as it ever was. The terms of the treaty just approved by the foreign relations committee provide that nuclear weapons must be taken off Okinawa before the island reverts to Japan next April. Under the basic U.S.-Japan treaty the "NUCS" cannot be stored on Japanese territory.

The profoundly troubling issue of the emplacement of nuclear weapons and secrecy is larger than Taiwan, even though Taiwan is the key to closer relations with mainland China. Former Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNarmara once inadvertently let drop that the United States had 7,000 nuclear warheads in Europe. Since then that number is believed to have greatly increased, and they are many, many times more powerful than the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

MORE THAN 20 COUNTRIES in various parts of the world have American nuclear weapons, either deployed or in reserve. Strange things have happened behind the nuclear curtain. In one country the head of state sent word that he meant to take over the weapons. A terrific flap ensued until he was quieted down with promises of various forms of largesse.

In many instances only the American public is kept in the dark. When nuclear missiles were emplaced in Turkey it was, as in all such situations, top secret. But there were 8,000 Turkish employes on the American missile bases and to assume they did not know the facts was to assume that they were deaf, dumb and blind.

The handful of men privy to these secrets control the destiny of peoples everywhere. It is an oppressive burden on a theoretically free world.

By PHIL NEWSOM
By UPI Foreign News Analyst

India says the number of refugees crowding across her borders from East Pakistan now totals 9.5 million.

Pakistan says it is no more than two million.

Whether it is two or nine, the picture of human suffering it creates is greater than the mind can grasp unless the whole is reduced to its smallest number in the figure of a crying child or a family in whose faces the lines of suffering reflect man's inhumanity to man.

NEITHER PAKISTAN nor India can hold itself wholly blameless as the possibility of war between them mounts and as each attempts to shift to the other responsibility for this massive tragedy whose final toll may even surpass the million lives lost in the crossmigration of 17 million Hindus and Moslems between India and Pakistan in 1947.

India's sympathies clearly have been with the fighters for Bangla Desh, an independent East Pakistan.

She has given East Pakistan guerrilla fighters shelter, training and arms.

On the other hand there is Pakistan, whose leaders, based in West Pakistan, consistently ignored injustices toward and mounting social unrest in East Pakistan and now seek to hold it by force of arms whose success remains uncertain.

PRESIDENT YAHYA KHAN of Pakistan has accused India of interfering in the internal affairs of Pakistan and of waging clandestine war aginst his country.

He has appealed to U.N. Secretary General Thant to mediate between the two countries and has suggested that U.N. observers be placed on both sides of the India-Pakistan border to supervise a mutual withdrawal of forces.

On her side, India Prime Minister Mrs. Indira Gandhi has declared the huge flow of East Pakistan refugees endangers her internal security and demands that Pakistan negotiate a settlement with the Awami league, the outlawed political party which dominates East Pakistan.

MRS. GANDHI HAS been carrying her side of the story to Western capitals, including London and Washington.

Mrs. Gandhi has something on her side.

The flood of refugees has placed an intolerable burden on India, which already has vast problems of over-population and mass poverty of its own.

Most of the refugees are Hindu whose return is unwanted by the Pakistan government but who in any event would not return under present conditions of terror.

MILITARILY, THE SITUATION lines up Communist China and the Soviet Union against each other.

A friendship pact links India with the Soviet Union and a stream of Russian visitors to India in recent days suggests that Soviet aid in case of war has been one of the subjects. No such pact links Pakistan and Communist China, but the Chinese have issued stern warnings against outside interference in the dispute.

At the moment, the military edge seems to rest with India. India is almost self-sufficient in arms and has the larger army. Pakistan has a hodge-podge arsenal whose weapons come from the United States, Communist China and France. With East and West Pakistan divided by 1,000 miles of India, she faces an almost impossible supply problem in the East.

Petaluma Citizen Committees Not Cowed By Professionals

Professional planners are lurking again in Petaluma, but perhaps this time the study will result in a "people's plan."

Six study committees with as many as 10 members each are threshing out various sections of the proposed environmental design plan prepared by professional planners William and Mocine of San Francisco. Instead of simple rubber stamping ideas presented by the professionals, the citizens appear to be doing some independent thinking and planning.

Like some educators, planners can sometimes overwhelm ordinary citizens with fancy planning words and 10-word phrases that could be easily simplified. The self-confidence of planners, along with the fancy phrasing, has been known to buffalo citizen groups, but reports indicate the study committees have been thorough about looking at the planners' recommendations and are not shy about criticism.

IN SOME CASES it appears the whole concept by the planners may be scrapped and replaced by what the citizens have devised. A more practical approach to planning may result with a plan that will be more acceptable to the people.

In addition to the citizen groups come new plans by several organizations, including the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce and Heritage Homes Club of Petaluma. The chamber's downtown revitalization plan, which includes the abolishment of most parking meters, will have to be considered and perhaps worked into the commercial section of the design plan.

The Heritage Homes group perhaps has the most innovative plan being put forth. The group recommends the plan include a general design theme for the city, utilizing the fine old Victorian buildings and atmosphere. Some members have recommended that new buildings be required to conform whenever possible to the old style architecture and that historically significant buildings be pointed out by a special drive with signs showing designated sports. While this plan may not bring thousands of tourists into the city, it could make residents more aware of their city and its heritage.

IT IS HOPED, TOO, that the people on the committees will pay more attention to the need for bicycle paths than the planners did in their original proposal. It will do no good for Petaluma police to get tough with youngsters by issuing citations for broken safety rules if nothing is done to make the streets safer for bicyclists.

Rice Farmers Had Good Year

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Although the West Coast dock strike cost them $1 million, California rice farmers received a near-record return on their crop this year, according to a top rice official.

Ray Grelecki, vice president and general manager of the Farmers Rice Cooperative (FRC), said Thursday that member growers received an average of $5.11 per hundredweight this year.

He told the annual stockholders meeting that this year's return was higher than any of the past seven years with the exception of 1969 when farmers received $5.25 due to large early export orders. FRC represents 30 per cent of the rice growers in California.

Jubilation At The Pentagon: Billion Bucks For One Bang

WASHINGTON — It had to come sooner or later. The unthinkable has become thinkable. The U.S. Navy is asking for ONE BILLION DOLLARS to build ONE aircraft carrier.

No one thought it would happen for five years, but when the word got out there was jubilation in all the military services at the Pentagon.

An Army general said, "I never thought the Navy would have the guts to ask for it, but now that they've broken the sound barrier, we're all free to ask for a billion dollars for our favorite weapon."

"THEN YOU'RE NOT mad at the Navy for asking for that kind of money for an aircraft carrier?" I asked.

"Why should we be mad?" the general answered. "We've been piddling around with $100 million here, $100 million there on a new piece of hardware, when everyone knows you really can't get a bang for a buck less than a billion.

"But we didn't know how Congress would react until the Navy asked for the billion for a carrier. It didn't faze them in the least, so now if the Navy can get a billion for an aircraft carrier, we can get a billion for something we've wanted to build for some time."

"What is that?"

"IT'S A GIANT tank," he said, "and it takes up eight football fields. It's the greatest advance in military hardware since the invention of the Gatling gun."

"A billion dollars for one tank?"

"It's not just a tank, you fool," the general said. "Look at this model. The top of the tank is flat so bombers can take off and land on it. On the sides you have missiles and in the front and rear you have four 16-inch guns."

"But even with all those things it doesn't seem as it it would cost a billion dollars."

"AHA, THAT'S the surprise," he chuckled. "You see this here on the bottom?"

"It looks like a keel."

"Exactly. This is a floating nuclear airborne tank, something the U.S. Army cannot do without."

"But it looks just like an aircraft carrier," I said.

The general took the model away angrily. "How can it look like an aircraft carrier?" he said. "It's painted brown!"

THE AIR FORCE was also celebrating the Navy's billion-dollar breakthrough. An Air Force colonel in research and development showed me the latest plane the Air Force wants to build.

"This is the greatest bomber ever designed by man," he said. "It flies at 60,000 feet, floats on water and can cut its way through a jungle so silently that not even birds can hear it."

"But it looks like a tank," I said.

"How can it be a tank?" he grumbled. "It says 'U.S. Air Force' on the side."

ALTHOUGH THERE was excitement in the Army and Air Force wings of the Pentagon, it was nothing comparable to what was going on over at the Navy Department.

Officers were handing out cigars and you could feel the excitement in the air.

While I was talking to one admiral, another admiral came down the hall and my admiral rushed up to him saying, "Zeke, for gosh sakes, I haven't seen you in four years. You look like a billion dollars."

The other admiral laughed. "You look like a billion dollars yourself."

Navy Seabees Will Leave Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Navy said Saturday it is sending home the last Seabee construction battalion left in Vietnam. The U.S. Army said it was closing down operations of an engineer battalion that had been assigned to the American Division.

The withdrawal of the two units, totalling 1,175 men, was announced about an hour after Defense Secretary Melvin Laird flew back to the United States on a public promise to beat President Nixon's Dec. 1 deadline of a 184,000-man force in Vietnam.

Tunney Reported Ready To Vote Against Rehnquist Confirmation

By BENJAMIN SHORE
I-J Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Sen. John V. Tunney (D-Calif.) is reported ready to cast his vote against confirmation of Asst. Atty. Gen. William Rehnquist for the U.S. Supreme Court because he believes Rehnquist is too conservative.

Tunney has declined public comment on how he will vote.

The freshman senator is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has been holding confirmation hearings on Rehnquist and on President Nixon's other nominee, attorney Lewis Powell of Richmond, Va.

Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.) is declining all comment until the committee hearing is completed and he has studied the record. However, he is said to share many of the same concerns Tunney has about Rehnquist.

Neither senator has expressed doubts about the qualifications of Powell to be a Supreme Court justice. This is also the view of the American Bar Association, which gave unanimous endorsement to Powell but slightly less than unqualified endorsement to Rehnquist.

During the first day of the hearing last week, Tunney told Rehnquist:

"In reading what you have written and reports on what you have said, I find aspects of your philosophy of government and the rights of the individual which I consider very disturbing."

Tunney then quoted from much of the same critical record compiled by civil libertarian groups which are either opposing Rehnquist or seriously questioning his nomination.

Proxmire Out As Democrat Aspirant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a darkhorse candidate at best, has withdrawn from the field of Democratic presidential aspirants, citing a lack of financial support.

Proxmire said his constant criticism of big spending by the federal government has offended both business and labor. "I wouldn't hold my breath until any of these groups turn around and open up their checkbooks to help me make president," Proxmire, 55, said in a weekend statement.

Hostage Freed; Suspect Nabbed

There was no immediate identification of the man suspected of abducting Debbie Devore from the home of her friend last Sunday after pistol-whipping another girl and wounding her parents.

"Tips from concerned citizens and detailed investigation of the FBI and police" were credited by arresting officers for leading to the unoccupied house in an exclusive Concord neighborhood where the 15-year-old girl was released.

Miss Devore, who was returned to the Martinez home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Devore, was found less than 10 miles from the site of the kidnaping.

Some three hours of negotiations followed during which the kidnaper first was talked into releasing his victim and then into dropping his gun and surrendering.

A police spokesman said it was unknown whether the kidnaper had known Miss Devore previously. She was dragged from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitlow Sunday, where she was staying with the Whitlows' daughter Susan, 15.

The FBI said it was routinely called into the case on assumption the kidnaper crossed the state line. They said the abductor's car carried an out-of-state license plate.

Police said the gunman slugged Miss Whitlow on the head with his pistol, shot her father, John, 56, and her mother, Doris, 55, before escaping out a patio door. The Whitlows' wounds were not serious.

Inmates Win Fight For Law Libraries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that California must provide better legal help than the current list of books it has made available for indigent prisoners who want to test the fairness of their conviction.

In a two-paragraph, unsigned opinion, the court affirmed a ruling by a special three-judge federal panel in San Francisco on May 28, 1970.

The panel struck down a California prison regulation that established an exclusive list of "basic codes and references" for prison use. The panel said this material "would offer meager fare to a criminal lawyer."

California, seeking to retain the regulation, argued before the Supreme Court that law books could be a hindrance to convicts with limited education, who would only sprinkle their habeas corpus petitions with "voluminous, irrelevant and confusing citations."

(San Quentin Prison information officer Joseph R. O'Brien explained today that the prison has maintained a "basic list" of law books, with the inmates being permitted to send to the state library for other books.

O'Brien said the law books get much use. "More and more people are looking into their own legal problems" rather than relying on outside attorneys, he added. He said that new Department of Corrections policy reflecting the Supreme Court ruling had not reached him.)

The panel did not recommend any specific reform for the California prison system. It suggested use of public defenders or programs in which law students and professors could help the indigent convict.

"The solution thus far chosen by California is patchwork," the panel said. "The affluent are guaranteed the right to communicate with private counsel and to buy personal law books without restriction . . . The indigent, however, is relegated to seeking out fellow inmates with legal knowledge and to the resources of the prison law library, the contents of which are severely limited . . ."

Aide Will Join Lindsay 'Campaign'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richard Aurelio, the manager of Mayor John V. Lindsay's successful reelection campaign in 1969, will resign today as deputy mayor to take charge of Lindsay's continuing survey of his presidential prospects, City Hall sources said.

Lindsay, who switched from the Republican to the Democratic party last August, already has visited eight states to sound out party and public sentiment.

Transfer Of Base Area Is Sought

The Kentfield School District board last night asked the Mill Valley School District to take official jurisdiction over the Nike Missile Base on Mount Tamalpais.

Ten students from the Air Force installation have been attending Mill Valley schools, but a recent study showed the base within Kentfield boundaries, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

Last night's action was aimed at correcting the discrepancy, Bacich said.

The board also heard a request from student Daniel Levintow to conduct a paper-recycling project in the district schools and asked him to report back with a complete plan, Bacich said.

The board also learned the State Allocation Board had approved granting $30,450 to develop working drawings of a $300,000 school for deaf students adjoining Adaline E. Kent School, Bachich said.

'Quick Draw' Proves Fatal

San Bernardino County sheriff's deputies said the boy, Dennis Roy Barnett, 13, admitted loading the .38-caliber revolver and practicing fast draws. The pistol went off and the bullet struck Barnett's sister, Sharon, 17, in the forehead as she sat on the living room couch watching television.

She was dead at the scene.

Deputies said Barnett was taken into custody for investigation when it was discovered the pistol had been stolen.

Petaluma Eyes Sewer Finances

The Petaluma City Council was told last night it could finance its share of the sewer plant expansion without selling bonds, but by juggling city accounts and adding to the tax rate.

City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer, describing a plan devised by him and Finance Director Cecil G. Gealta, told the council the city could save as much as $500,000 in future years by not selling revenue bonds or seeking voter approval for general obligation bonds to fund the project.

Through short-term borrowing from other city funds, such as $500,000 accumulated in the water fund, and with $606,425 expected to be on hand from sewer connection fees by June, the city need not sell any bonds for the project, he said.

With the sewer connection fees earmarked for new construction, Meyer explained, the city would be compelled to increase the city tax rate — by 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation — in order to pay off a 1966 bond issue previously approved for plant expansion. The sewer connection fees had been set aside for that purpose.

The total project has been estimated to cost $8,794,000, with 80 per cent from federal and state sources, reducing the city share to $1,238,800. Meyer said the city has $466,068 needed for land acquisition in a special account. With a total of $606,000 anticipated from sewer connection fees, the city then would need to borrow only $166,307 to fund the project, he said, leaving enough cash on hand to pay contractors before being reimbursed by the state and federal governments.

Besides the water fund, Meyer said, the city also could borrow from money set aside for fire department apparatus, net equipment purchases or $80,000 set aside for an addition to the library. Gealta said he believed that only the water fund need be touched.

Most councilmen spoke in favor of the plan and said action would be taken at next Monday's meeting.

Earlier, the council heard Ernest B. Bodnar of the financial consulting firm of Stone and Youngberg report it would be impossible to sell $500,000 in revenue bonds for the project. Paying off the bonds, he said, would increase the sewer service charge by 20 per cent. He said such a boost would not be permitted by the federal price commission and said he doubted an exemption would be granted.

He recommended that if the council chose to go to voters for approval on general obligation bonds, the election should be held Feb. 22 so the city could meet a timetable for construction.

Coastline Plan Panel Endorsed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to support the proposed California coastline planning commission if two conditions are met.

The bill would create a commission with authority to approve shoreline development plans.

In a 4-1 vote, with Henry Spomer of Healdsburg dissenting, the board indicated support if Sonoma County were included in a north coastal region of the new commission along with Mendocino, Humboldt and Del Norte counties.

The board said it also wants an amendment guaranteeing that the commission's jurisdiction will not include any of the county area east of the shoreline highway or 1,000 yards inland from mean high tide, whichever is less.

Public Schools May Admit 3-Year-Olds

HOUSTON (UPI) — Dr. George Oser, president of the Houston School Board, has recommended admitting 3-year-olds to public schools by the year 1973.

He said the plan, which would start next year with the admission of children aged 4-1-2, would cost $3 million and could be financed by the federal government.

Camp Fire Girls Open Horizon Clubs To Boys

(I-J Special Report)

NEW YORK — The Camp Fire Girls have opened their ranks to boys.

The National Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., approved admission to boys to Camp Fire's high school age program, Horizon Clubs, at its national Quadrennial Conference, last week when more than 1,000 adult volunteers, professional staff, Horizon Club members and guests met in Seattle, Wash. to set the new directions for the 700,000 member national youth agency.

Leadership of Camp Fire groups was also opened to men. According to resolutions passed, men and women 18 and over and high school students who participate in special leadership laboratory training may be leaders of groups up through junior high age. Advisers for high school age groups may be men or women age 20 or over.

According to Gwen Harper, national director of program development, the move is in line with contemporary trends toward more casual and informal education directly connected to daily living experiences.

"Young people are freer to see each other as friends, rather than simply as potential mates," she said.

The action to open Horizon Club membership to boys "gives a greater variety of options to communities to use in program and administrative operations. The resolution does not require that every Horizon Club have male members, but it gives greater flexibility and widens the choices for those who do want to open membership. By opening leadership to men, Camp Fire will be able to take advantage of the abilities of many highly trained individuals."

Marin Women

Kenneth Kline Engaged To Lynn Dale Jorgensen

Lynn Dale Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow and Kenneth Michael Kline of San Rafael were married at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo on Saturday afternoon.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Larry Lima of San Rafael as matron of honor and Mrs. Thomas Kline of Fairfax and Mrs. Larry Kline of San Anselmo.

Larry Lima performed the best man duties. Ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Thomas and Larry Kline; the bride's brother, Bill Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow; and Russell Hunt of Woodacre.

The reception was given at Alexander Hall in San Anselmo.

Lynn and Kenneth will make their home in San Rafael when they return from a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Carmel.

The daughter of Professor and Mrs. Eugene Clifford Jorgensen of Sleepy Hollow, Lynn was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of California at Santa Barbara.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Smith of Vacaville and Mrs. Soren C. Jorgensen of San Leandro.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Kline of San Anselmo are Kenneth's parents and he is the grandson of Mrs. John Kline of San Francisco. He also is a graduate of Drake High School and served in the Army for three years. He is employed with the Marin County Sheriff's Department.

ORGANIZES KINSHIP

Novatan Is Out To Help Juveniles

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Perhaps it was logical that Dyanne Bohner would be the one to step in and do something about it when she began to see a need to help youngsters with problems in the Novato area.

Working as a volunteer with the girls at Marin Juvenile Hall, riding on patrol with the Novato police observing juvenile law offenders, and studying police science at the College of Marin, Mrs. Bohner began to think that a special kind of help was needed for youngsters with problems before they got into deep trouble.

A program of volunteers specially trained to work with the youngsters and their families might prevent repeaters among children in trouble and discourage a younger brother or sister from following in older youngsters' dubious footsteps, she reasoned.

WITH THIS hope, last summer Dyanne Bohner called together an interested group of adults and formed KINSHIP (Kids in Need Seek Help in People), an organization aimed to help youngsters who have problems before they reach the point of being sent to Juvenile Hall.

And she has set up the group to learn to work with the entire family of a problem youngster rather than with the child alone.

Mrs. Bohner, who has two daughters, 12 and 10, found by talking to Detective Sgt. Donald L. Du Par and Sgt. Michael M. Manick of the Novato Police Department that they thought a special program would be helpful to stop the high number of "repeaters" among juveniles in trouble.

She has applied to the Allstate Insurance Foundation for a $25,000 grant to fund a two-year program of KINSHIP. The money would be used mainly to train at least 15 volunteers to work with the youngsters and their families. She hopes that both men and women will be interested in volunteering, and said that the volunteers would have professional advice available at all times in their work.

She has not yet heard whether KINSHIP will receive the grant, but Mrs. Bohner says that the program will be set up anyway, hoping to find professionals to help train the volunteers.

DYANNE BOHNER is known as "The Kin Lady" in Novato, since she has formed a new organization, Kids In Need Seek Help in People, to help youngsters with problems in the Novato area. Seated at her home in Novato, Mrs. Bohner reviews booklets on problems of youngsters. She has applied for a grant of $25,000 which would be used to train volunteers to help youngsters with problems and their families.

Others serving with her on the project are Sergeant Manick, vice chairman; Judy Maxwell, treasurer; Larry Fideler, secretary; and Joe Doherty, Jim Marsters, Chuck Smith and Mary Hill of the Marin County Probation Department, and Jan Murray, Novato School Board member.

Mrs. Bohner hopes that her KINSHIP program will eventually spread throughout California to save juveniles from getting into deep trouble with the law.

A NATIVE of San Francisco, she attended the former Dominican Upper School and is a graduate of St. Rose Academy in San Francisco. She and her husband, John, who is in the insurance business, have been Novato residents for the past seven years.

Dyanne Bohner began volunteer work two-and-a-half years ago with the Volunteer Bureau of Marin and was referred to Judy Maxwell, volunteer director with the Marin County Probation Department. From there she began to work at Juvenile Hall and also helped with transportation and in teachers aide work.

She became interested in police science and began the program at the College of Marin last winter. She also decided to ride with the Novato police patrols, which have a "ride-along" program for Novato citizens.

IT HAS ALL added up to KINSHIP, for which Novato city attorney Clark M. Palmer Jr. is helping draw up incorporation papers.

"Policemen patroling the beat can do much to prevent or intervene in a possible delinquent situation," she has concluded, adding that Novato has a very good program. She said that the ride-along program has been a tremendous success, but added that parents should be encouraged to take part in it.

The idea of using volunteers to work with juveniles and their families will work, she believes, because it isn't necessary to have a certificate or diploma to work with people. But it is important to have confidence about how to react when a parent or child is hostile and to know how to respond to it.

"A great deal of patience is necessary," she said.

AT THE MOMENT Mrs. Bohner says she herself is "pulled between police and probation work" for the future.

But as to KINSHIP she is certain.

"We will not let it die," she stated, funds or no funds.

Round Steak Cooking Hint

Beef round steak cooks to tenderness quickly when sliced in strips to braise. Partially freezing the meat enables slicing it into thin strips easily.

Cut beef strips ⅛ inch thick or thinner and three to four inches long. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings and season meat with salt, pepper and herbs or spices, if desired. Add a small amount of liquid, such as tomato sauce, soy sauce, bouillon or water.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 to 60 minutes depending upon thickness of the strips. Thicken gravy with flour, if desired. Serve over noodles, rice, mashed potatoes or on buns.

Nothing Wrong With Egg-Carton Decor For Good Stereo Sounds

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

Our son wants to egg-tray his room! He brought home big stacks of those dividers that separate eggs in their packing boxes, and says he'll spray-paint them, then tack them to walls and ceiling because he's heard they make the best acoustics for his hi-fi.

I've gone through a lot with that room, but I don't know whether I can take all those bumps and hollows — and I do go in there occasionally to clean.

We are a house divided on this, so decided to ask Generation Rap to be the arbiter. If you two can more or less agree, maybe we can too. — EGGED ON

DEAR E.O.:

I've heard that egg trays work great for stereo and they look sorta neat, too. And different — I mean how many people do you know with lumpy walls? If your son paints them right, they'd be outasite. What he wants is neither immoral, illegal or fattening, so don't knock it. — SUE

DEAR EGGED:

It's your son's room, and if egg tray decor doesn't permanently damage it, then leave him his lumps. . . . But get it in writing that he'll do the repaint job (plus plastering nail holes) before he moves out. — HELEN

DEAR "RAP:"

Any good hoaxes recently? We like to read the funny ones you sometimes get. Please print 'em once in a while — THE GROUP

DEAR GROUP:

How about this one? —

DEAR H AND S:

I'm an all right guy with a problem — my parents! They act and think as though they were hundreds of years old.

My father slicks down his hair and wears an old-fashioned cape around the house. I feel sorry for him because his eyes are going bad. He says he can't see his reflection in the mirror.

The house is so depressing. I often sneak out at night, but return — always — before dawn, and all I do is a little necking. What gets me is my folks ground me for the day — they really clamp the lid down tight.

Even though their bark is worse than their bite, I get so blue, I feel as though someone is about to drive a stake through my heart. Please help me before I go batty! — ALWAYS IN THE DARK

P.S. Don't tell me not to cry over spilt blood, because I won't take this lying down.

DEAR AITD:

Sorry we couldn't lay this on the Halloween column, but your letter arrived after it went to press. Anyway, don't climb the walls. At least, you're not getting it in the neck, like some of your dates! — H. AND S.

DEAR RAP:

My mother is constantly on a diet to keep her weight down, but it keeps going up.

I'm quite slim and intend to stay that way. Why then, does she tease me and poke fun at my "dieting" especially to relatives? When I'm serving myself at the dinner table, she watches my plate like a hawk, and exclaims "Is that all you're eating?!!" — UPSET DAUGHTER

DEAR UPSET:

Mothers have this "thing" about feeding kids — you know: the old "Finish your plate," "Eat your vegetables," "Don't pick over your meat" bit. They worry! If you're on a good balanced diet, smile and imply she should be too. — SUE

DEAR DAUGHTER:

There may be a bit of subconscious jealousy here: fat loves company — that's why it often runs in families. Offer her YOUR diet tips. — HELEN

Retail Store Tours Can Probe Valuable For Decorative Tips

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY

We all have a lot to learn about the history of furniture design and the reasons for the characteristics that make it unique to the period. The decorative arts sections of museums, even the great city ones, seem stiff dusty settings that tell you little about lifestyle and give no explanation of the origins of a particular period.

So on occasion, a tour through a retail store might be more educational in the home furnishings arts.

This fall a line of furniture is being introduced by Tomlinson of North Carolina. Its design inspiration is Chinese as interpreted by Thomas Chippendale in the 1750 to 1760 period of his work. Tomlinson asked a young California designer, Hasi Hester, to help them create this line, and the result is refreshing, though not a low-price tag group.

CHIPPENDALE WAS a popular interior designer in a period when the English began a veritable love affair with China and things Chinese. Trading vessels and clipper ships helped develop an exchange of ideas between the two worlds and many of the Chinese motifs were adapted by Chippendale into furniture. Fretwork and surface ornamentation ignited his imagination as well as the imagination of other 18th-century designers. They preferred this new look, although it had been a centuries old look to the Chinese, and so they borrowed heavily from it, totally rejecting the then popular Georgian designs that were the vogue in England.

Now we not only have Chinese Chippendale but also Hasi Hester's version of Chinese Chippendale, and it's a group of fresher, more lighthearted furnishings.

He uses lots of fretwork. The principle of fretwork is not unlike the idea of applique found in needlework. When they make this furniture they overlay the basic wood structure with a second layer in filigreed wood. Or they might use pierced fretwork — kind of a see-through concept visible in the legs of the table illustrated today.

The Hester group takes a step away from Chippendale by using fretwork under a plate-glass table top. It's a 20th-century variation of an old idea.

COLOR IS part of Hester's interpretation for today's lifestyle so the group is available in pure white as well as glazed tangerine, lime and lemon, all embellished with contrasting stripe detail.

One final note about learning while you shop, don't be afraid to ask the store decorator or design-trained salesperson questions about the background of any period of furniture. The

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Guess who was born today, Nov. 9, and became famous as:

1. Vice President of the United States? A colorful phrasemaker, this World War II combat infantryman (age 53 today) went from a lawyer's office to the Governor's mansion before getting the nation's No. 2 job: (A) Richard Nixon; (B) Hubert Humphrey; (C) Spiro T. Agnew.

2. A celebrated American actress? Success in musical comedy led her to try movie-making with Charlie Chaplin in 1916 and it started a Hollywood career that made her an Oscar winner with Wallace Beery in "Min and Bill": (A) Marie Dressler; (B) Edna Mae Oliver; (C) Zazu Pitts.

3. A martyr to the cause of abolition? A Presbyterian newspaper editor, who refused to stop editorializing against slavery, this 35-year-old abolitionist was murdered by a proslavery mob in 1837 defending his press: (A) William Lloyd Garrison; (B) Elijah Parish Lovejoy; (C) John Brown.

4. A favorite American comic? From vaudeville to television, this high-pitched voice comedian achieved top billing, starring in everything from the "Ziegfeld Follies" to Hollywood films and network broadcasts: (A) Ed Wynn; (B) Eddie Cantor; (C) Joe Penner.

ANSWERS

1. (C) (Spiro T. Agnew); 2. (A) (Marie Dressler); 3. (B) (Elijah Parish Lovejoy); 4. (A) (Ed Wynn).

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It Wasn't The Last Club But High Enough To Be A Winner

Many a bridge player is willing to tell the world how good he is; and since he is not under oath, he makes it clear that only lack of leisure time prevents him from winning a national championship or two every year. The kind of bridge player who hides his light under a bushel is far less common, but I meet one every now and then in a country club. He is usually known as a very lucky player, and he always points out that his luck can't possibly last.

REFUSES TRICK

I led the five of hearts from the West seat, and one of these very lucky players refused the first trick but won the heart continuation. Our lucky South next led the ten of spades and overtook with dummy's king.

Declarer's next move was to lead the seven of clubs for a finesse with the queen. I won with the king of clubs and returned the jack of hearts to the ace.

South cashed the ace of clubs, dropping the jack, and led the deuce of clubs to dummy's ten. Then he cashed the three top diamonds for a total of eight tricks.

LUCKY PLAY

Something about the way South was playing the hand intrigued me. A less skillful player would have tried for a second spade trick, but this would have led to sure defeat. To test my theory, I discarded a heart on the third top diamond, wondering whether South knew that his six of clubs was high.

South then looked at me with a rather peculiar expression on his face. "I have a feeling this is the last club," he remarked as he led the six of clubs.

NOT LAST CLUB

It wasn't the last club, of course, but it was good enough to win the trick and the rubber. Since very few bridge players are good enough to know when a six is high, I understood why South was considered a very lucky player.

"A very lucky hand," I commented as my opponents scored up the rubber. I had a feeling that South didn't want to be commended for skillful play. In the republic of the blind, the one-eyed man can be elected to any office he wants if he doesn't say anything about being able to see.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - 8 7 3 2
♥ - Q 10
♦ - J 10 8 7 2
♣ - J 9.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. Your hand is just barely worth a response, and you should raise the diamonds rather than show the anemic spade suit.

CIVIC CENTER BOOKINGS

This Show Biz Is Working

By GEORGE NEVIN

In the high-pressure world of show business promoters, where companies often come and go like number one records, one Marin outfit appears to be here to stay.

Sausalito-based Hananda productions has been around for 18 months, although it just moved to Marin from Santa Rosa, and will present its first Marin act Nov. 20: comedian Bill Cosby and singer Bill Withers in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Eighteen months may not sound like a long time for a business to survive, but the five young men who comprise Hananda say most producers — a term they prefer to promoters — have a considerably shorter lifespan than that.

"When we first got into this business," said 27-year-old Norman Chamlin, a co-owner of Hananda, "booking agents wouldn't even talk to us. Now they won't let us alone."

Chamlin, his brother Gene, 24, and S. Craig Jensen, also 24, started their business in Santa Rosa by doing something they said even San Francisco rock impresario Bill Graham couldn't — putting on successful concerts at the Sonoma County Fairgrounds.

"There was no live music in Santa Rosa at the time," Chamlin said as he sat at a desk on the Gate 6 houseboat which serves as Hananda's headquarters. Classical music played softly in the background and tie-died curtains covered the windows.

"There had been concerts there at one time, though, so we figured there was a market for good acts," he went on. Using local talent, Hananda threw a series of profitable concerts that firmly established the company's reputation in the music world, Chamlin said.

About five months ago Hananda — the name is derived from a word meaning peace and bliss — moved to Marin and began planning a series of concerts at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Chamlin and the others — including Alan L. Woods, 25, production manager, and John Busek, 21, advertising manager — unabashedly call the building "the finest concert hall in the world."

After the Cosby-Withers show this month, they hope to present about one a month, including not only comedy but also jazz and folk and rock — "all the endeavors of the entertainment world," according to Woods. The next show will be Nina Simone and Les McCann, Dec. 16-18.

Although Hananda has concentrated on rock concerts in the past, they're branching out now. "We're looking for the tastiest acts we can get," said Woods. "The public chooses its own music and we give them what they want. We're gearing our shows to the taste of Marin, because we think residents here have the finest taste in the Bay Area."

Other promoters — those who may fold after only a few months — haven't learned the simple rule of giving the customer what he wants, he said.

"We've found that promoters who put on shows they want to hear are the only ones in the audience on opening night, and they go out of business," he said.

Locally, said Chamlin, four promoters have come and gone since Hananda was established. "That's because we're businessmen and they weren't. We all like music, but it's a mistake to get all wrapped up in music and forget the business angle," he said. "That's the fastest way to go broke."

Successful promoters make it their business to anticipate what acts will be big. "The music we're listening to now will be on stage in six months," said Woods. "We're that far ahead of public taste."

Chamlin debunks the notion that music promoters are a heartless, unethical lot. "There are many fine people in this business, and I'm friends with almost everyone I deal with," he said.

"In this business," said Woods, "everyone has his own ethics. If a man gets a bad reputation he doesn't last long. Word gets around."

Chamlin agreed. "I may get on the phone and curse and yell at a booking agent but I still like the guy. I'm only trying to get a better deal," he said.

Started on a shoestring in Chamlin's home in Santa Rosa, Hananda has expanded into a solid business operation and is far beyond the danger of going broke because of one disastrous concert, Chamlin said.

Being promoters is a time-consuming, tedious job that often starts early in the morning and goes beyond midnight, Chamlin said.

"But it's all worth it when you look out at an audience on show night and see thousands of happy faces," he said. "It's the best feeling in the world."

Kensington Trio To Play Saturday

The Kensington Trio's next program in its buffet dinner concert series will be Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The trio is composed of pianist Wilbur F. Russell, violinist Stephen Golden and cellist John Bodo. They will play the J. S. Bach Trio Sonata in C; Dirge and Variations by David Amram and the Trio in D Minor, "Dumky", by Dvorak.

Reservations may be obtained by calling the Tamal Food Service in San Anselmo.

Mineral Society Fair Set Saturday

The Marin Mineral Society will hold its first gem and mineral fair Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

John J. Schuck, spokesman for the society, said jewelry, mineral specimens and fossils from throughout Northern California will be on display. Techniques of cutting gems and carving stone will also be demonstrated, he said.

Restoration Comedy Due At Arts Center

Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops To Conquer," a Restoration comedy that explores the struggle to distinguish personal worth from social standing, will open at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts Friday with a special dinner performance.

Tickets for the opening, set for 8:30 p.m. at 267 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, are on sale at the center and at the Mill Valley bus depot. Regular performances will be given Fridays and Saturdays through Dec. 11.

The play is directed by Edgar Weinstock and produced by Sali Lieberman. The cast includes Ray Stephens, Ellen Ernest, Abe Kalish, Marcia Koski, John Fritz, Tyler Horn, Toni Sawyer, Kenneth Perez, Mary Logan, Pamela Taylor, Charles Moore and Elinor Berman.

Friday's Italian dinner will be prepared by Giovanni Lo Coco. Dianne Vaugeois is in charge of decorations.

Nunes Ranch Annexation Plan On Agency List

The Local Agency Formation Commission will consider a request tomorrow that the 285-acre Nunes Ranch in Upper Lucas Valley be annexed to the Lucas Valley County Service Area.

The proposed annexation is the first step toward what the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association hopes will eventually become a greenbelt recreational area near the Lucas Valley communities.

Last month, the association disclosed plans to purchase the property and create a park and recreational area under the supervision of the county.

The property has an assessed valuation of about $74,000.

The commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center, also is expected to consider a request from the city of Novato for annexation of 43 acres on Trumbull Avenue.

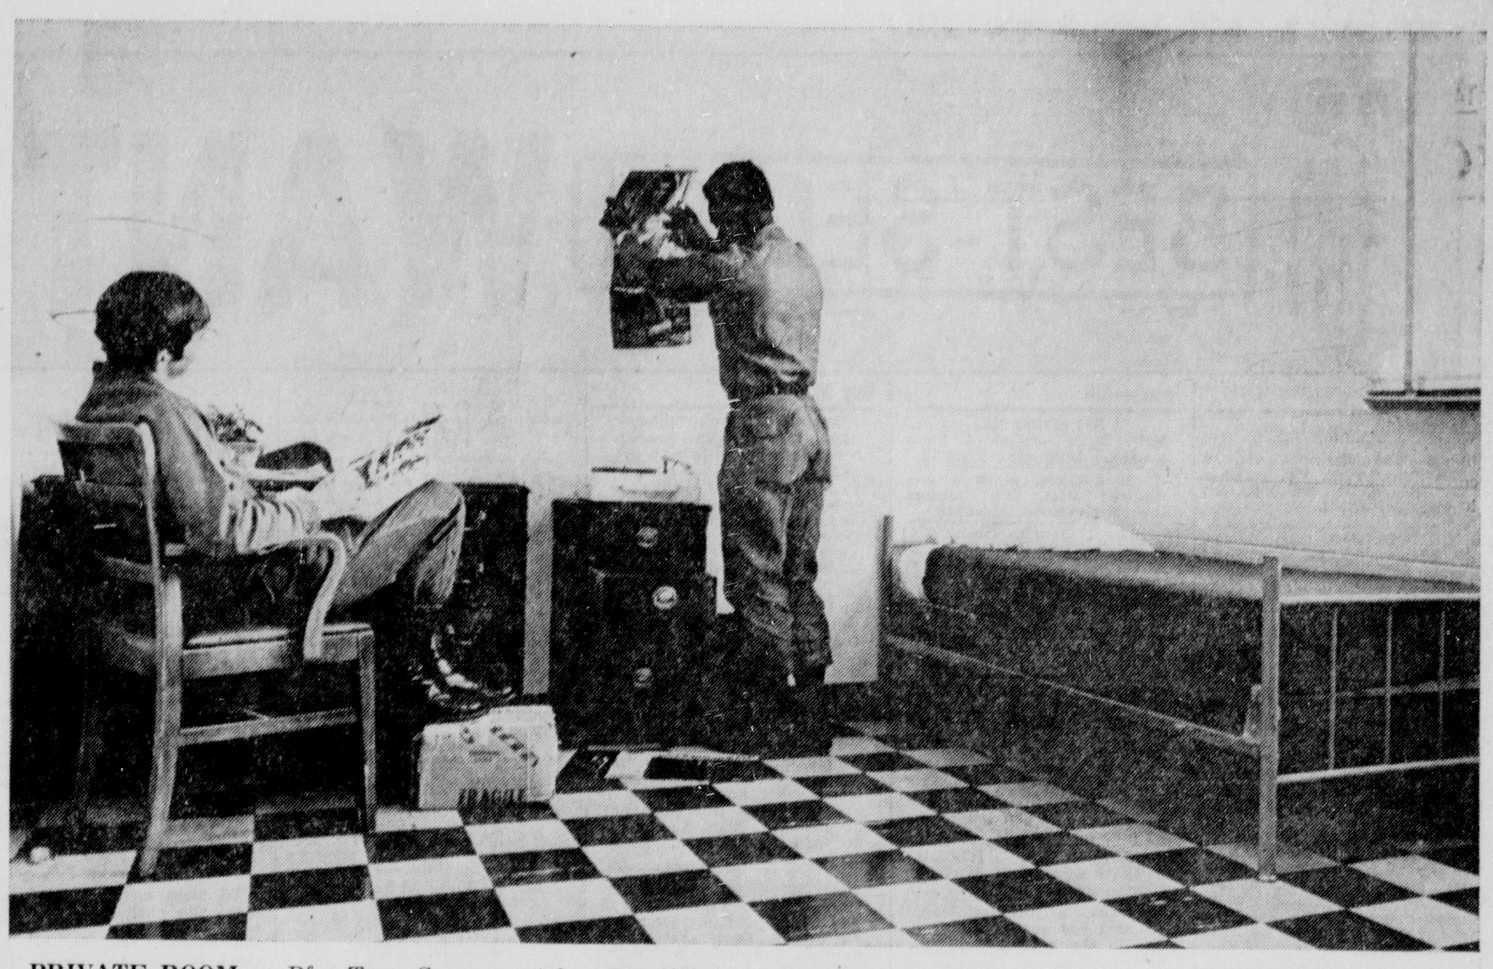
THE ARMY'S NEW LOOK — Army Sp. 4 Michael Bendele eats lunch in the remodeled mess hall at Fort Barry. In place of the traditional metal serving trays and long tables and benches, the fort's mess hall looks more like a cozy neighborhood restaurant, with dishes, bright tablecloths, plants and paintings. The menu ranges from traditional meals through hamburgers and pizza.



PRIVATE ROOM — Pfc. Troy Cowan watches Sgt. John Brooks install a poster on the wall of a room in modernized barracks. The new-look Army life allows not only the posters, but other previously unheard-of luxuries in the barracks such as stereo sets — and even a waterbed in one enlisted man's room at Fort Barry.

EVEN WATERBEDS

Fort Baker's Privates Enjoying Private Digs

By GEORGE NEVIN

Private rooms for privates?

They're being installed at Fort Barry as part of the Army's new look, and soon every man stationed at B Battery, the Marin fort's missile site, will have a measure of privacy formerly enjoyed only by officers.

Not only that, but the men may furnish their rooms any way they wish, and for at least one solider that means a waterbed in place of the regulation Army bunk.

The $22,000 modernization program, in which two former barracks were converted to one-and-two-man rooms, goes hand-in-hand with efforts being made throughout the Army to make it more attractive to potential enlistees.

Hair regulations also have been relaxed — though only slightly — chow improved and the men allowed "to put up whatever they want in their rooms, as long as they keep them neat," said Lt. Douglas L. Walker B Battery's executive officer.

B Battery is part of the First Missile Battalion, 61st Artillery, 13th Artillery Group. It falls under the jurisdiction of the Sixth Region of the Army Air Defense Command, headquartered at Fort Baker. The battery commands a bank of underground Nike Hercules missiles which defend the Bay Area against hostile bombers.

Although the military draft was extended in Congress this year, the Army, aware of mounting criticism to conscription, is presenting a new image to the public in preparation for the time when the Army will be all-volunteer. The new barracks are part of that image.

Walker led a tour of the barracks yesterday and proudly pointed out new color schemes — walls are rust red, yellow and grey instead of institutional green. Area rugs and curtains will match the new paint jobs.

"Now the men can bring in their televisions and stereos and leave them locked up here during the day instead of worrying about them," he said. "They can put up posters or anything they want. There's no restriction on what they can have in their rooms, as long as they're neat."

Gone for good are the days the men had to take down posters for inspections, although inspections themselves remain, Walker said. As he talked, the pungent odor of incense drifted out of one of the rooms.

Between 25 and 30 men live in each barrack, said Walker. Often a two-man room has only one occupant because of cutbacks in troop strength growing out of reduced appropriations by Congress.

To A/5 Jimmy M. Carter, 22, the new regulations mean pinups and a peace symbol on the wall, wind chimes by his door, a stereo component system on his desk and a king-sized waterbed on the floor.

The new barracks are for junior enlisted men, lowest on the military totum pole. Men above specialist fourth class who live at B Battery already had private rooms, as did officers. About half the battery's 127 enlisted men live in private apartments off base.

Like the improved living conditions, the redecorated mess hall with its greater selection of food is designed to compensate the men at B Battery for having to stick close to the base because of drills or the possibility of actual attack.

The mess hall, remodeled last year, has won three awards as best mess hall this year in competition with seven other Bay Area mess halls.

Using an $800 grant, from post exchange funds, the men of the battery installed a false ceiling with subdued lights, built a leather-covered planter-dividier to separate officers from enlisted men and bought a tape deck and amplifier.

Not only is standard Army chow available, but men may order a hamburger, pizza or other nontypical fare if they aren't in the mood for chipped beef on toast, Walker said.

Bright red tablecloths, white curtains and paintings on the hardwood walls give the mess hall the appearance of afriendly, small restaurant rather than a military eating place. There is more variety of food and drink than ever before, according to Mess Sgt. Oliver Browder.

At least one soldier, however, isn't much impressed by all the changes. "My tour is over in six months and I can't wait to get out. This Army is too much," he said.

GOP Delegate Formula Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Ripon Society, a group of liberal Republicans, has filed suit in U.S. District Court asking that the delegate selection formula for the 1972 GOP national convention be declared unconstitutional.

The suit claimed the formula discriminates against the eight most populous states by giving them fewer delegates than their population would warrant.

A similar suit against the Democratic Party's delegate selection machinery, meanwhile, was appealed to the Supreme Court Monday. The Democratic suit asks that the process be changed so that delegates are selected exclusively by the size of the Democratic vote in each state in the last election —a plan that would also give the larger states more delegates.

Davis, Magee Trials: State May Foot Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Senate Finance Committee has approved a bill requiring the state to pay for the murder trials of Angela Davis and Ruchell Magee.

The measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, of San Rafael, was sent on a unanimous vote Monday to the full Senate. Bagley's Marin County district now must bear the costs of the complex cases.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post estimated the trials will cost in excess of $1 million. A spokesman for Marin County said more than $350,000 has already been expended in pretrial activity.

Miss Davis and Magee are charged with murder, kidnaping and conspiracy in connection with the Marin County shootout last year in which a judge and three other persons were shot to death.

The trial of Miss Davis has been moved from Marin to Santa Clara County, but Bagley said Marin would still be liable for the costs if his measure were not passed.

Two Treated In Car Crash

Two 18-year-old San Rafael youths were treated at Marin General Hospital Sunday after their car struck a parked car on San Pedro Road in San Rafael.

The driver of the car, Wayne H. Rogers of 17 Hammondale Court, was treated for multiple cuts, according to hospital officials, and his passenger, Craig M. Hecht of 223 Knight Drive, suffered a mild neck sprain and bruises on his left shoulder.

San Rafael police said Rogers's car struck another car parked on San Pedro Road near Embarcadero Way at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

FFA Barbecue Is Tomorrow Night

The annual chicken barbecue of the Tomales High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Tomales High School, according to Earl Smith, chapter adviser.

Jail Term On Felony Charge

Patrick Wallace Finley, 43, of Petaluma, has been sentenced to 60 days in Marin County Jail for felony drunken driving.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed him on probation for two years and fined him $250.

HOW TO BUY MORE HOUSE THAN YOU CAN AFFORD

Pick a price out of thin air. Then go out and buy it by yourself, and pay more than you'd planned, because you couldn't find what you wanted at the price you had in mind.

A better idea is to let us help. We're Realtors. Experts who know how to help you find what you can afford. And even help you find mortgage money.

Whatever we do, we'll do in your best interest, because we're pledged to a strict code of ethics.

So, doesn't it make sense to see us first?

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

Many, many things, whether you are a buyer or seller. For instance, a Realtor can be invaluable in judging prices and values of homes. He can tell you what the market is (he knows it well) — what homes are worth, and what they are selling for; he can evaluate properties properly, and he can tell you if a price is realistic.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 179350

Superior Court of the State of California City and County of San Francisco

Estate of ADOLPH A. TISCORNIA, also known as A. A. TISCORNIA, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 26th day of November, 1971, the undersigned ALICE B. COPELAND, as executrix of the Will of Adolph A. Tiscornia, also known as A. A. Tiscornia, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest net bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Court, all the right, title and interest the estate has, consisting of a remainder interest only, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, in and to that certain real property situated in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, described as:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of King Street distant thereon 100 feet easterly from the point of intersection of the southerly line of King Street and the easterly line of Magnolia Avenue; running thence easterly along the said southerly line of King Street 50 feet to the northwest corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Giovanni Gianelli to The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, recorded May 19, 1955, in Book 942 of Official Records at page 597, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle southerly along the westerly boundary line of said parcel of land 100 feet; thence at a right angle westerly 50 feet along the southerly line of the parcel of land described in the deed from Walter G. Sellmer to A. B. Copeland, recorded June 13, 1935, in Book 298 of Official Records at page 426, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle northerly along the westerly line of said Copeland parcel (298-426) 100 feet to the southerly line of King Street and the point of beginning.

SUBJECT TO:

Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way and easements of record.

Bid or offers for the property are invited, must be, in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 180 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser.

The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale in preference to cash sale if in the best interests of the estate.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE RE: MINORS' CHANGE OF NAME
No. 61509

WHEREAS, JOHN JAMES FLORES and KAREN FLORES, his wife, petitioners, as guardians of applicants, ELIZABETH DENISE HERNANDEZ, ROBERT ANTHONY HERNANDEZ, MELINDA THERESE HERNANDEZ, and VERONICA DORESE HERNANDEZ, all being under 18 years of age, have filed a petition with the clerk of this court for an order changing applicants' family name from HERNANDEZ to FLORES.

IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above-entitled matter appear before this court at 9 A.M., on Nov. 11, 1971, in the courthouse in San Rafael, Marin County, California, and show cause, if any, why the petition for change of name should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order to show cause be published in the Independent-Journal of Marin, a newspaper of general circulation printed in the County of Marin, California, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the date set for hearing on the petition.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT AND NOTICE TO DEPOSITORS

Notice is hereby given that an Agreement entered into as of March 16, 1971, by and between Union Bank, as Seller and California Canadian Bank, as Purchaser, whereby the Seller sold a portion of its banking business, consisting of its Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices (excluding therefrom its trust business) to the Purchaser, became effective, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of California, at the commencement of business on November 1, 1971.

Please be advised that the deposit liabilities shown on the books of the undersigned bank, Union Bank, for its Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices, as of the commencement of business on November 1, 1971, have been assumed by California Canadian Bank, and that the status of the Fisherman's Wharf (San Francisco), Santa Rosa, San Rafael and Pleasant Hill offices of Union Bank as insured Bank offices will therefore terminate, as provided in Section 8(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act.

You are further advised that California Canadian Bank is an insured Bank, and that your deposits will continue to be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, in the same manner and to the extent provided in said Act.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING IN THE MATTER OF OLIVER KULLBERG (CURRENT OWNER OF THE LODGE) AND CLARENCE AND DAVID LEVERONI FOR WASTE DISCHARGE FROM THE LODGE 8141 REDWOOD HIGHWAY, NOVATO, CALIFORNIA

The California Regional Water Quality Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, November 23, 1971 at 9:30 A.M. in the Alameda County Public Works Building Auditorium, 399 Elmhurst Street, Hayward to consider issuance of an order pursuant to Section 13301 of the California Water Code requiring Oliver Kullburg (CURRENT OWNER OF THE LODGE) and Clarence and David Leveroni to cease and desist from discharging or threatening to discharge waste in violation of waste discharge requirements and directing said dischargers to comply with said requirements or take appropriate remedial or preventive action forthwith or in accordance with a time schedule to be set by the Regional Board. The specific requirements in question are the following:

Discharge be confined to discharger's property at all times.

The Board's staff, the discharger and other interested persons will be given an opportunity to present evidence concerning whether the discharge requirements have been violated and plans and time schedules for obtaining compliance at the earliest practicable date. The discharger and all other interested persons may, but need not, be represented by counsel.

If possible, written copies of testimony to be presented at the hearing should be furnished to the Board in advance of hearing.

The Regional Board file on the discharge of Oliver Kullberg and Clarence and David Leveroni is open to public inspection from 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. on weekdays.

SUMMONS
No. 60127

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

vs.

SAMUEL I. MOORE, also known as S. I. MOORE, and ALSO ALL OTHER PERSONS UNKNOWN, CLAIMING ANY RIGHT, TITLE, ESTATE, LIEN OR INTEREST IN THE REAL PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE COMPLAINT ADVERSE TO PLAINTIFF'S OWNERSHIP OR ANY CLOUD UPON PLAINTIFF'S TITLE THERETO, Defendants.

To the Defendants:

A civil complaint has been filed by the plaintiffs against you. If you wish to defend this lawsuit, you must file in this court a written pleading in response to the complaint within thirty (30) days after this summons is served on you. Otherwise your default will be entered on application by the plaintiffs and the court may enter a judgment against you for the money or other relief requested in the complaint.

The object of this action is to make the above-named defendants set forth the nature of their claim or claims to the real property in the complaint and hereinafter described, if any they have, and that such claim or claims be adjudged to be of no effect and void, and that plaintiffs' title to said real property be quieted against them.

That said real property is situate in the City of Belvedere, County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described as follows:

Parcel One:

Beginning at a point in the northeasterly line of Beach Road, formerly "Bay View Ave." which point is the most southerly corner of Lot 12, Block 1, as said lot and block are shown on that certain map entitled, "Map No. 3 of the Belvedere Peninsula, Marin County, Cal." filed June 26, 1891 in the Office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin; running thence from said point of beginning along said road line south 38° 21' east 51.36 feet to the most southerly corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Rose M. Rotchy to Martha M. Morrison, recorded July 25, 1955 in Book 958 of Official Records at page 161; thence along the southeasterly line of the parcel of land described in said last mentioned deed north 38° 26' east 134.72 feet to a point distant 65.02 feet from the easterly corner thereof; thence leaving said line north 77° 51' west 89.22 feet; thence south 28° 26' west 50.0 feet; thence south 27° 23' east 32.89 feet and south 38° 26' and west 20.0 feet to the point of beginning.

Parcel Two:

Beginning at the most easterly corner of the property described above as Parcel One and running north 38° 26' east 65.02 feet to the northeasterly line of Lot 11 in Block 1, map above referred to.

IF YOU WISH TO SEEK THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY IN THIS MATTER, YOU SHOULD DO SO PROMPTLY SO THAT YOUR PLEADING, IF ANY, MAY BE FILED ON TIME.

Insurance Through Mails Is Growing

NEW YORK (UPI) —Mail order insurance is gaining an increasing share of the annual $20 billion health insurance market, according to an industry executive.

Harry T. Dozor, president of Union Fidelity Corporation, health and accident insurance company, says a growing number of consumers are purchasing health insurance protection directly from companies in response to offers made through various advertising media. He attributes this to a number of factors, including a vacuum which has developed in agency insurance selling and a desire of consumers to make an independent judgment in purchasing protection.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Those Who Use Arms A Lot Frequently Suffer Bursitis

Bursitis is one of the most common rheumatic disorders. Bursae are the thin-walled sacs located wherever tendons move across one another or over bones. These structures contain lubricating fluid to help the tendons glide smoothly.

Shoulder bursitis does not begin as true inflammation of a bursa. The culprit is the supraspinatus tendon that passes from the upper shoulder through the middle of the bursa to the outer part of the upper arm. It helps raise or lower the arm, and in so doing may get pinched between the shoulder bone and upper arm bone.

Those who use the arm more than usual — such as violinists, conductors, athletes and painters — are more likely to be bothered with bursitis of the shoulder. Repeated trauma leads to swelling of the tendon within the bursal sac. A blister forms in much the same way as it does on the foot that rubs against a shoe.

As pressure within the bursa increases, the shoulder becomes painful. This may take place suddenly or gradually. When severe, pain occurs throughout the shoulder and extends downward into the hand. It may be so excruciating, the arm cannot be moved more than a few inches. Pain lessens within 7 to 10 days, as swelling subsides. Several weeks may elapse before the individual can reach into his back pocket or put an arm into a sleeve without distress. Injecting a steroid directly into the bursa is the best remedy.

Also useful are X-rays, procaine injections or needling to remove the fluid. Heat and massage lessen residual stiffness. It is advisable to move the arm periodically to avoid scar tissue and a frozen shoulder.

WHY TORTURE

M. B. R. writes: I am in perfect health and for years have been smoking one cigarette each night before I go to bed to stop me from thinking. It also stops me from doing everything else as it makes my heart beat fast and hard. I can barely get my clothes off and get into bed. In the morning I'm fit as a fiddle but if I take one cigarette during the day I'm so nervous and depressed I can't work and the thought of food nauseates me. I would like to know why smoking has this effect.

REPLY

Some people are more sensitive than others to nicotine. Many persons have strange rituals to promote sleep. Why don't you change yours, since smoking knocks you out?

LOW FAT DIET

H. M. writes: My doctor wants me to reduce by cutting down on fats in the diet but otherwise to eat the same. Does this mean I can eat all the fruits and vegetables I want?

REPLY

Yes, although carbohydrates may encourage more weight gain than fats. However, don't butter the vegetables. Our low fat diet may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

THE HARDENING PROCESS

Y. I. writes: Do most old people have some hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Yes. The hardening process begins the moment we are born. Arteriosclerosis has been found in young soldiers killed on the battlefield and it is doubtful whether anyone past 60 does not have a few hardened arteries here and there. But water will run through a rusty pipe for many years and the same can be said of blood coursing through the hardened vessel. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

'GAS' FROM MILK

E. L. writes: Could drinking two quarts of milk a day cause excessive gas in an adult!

REPLY

Yes, but why guess? Give up the milk for a few days and you will have your answer.

EXTRACTIONS IN DIABETICS

S. K. writes: Is it safe for a diabetic to have two bad teeth extracted?

REPLY

Yes, provided the diabetes is under control.

BRACES AND ARTHRITIS

E. F. writes: Is wearing a brace of any value in arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the back needs rest and added support.

BOY OR GIRL?

S. C. writes: What factors determine the sex of the fetus?

REPLY

The combination of chromosomes in the original germ cells. Both male and female have 46 chromosomes. The male has 44 plus an X and a Y sex chromosome and the female 44 plus XX sex chromosomes. An XY mean a boy whereas an XX is a girl.

LIP SURGERY

A reader writes: I know that plastic surgery is used on the nose and ears but is it ever used on the lips? A heavy bottom lip is just as unattractive as a big nose and large ears.

REPLY

Yes.

'ANEMIC' BRAIN

H. G. writes: What can be done for anemia of the brain?

REPLY

Medicines are available to improve the circulation of the brain and to increase the force of the heart so that it pumps more blood to our gray matter.

AN ETHNIC ANEMIA

R. D. writes: Where does pernicious anemia come from?

REPLY

We know what the disease does and what to do for it but the cause has escaped detection. In PA, a defect in the stomach prevents the absorption of vitamin B12. The condition seems to run in families and is partial to certain nationalities such as the British and Scandinavians.

Defective Mounts Found In 1965 To 1969 Autos

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The Auto Club of Missouri said Monday tests on American cars produced since 1965 showed that a percentage of every make of automobile had defective motor mounts.

In a report released Monday, the club said it made the discovery while checking Chevrolets at its auto diagnostic center to document recent National Highway Traffic Safety Administration charges that faulty motor mounts had been found in Chevrolets produced from 1965 to 1969.

Other cars produced since 1965 also were checked during the study, the club said, and their motor mounts were found defective.

The mounts, consisting of a pad of rubber between two steel plates, are designed to absorb noise, vibration and torque reaction from the engine's operation while providing support. Defective mounts can cause loss of control of a car.

The club said it inspected 536 cars at its clinic last month and 115 were found to have broken mounts and 56 worn mounts. Of the cars inspected, the club said General Motors cars had 29 per cent defective mounts, Ford 22 per cent and Chrysler 10 per cent. ONE of 19 American Motor Co. cars checked on had a broken mount. In addition, defective mounts were discovered on Volkswagen, Mercedes and MG cars, the club said.

Tests showed that a motor mount can separate. When it does, the engine raises and can jam the accelerator and gear shift linkages and can possibly affect the power steering and power brakes.

Wallet Turns Up On A Man's Body

CAIRO (UPI)—Abdel Karim Maksoud was bemoaning the loss of his wallet Monday when police arrived and asked him to identify the body of Abdel Karim Maksoud.

It turned out the dead man was a thief who had taken Maksoud's wallet and then had died. Police had gone to Maksoud's house on the basis of papers found in the wallet.

U.C. Loses Round In Angela Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A judge Monday refused to dismiss a lawsuit filed more than two years ago aimed at preventing the University of California from ever rehiring Angela Davis.

The UC Board of Regents sought a summary judgment dismissing the suit on grounds it had become moot because Miss Davis is charged with murder.

But Superior Court Judge Robert Wenke said the case "is a matter of great public interest" and indicated a dangerous precedent could be set if the suit were thrown out.

The suit was filed by Donald C. Gallagher, an attorney and onetime Republican congressional candidate.

Stanley Shapiro, appearing for Gallagher Monday, said the suit would be withdrawn if Miss Davis "will sign a written statement that she will never seek a teaching position" at the university.

"If not, this action is the only insurance that our taxpayers have that Miss Davis will not, if she is found not guilty in her criminal action, return to the UCLA teaching staff as a heroine and a martyr and a constant source of inspiration to existing potential communists and Black Panthers on campus."

Miss Davis taught a philosophy course for one year at UCLA.

Hamilton's trouble shooter

EQUAL TREATMENT

His Job: Smoothing Ruffled Feathers

Keeping life in the Air Force a two-way street, might be described as the job for Capt. Kenneth L. Coleman, who has the title of Equal Opportunities Officer for Hamilton Air Force Base.

The title is relatively new — it was created by the Air Defense Command on Sept. 1 — but some of the complaints it handles are as old as society.

One recent case, Captain Coleman reported, was the problem of the Hamilton Air Force Base man from Guam who wanted to send one of his children back to his Pacific home to go to college.

The father ran into a one-way regulation. It said that GIs stationed in Guam, Alaska, Hawaii or Puerto Rico could fly their children to colleges in the mainland United States free on military aircraft when space was available, but, the policy didn't work the other direction.

The man from Guam turned to Captain Coleman, who worked through official channels to show the Pentagon that its rule was unfair. The student got his free ride to Guam.

Many of the problems handled by the 29-year-old black Captain Coleman involve racial prejudice, but "I want to see every military person get equal treatment regardless of race, creed or sex," he said.

The equal opportunities officer met with some suspicion when he began the job. But Coleman stressed that he was a member of the establishment, working through the establishment to solve inequities.

"After I had been on the job for some time some of the whites told me they saw I hadn't burned down Hamilton, so I was OK," Coleman said.

But to "the white conservative, I am a militant; to the militant blacks and whites, I am a conservative," Coleman said. "Why, I've even been called an Uncle Tom," he added.

His job is fourfold: Counseling base airmen, assuring that the base's services are responsive to all personnel, advising unit commanders and supervisors on dealings with minorities, and disseminating information on what the base does for its personnel.

The problems range from obtaining a transfer for a racially mixed couple whose mutual supervisor opposed their marriage, to smoothing the ruffled feathers of a serviceman who may only imagine that he is a victim of prejudice.

Coleman's job requires close cooperation with the base legal office and with the base commander, Col. Vermont Garrison, whom Coleman praised for his support of the new Office of Equal Opportunity.

Coleman joined the Air Force seven years ago after graduating with an industrial management degree from Ohio State University. He plans to study law in the future.

Coleman's wife, Jackie, is a counselor at the University of Santa Clara.

The equal opportunities officer said Marin County provides a healthy social climate for the base and for his job of making sure that the military system is "more responsive to the individual, rather than treating them like masses."

Less Psychiatry Services Use

BERKELEY (UPI) —Student use of the psychiatric services at the University of California's Cowell Hospital has dropped 50 per cent, it was reported Monday.

Alan Fong, copresident of the Associated Students organization, said the clinic patients last month numbered 448 hours in comparison with 990 hours for the same period in 1970.

Ten staff members have been suspended and seven quit over the policies of the director, a spokesman said.

The controversy stemmed over the discussion of personal interviews of patients.

Big Prep Grid Windup On Novato Field

The fate of the coveted Marin County Athletic League football crown will be decided when San Rafael High School invades Novato High Saturday, 1 p.m.

The remaining league slate shows Terra Linda at Drake on the San Rafael High School field, Friday, 8 p.m. and Redwood at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley, Saturday, 1 p.m. O'Connell High of San Francisco visits Marin Catholic in Kentfield Saturday, 2 p.m., in a non-league game.

Station KTIM will broadcast the San Rafael-Novato titanic, pitting the league's two top offenses. Novato, which already owns a share of the 1971 title, presents a diversified attack, while San Rafael relies on its gaudy ground attack.

The San Rafael Bulldogs, seeking an MCAL championship deadlock, will star All-League halfback Scott Duncan and a cast of four. The quartet includes fullback Mark Farrar, quarterback Dirk Gansloser, wingback Dave Urquhart and alternate halfback Jim Grigg.

Despite the flashiness of this unit, Duncan is still the key. The brilliant tailback has amassed some 2,492 yards in his Bulldog career going into the finale. Novato must contain him without overlooking the other four. Terra Linda seemingly geared its defense to stop Duncan but Farrar ran wild.

Although the San Rafael attack is impressive, so is Novato's. The Hornets have All-League quarterback Marty Moroski, an able field general who mixes up his calls well. Additionally, the Black and Gold trot out brilliant halfback Leo Magers. This elusive game breaker has proven to be a fine clutch performer, scoring two touchdowns in Novato's 21-15 triumph over Redwood Friday. That victory insured the Hornets of at least a piece of the championship; a win Saturday would give Novato undisputed honors.

Only pride will be at stake in the other battles. The 1970 champion Terra Linda Trojans close out the year against Drake. Both teams were mid-season contenders but losses to Novato snuffed out their championship dreams. The Trojans may have an edge with quarterback Kevin Donohoe at the controls, providing he has sufficiently recovered from a head injury suffered Saturday in a

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Football great Ernie Nevers of Tiburon was on hand at the Marin Chapter, 49er Goal Rushers luncheon yesterday, representing the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, and took a pretty good swipe at the Oakland Raiders while he was there.

Nevers, chairman of the Northern California chapter of the foundation, received a $100 check for the foundation from the Goal Rushers, and then talked football.

SAN FRANCISCO cornerback Jim Johnson was supposed to be the 49er guest speaker at yesterday's luncheon at Holiday Inn, but never showed up. Just another name added to the list of missing persons.

Nevers and Al Scott, coach of the Marin County Athletic League champion Novato High School Hornets, did a good job of making up for Johnson's absence.

Nevers talked about the Raiders' 20-20 tie with Kansas City two weeks ago, in which Oakland had a fourth down and inches to go for a touchdown, with 2:31 left in the game, and went for the tying field goal instead.

"I LOST ALL my respect for the Raiders when they went for the tie," he declared. "I never played a game in my life that I didn't play to win."

Scott agreed with the former All-American from Stanford.

"I know the players can't say much," said Scott, "but I know they would have rather gone for the touchdown. They should have gone for the whole ball of wax. When we play San Rafael Saturday, a tie would still give us the undisputed championship. But we won't be going for a tie against San Rafael. We're going for a win."

SCOTT BROUGHT along his star running back, Leo Magers, who was introduced to the Goal Rushers. "I'm really happy to be on a number one team," said the scrappy Magers. "I couldn't be playing with a better bunch of kids."

Nevers noted that there is nothing new, offensively, in pro football, allowing the defense to dominate play, which got nods of agreement from his listeners.

"I think football will have to have some changes offensively," he said. "I would like to see them throw out the three-point field goal." He went on to say new formations offensively would probably befuddle most pro defenses, as did the 49ers' "Shotgun" formation of a few years back.

NEVERS EXPLAINED how the Northern California Chapter of the Football Foundation and Hall of Fame awards five $1,000 scholarships to high school graduates in the San Francisco Bay Area. Of the 22 nominations for the scholarships, Marin County will get two. The granting of the scholarships is based on scholarship, need, outside activities, and football talent, in that order.

Scott urged the Goal Rushers to take in some of the Marin County high school games because there's always excitement on the prep scene. Then he declared a new dynasty in prep football.

"We're taking Terra Linda's place winning titles," he said referring to the school that had won five straight MCAL crowns prior to this season. The way he said it, he didn't get any arguments.

Those of you who saw Novato's title clinching 21-15 victory over Redwood last Friday know why I had to ask Magers whether he kept that white jersey No. 11. By the time the game ended, the shirt was literally ripped to shreds.

'Friendly' 49ers Set Title Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49er defense is still friendly with the offense, the team's coaches guarantee.

While the defense made like the thin red line last Sunday at Minnesota and repelled every Viking touchdown bid, the offense turned the ball over to the enemy five times.

San Francisco finally staggered to victory 13-9 in one of the team's all-time best defensive games while the offense seemingly still can't figure out how to cut down on the mistakes.

Wiggin also said he thought the offense "played a good game overall, considering the strength of the Minnesota defense."

Head coach Dick Nolan echoed the unity theme when he said everybody was still friends: "Sometimes the offense wins it; sometimes the defense; sometimes the special teams," he said. "I thought our offensive line played good football."

Nolan denied that wider line spacing has been responsible for John Brodie's 15 interceptions in eight games as compared to 10 in the 1970 season.

"The worst thing an offensive line can do is crowd in close. It's too restrictive. You can't run the ball, "Nolan said.

The statistics bear out that the 49er running attack is far better than last year's—as long as the 1971 runners can hold on to the ball.

Marin's Horwitz Wins Cycle Race At Corte Madera

Marc Horwitz of the Marin Cyclists won the first race of the nine-race winter training bicycle series with a time of 24:28 for 10 miles Sunday in Corte Madera.

The series is run by Marin County's three cycling clubs — Marin, the Belmont Bicycle Club, and Club Endspurt. It will continue through Feb. 20.

Second to Horwitz was Keith Vierra of Belmont with 25:22. Horwitz and Vierra are both classified as juniors, and usually seniors finish at the top of races like this.

DEFENSE SHINES

Baltimore Colts Bombard Rams

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts parlayed back-to-back roughing the kicker penalties, a piece of plaster and a garbage can runner, subbing for a sick and injured running star, into a 24-17 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Monday night.

Played beneath a lurid, red half moon in the cold of Memorial Stadium, the bizarre became the commonplace in critical games for each team.

HENDRICKS SCORES

Baltimore had just tied the score at 10-10 with a Jim O'Brien' 32-yard field goal, when Curtis stuck his mummified thumb into Larry Smith's arm-cradle of the ball. The ball squirted straight back five yards into the arms of Ted Hendricks, who raced 31 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

For Curtis, the play signifed some personal revenge on the Rams. Soaking his thumb in the whirlpool bath after the game, the Colt linebacker quipped, "One of the Rams told Ray May they were looking past Miami to last week when they lost to the Dolphins, the jerks."

MATTE TALLIEST

It was Matte's second touchdown of the game. He ran four yards for the Colts' first touchdown. Matte was also the Colts chief offensive threat picking up 97 yards in 19 carries as fever and an ankle injury slowed Norm Bulaich, Baltimore's leading rusher.

Dubbed a garbage can runner by former Lion Alex Karras and coming off knee surgery, Matte was elated over his best performance of the season.

OUTLASTS KARRAS

"I outlasted Karras in this league, so I guess he can call me anything he wants," Matte laughed.

The Colts' only offensive weapon against the stringent Ram defense in the first half was the roughing-the-kicker call.

Baltimore punter David Lee was knocked down by charging Dave Elmendorf while punting from the Colt 19. Elmendorf said he had touched the ball first, thereby making his action legal, but the referee saw it differently and returned possession of the ball to the Colts.

Baltimore advanced to midfield before their drive was halted and Lee came on to punt again. Elmendorf clearly ran into Lee after he got his punt off and the Colts again retained possession, this time driving downfield for Matte's first score.

Roman Gabriel almost capped the evening's weird events when he hit Matt Maslowski for a 36-yard touchdown to bring the Rams to within seven, 24-17, but the Colts' Tom Curtis grabbed L.A.'s onside kick to preserve the Baltimore win.

The victory kept the Colts only a half-game behind Miami in their battle in the AFC east, while the Rams fell to one and a half games behind the NFC West's pace-setting San Francisco 49ers.

Stanford Band Back In Furor

STANFORD (UPI) — The unique Stanford band, which salutes such unusual subjects as pornography and pot, was back in the middle of a controversy today.

Shortly before the kickoff of last Saturday's game with UCLA, the band formed a formation of "Jim 1.6."

This was a reference to UCLA's Jim McAlister, the legendary back who didn't pass the projected 1.6 grade average test and thus was not eligible this season.

Coach Pepper Dodgers admitted he was annoyed and commented "they don't seem to like James McAlister. Well, they'll hear from him in the future."

And Stanford Athletic Director Chuck Taylor said he did not see the formation, but that he was unhappy with the antic. He promised to write UCLA athletic director J. D. Morgan an apology.

"I don't know who is responsible. You just never know what kids are going to do," Taylor said.

Morgan declined comment.

A spokesman for SMUT—that's Stanford Marching Unit Thinkers—said the idea was supposed to be a joke, not a putdown.

"All of our antics are lighthearted. No one should be offended. Outside of the National Anthem and Stanford fight song nothing we do is taken very seriously. Actually, we're in sympathy with McAlister.

Injuries, Trades, Mishaps Underscore Raiders' New Look

OAKLAND (UPI) —Of the 24 men who started at offense, defense and kickers for the Oakland Raiders in the championship game at Baltimore last January, only 12 remained for last Sunday's frustrating 21-21 tie at New Orleans.

That's because the Raiders have traded heavily and been racked with strange mishaps but still somehow stay on top of the heap. While they tied New Orleans, Kansas City was upset by the New York Jets so the Raiders (5-1-2) lead their archrival Chiefs (5-2-1) in the American Division West.

Traditionally, the loser of that struggle still makes the playoffs with the best second place finish but Miami (6-1-1) and Baltimore (6-2) are fighting it out in the Eastern Division so while a mediocre Central Division team gets to the playoffs one of the four powerhouse teams won't.

The wide receiver spot symbolizes the Raiders' difficulties.

Warren Wells was jailed; Rod Sherman twisted his ankle; Eldridge Dickey was suspended last week for disciplinary problems, so Dre Buie started against the Saints.

Seals Embark On Road Swing; Visit Boston

OAKLAND (UPI) —The California Golden Seals have a few days to rest and enjoy a situation they haven't been in since 1968.

The Seals amazed a crowd of 3,865 home fans in the Oakland coliseum arena Sunday night by whipping Toronto, 8-1, and moved into third place in the National Hockey League Western Division behind Chicago and first-place Minnesota.

Golden State Warriors Host Houston Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Golden State Warriors hope they can keep their hot start going tonight when they return to Oakland Arena to face the uncertain Houston Rockets.

The Warriors have won six of their last seven and the Rockets have lost 11 of their last 13, but will undoubtedly be much stronger when they resolve their internal problems.

The Warriors have averaged only 101 points per game, but that figure looks good when matched with the defensive mark of 95 points allowed — second low in the NBA.

Cazzie Russell not only has been the difference for the Warriors on the floor, as his number 10 rating in latest scoring statistics shows, but also he has meant a difference at the gate, too.

The Warriors are drawing the kinds of procage crowds that haven't been seen in the Bay Area since the days of Rick Barry.

In addition, the Barry-less Warriors seemingly display better teamwork under coach Al Attles. The North Carolina A & T graduate unloaded hot shooting, but slow moving, Jerry Lucas for Russell's speed and hustle. Attles also picked up guard Jim Barnett from Portland and three draft picks. The latter move has added guard depth, enabling Attles to retire and devote full attention to coaching.

FISH AND GAME

Salmon Season Finale Sunday; Fish Biting

By AL GIDDINGS

Most of the anglers after salmon this past week found the weather good and the fish biting. The salmon season closes next Sunday and the fishing is still worthwhile. Bob Lochinauer and his gang, fishing out of Loch Lomond, tried the Duxberry Buoy area. They caught two fish per rod with an 18-pounder the top fish.

AT THE San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, Lloyd Hahn and his crew took eight nice fish with John Flint of Belvedere taking a 28-pound lunker. They fished the Duxberry-Rocky Point area, also. It looked like 50-75 boats out last Sunday in that area.

Not to be outdone by the salmon fishermen, Chet Lavin of the Marin Road and Gun Club tried the club pier. He's the fellow who caught that 164-pound sturgeon last season; the one with the 32 pounds of caviar. Well, he did it again! He successfully hooked and landed a 90-pound sturgeon from practically the same spot.

INCIDENTALLY, I finally received the results of the mercury test from his last year's fish. The amount was very small and with Chet giving all his friends a piece of fish, there was no danger problems.

There were a number of other fish, both sturgeon and bass, taken at the Pumphouse-S.P. buoy areas. Things are picking up. Chet caught his sturgeon on an anchovy.

FOR THE HUNTERS: Duck hunting is generally fair in most areas. Gray Lodge and Sutter provided some top shooting with their Oct. 30 late opening. Norm Quadros took a limit at Grizzly Island last Wednesday and he said he wasn't shooting up to par. Lots of canvasbacks noted around the bay. Don't forget the limit on cans this year statewide is two birds.

On Saturday, pheasant season opens. The season runs from Nov. 13 through Dec. 5 statewide. In some of the southern counties, hens may be taken, but in all local areas and the balance of the state only males can be taken. Two male pheasants per day on Nov. 13 and 14, four males per day on Nov. 15 through Dec. 5, but not more than ten males per season. Hunters may possess four pheasants on the second day of the hunting season.

I received a note from the Kiwanis Club of Tule Lake. Here it is:

PHEASANT HUNTERS hunting for a place to hunt when the season opens Nov. 13, are made a good offer by the Kiwanis Club of Tulelake, in Siskiyou County.

"The annual Pheasant Hunt and Key Club Breakfast the following morning, Nov. 14, will again be sponsored by the Tulelake Kiwanis Club, reports Leonard O. Weber, Kiwanis Hunt Club Chairman.

"The club has sponsored the subscription hunt for several years and makes available thousands of acres of private farm lands to participating hunters.

"This year's autumn top upland bird attraction will blast off at 8 a.m. Saturday, November 13, and run through December 5.

"For additional information on the upcoming pheasant season, write for your application from to, Leonard Weber, Tulelake Kiwanis Hunt Club, P. O. Box 2, Tulelake, California, 96134. It could mean a season's limit of ringnecks in your freezer."

20-6 loss to St. Ignatius of San Francisco. Regardless of Donohoe's status, the Trojans will miss the versatile Mike Sabel, out with a hip pointer. The combination end-halfback was a valuable cog in the Terra Linda offensive machine.

Without him, the running responsibilities will fall on backs Sean Casey and Doug Long. Each has enjoyed outstanding moments this annum.

Conversely, the Drake Pirates have healthy stallions to prance out Friday. Halfback Phil Wilkinson and fullback Rick Bozzio head this parade, backed strongly by Dave DeMoss and Rick Herbert.

In this year of the running back, Redwood also stands out. The Giants will trot out Mark Asiano, Mike Connor, Daryl Edralin and Jay Lehman, hoping to hand Tam its ninth consecutive defeat. The Indians will attempt to counter with a sound running assault of its own led by Craig Marshall, Don Parker, Alvin Price, and Clifford Hall. Quarterback Pat Locey adds another dimension with his successful scrambling antics, while alternate signal caller Tim Nowell brings a strong arm into vogue.

Marin Catholic will try to collect its seventh straight triumph at O'Connell's expense. If Bruno Banducci's charges pull it off, this would complete quite a reversal from the 0-2 start this fall.

The Wildcats of Kentfield will pin its hopes on a precocious defense and a quarterbacking combination of Steve Sherry and Steve Schaumleffel. Each has excelled at various points throughout the year. The offense also sports halfbacks Lane Cozza and Rick Cervisi, a consistent pair who came through when tailback Pat Parnow was injured. The outstanding tailback's return Saturday would conceivably enhance the Wildcat's chances of notching that sought-after seventh win.

PREP OF THE WEEK

Quiet Doar Leads By Example

When San Marin High School was seeking to protect a hard-earned 12-8 lead Saturday against Tamalpais High in the waning moments, the loser's of 13 straight football games reached deep into the team's playbook for appropriate calls.

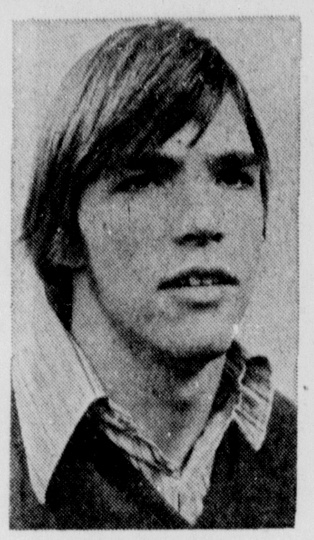
The sequences which followed in the waning moments were predictable — Fred Doar over left guard and Fred Doar over-right guard. For diversity, Fred Doar went up the middle.

The results were a 12-8 victory for San Marin and Independent-Journal recognition as the top prep player of the week for Fred Doar. The 6-foot-2, 185-pound junior fullback completed the highly satisfying afternoon of heroics with 108 yards in 16 carries, which speaks loudly for a man of few words.

"Fred is a quiet guy, but he is a leader," said San Marin coach Bob Martin. "He leads by example, and the other players selected him captain of the team this year."

Doar just about grew up with football. His father was a lineman for the University of New Mexico's Sun Bowl team in 1946, and both brothers are currently playing football — Jeff with Sinaloa Junior High and Mark for the San Marin Colts in the Pop Warner League.

Football takes up a lot of Fred's time, but he is still able to stay involved in his hobby — motorcycling. Dirt bike riding, to be specific. "It's a lot more fun than street riding," he says. "You can just go. Greg Sherwood (San Marin teammate) and I both have dirt bikes."



FRED DOAR
Clutch runner

College football certainly enters into Fred's plans. "I'd like to go to a football school, possibly back east." He was born in Wisconsin and lived for seven years near Cleveland, Ohio, before his father was transferred to this area by the Hills Bros. Coffee Co.

"Fred has the potential to be a major college football player," said Martin. "We'd like to see him work with the weights and get up to maybe 210 pounds next year. He's one of the hardest hitters on the team — he runs so hard in practice, our kids hate to tackle him."

With a 3.8 grade-point average, Doar could make it into virtually any school.

This season, Doar has averaged 4.6 yards a carry, gaining 427 yards on 97 tries. He also starts at linebacker on defense.

Doar is a valuable cog in Martin's developing defense. This young unit will be back next year, and Doar is one reason why big things are expected from the 1972 San Marin defenders. Throughout this year, Martin lauded Doar for helping to mold the linebacking corps into the heart of the highly regarded defense. Marin County Athletic League observers pointed to Doar's sure-tackling abilities and overall strength.

This type of versatility, which manifests in both his offensive and defensive play, carries over into two other sports, notably basketball and track.

He was a forward for San Marin's junior varsity cage team last year, and in track did the triple jump, 220-yard relay, 440 relay and mile relay.

This kind of agility and athletic prowess, combined with his aggressiveness and potential for size, stamp Fred Doar as one of the finest high school football players in Marin County.

COAST FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Stanford middle linebacker Jeff Siemon is the Pacific 8 Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

Siemon, called by his coach the best linebacker in the country, called the signals for the Stanford defense and contributed eight primary stops and five assists as the Indians cinched the Rose Bowl with a 20-9 win over UCLA.

Previously, Oregon's Bobby Moore was named offensive player for his 94 yards rushing and 112 yards on pass receptions in Oregon's win over Air Force.

California

BERKELEY (UPI) — California drilled for only an hour Monday as coach Ray Willsey cut the practice schedule to give his team a "needed rest."

Willsey said the Bears had their usual "bumps and bruises" after a 30-7 loss Saturday to Washington, but may be in better shape for Saturday's game against Oregon in Eugene.

Running back Isaac Curtis, who scored Cal's only touchdown against the Huskies with a 63-yard gallop late in the game, was excused from practice. He picked up his wife Dianne from the UC Medical center where she had a baby girl Saturday.

Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) —The Rose Bowl-bound Stanford Indians had a leisurely workout Monday to begin preparation for a game Saturday with San Jose State.

Coach John Ralston wasn't taking the San Jose contest lightly—terming it a contest with "our long-standing rival opponent."

Workouts were on an informal basis, he said, featuring weight lifting and exercises.

Southern California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tailback Sam Cunningham is out for the season for the University of Southern California football team and will undergo surgery to repair injuries to knee ligaments he suffered Saturday.

The Trojans still are hopeful that running back Charles Hinton, who received rib injuries, would be available for Saturday's game against Washington. Hinton, however, did not practice Monday.

Farm Director Seghi Quits Oakland A's

OAKLAND (UPI)—Phil Seghi, director of farm operations and scouting for the Oakland Athletics for the past four seasons, resigned Monday to "look elsewhere for a new opportunity."

Seghi insisted there was "no dispute with Mr. Finley (Charlie, owner of the A's) and no animosity. He has been very kind to me."

Expansion Plans Top NHL Meeting

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — The expansion of the National Hockey League to Long Island and Atlanta is expected to be recommended today at the completion of a two-day meeting of the NHL's Board of Governors.

Such expansion would block the scheme of the proposed World Hockey Association, whose plans are based on having a team play in the 15,000-seat Nassau Coliseum slated for completion next year.

Baseball

NEW YORK — The World Series payoff pie was divided Monday and each member of the winning Pittsburgh Pirates received a slice worth $18,164.58. Members of the losing Baltimore Orioles were awarded $13,906.46.

The San Francisco Giants and Oakland Athletics, West Division champions who lost in the playoffs, split $217,790.66. Individual shares for the A's amounted to $6,365.58, while Giant players will receive $6,198.29 each.

Bowling

ROCHESTER, N.Y — Veteran righthander Johnny Guenther, down by 51 pins midway through the final phase of the Mercury Open, bounced back to capture his sixth Professional Bowlers Association title Monday night, winning the $40,000 event by a 278-pin margin.

Arthur Ashe Up To Fifth In Rankings

DALLAS (UPI)—Arthur Ashe jumped from seventh to fifth place in the World Championship Tennis point standings by winning the Stockholm Open, according to latest figures released Monday.

Ashe's victory over Czech Jan Kodes in the finals gave Ashe $10,000 and 10 WCT points virtually assuring him a spot in the $100,000 playoffs that will decide this year's professional tennis champion.

The championship matches begin next week in Houston and the only person not sure of a spot in the runoffs is Bob Lutz of Tiburon.

Lutz has 39 points and his only serious challenger for the No. 8 spot is Andres Gimeno of Spain. Gimeno has 30 points and if he could win this week's Italian Indoor Championships at Bologna and if Lutz is eliminated in the first round, Gimeno would replace Lutz as the eighth and final entry in the championship tournament.

The first rounds of the $100,000 playoff will be held Nov. 18, 19, and 21 in Houston. The finals, which will be televised nationally, will be held Nov. 26 in Dallas.

The eight WCT players with the most points at the end of the season compete for the $50,000 first prize in the final tournament. The current point standings with only the Italian tournament left:

Rod Laver, Australia, 77.25 points; Tom Okker, Netherlands, 73 points; Ken Rosewall, Australia, 70 points; Cliff Drysdale, South Africa, 67.25 points; Ashe, United States, 61.25 points; John Newcombe, Australia, 60 points; Marty Riessen, United States, 53 points; and Lutz, United States, 39 points.

Roy Emerson of Australia is currently in ninth place with 34 points but will not be able to overtake Lutz.

Frazier Ready For Ali But. . .

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier said Monday he would like to fight Muhammed Ali again next year but predicted it might be two or three years before they could have a rematch.

"There's a lot of legal aspects, problems with contracts," Fraxier said. "It might not be until '73 or '74. I'm ready anyway."

He did not specify the "problems."

Frazier, appearing on a syndicated television show from inside the Ohio Penitentiary, admitted he was "about 10 pounds overweight" at 225 pounds.

About 250 of the 1,840 inmates at the maximum security prison were in the audience, and one of them asked Frazier why he usually refers to Ali by his former name, Cassius Clay, instead of his chosen Muslim name.

"I don't do it to be disrespectful," Frazier said. "I'm just a little more clever than him. I do it to make him angry.

"He'll call me tomorrow and say, 'Joe Frazier — I'm gonna get you.' "

"He's liable to tell you anything," Frazier responded. "As far as he was concerned, he wasn't even down."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Capital Gain Of Firm Is Sluggish

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I would very much appreciate your view on Midland-Ross. My 500 shares cost $39 and I am wondering about averaging down. — R.M.

A. A disappointing third quarter — 10 cents a share vs. 49 cents in the 1970 quarter — casts doubt on the security of Midland's 35-cent quarterly dividend rate. Market sentiment on this score is indicated by the excessive 7.8 per cent current yield now available in these shares. For the 9 months, sales receded 2.6 per cent while net income plunged 29 per cent.

Midland, a cyclical issue, produces capital goods, automotive products, railroad equipment and construction materials. The first two categories account for about two-thirds of company production. While the investment tax credit, if enacted, would boost earnings, Midland's products are such that substantial lead time is required before installation. Thus meaningful profit gains would probably not accrue before late 1972.

The company's Midrex division, which produces metallized pellets for the steel industry, has above-average long-term potential. Plant capacity will be doubled to 800,000 tons annually by 1973.

Midland acquired 50,000 of its own shares in October when trading was at the 10-21 level. Although much of the bad news has been discounted, shares are vulnerable to further erosion in a down market, thus additional purchases should be timed accordingly.

Q. Could you discuss American Standard. It seems to get no place although it is heavily traded. What other plumbing issues would you recommend? — E.K. & G.N.

A. American Standard is the leading manufacturer of plumbing equipment; other major producers include Borg-Warner, Crane Co. and Kohler. A drop in third quarter net marks the eighth consecutive decline in American's interim earnings. In announcing its deteriorating results, management stated that a substantial loss will be reported for the year.

A complete restructuring, including disposal of one-fifth of assets, elimination of certain products, plant closings and a 45 per cent reduction of debt is planned for the next few years. Crane Co. appears to be the most promising of the plumbing issues.

Savings Loan Association's New Name

Colonial Savings and Loan Association offices in Novato and Tiburon have undergone their third name change as a result of this firm's merger into Home Savings and Loan Association.

Originally Novato Savings and Loan, the two offices were named Franciscan Savings and Loan about three years ago and later were purchased by Colonial.

The seven-branch Colonial Bay Area operation, headquartered in San Francisco, joins Walnut Creek Savings and Loan and San Mateo County Savings and Loan in becoming part of the Home Savings chain. Other Colonial branches in Southern California are expected to be added to the network by the end of the year.

Home is the largest savings and loan association in the United States and now has over $4 billion in assets.

Food Sale Hike

SANTA MONICA (BW) — Host International Inc., the world's largest operator of airport terminal food, beverage and merchandise facilities, has reported sales for the nine-month period ended Sept. 30 increased to $84,417,000 compared with $82,397,000 for the like period in 1970.

DALLAS (BW) — Southland Paper Mills Inc. has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering the proposed sale of 500,000 shares of common stock.

Southland, headquartered in Lufkin, Tex., is an integrated manufacturer of pulp and paper products, principally newsprint, Kraft papers and groundwood specialty papers. Southland has papermills in Lufkin and Houston.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Helene Fly Looking For Quarters For Manufacturing Soap

Now well into production and marketing a new product and looking for a permanent manufacturing location is Helene Fly of Novato, co-founder and first president of Zolene, Inc. and its line of cosmetics that launched Holiday Magic on its course.

Mrs. Fly, under her present corporate name of Helene's Formulas, Inc., is now turning out a clear glycerine soap "in 12 delicious flavors" with the help of her two daughters. She already has this in the hands of distributors and in the stores. Brand name is Nature's Way.

From all indications it appears she will be as successful with soaps as she was with her famous skin creams.

NEWLY OPENED LAW OFFICES are those of Barrett and Keyes at 4340 Redwood Highway, Northgate Industrial Park.

Martin E. Barrett of Larkspur was formerly a lawyer-editor at Commerce Clearing House. Vincent E. Keyes has had his practice in San Francisco and probably will be moving from that city to Marin.

Lease negotiations were handled by William W. Hoey Co.

SAID TO BE the only all-woman-staffed finance company office in the county is American Finance Co., 1417 Fourth Street, San Rafael, which has been here about six years.

Staff consists of Christine Dippon of Sonoma, office manager; Sylvia Senter of San Rafael, cashier; and Betty Dominguez of San Rafael, assistant manager.

This seems to be a trend of American Finance, which is based at Silver Springs, Md. It now has 24 women managers.

WRONG CORNER: The new Mobilgas service station will be located at the southwest corner of Lincoln and Mission avenues, San Rafael — not the southeast corner as reported in this column on Nov. 4.

TWO MARIN MEN, Richard A. Drever Jr. of Mill Valley and Mark A. Lechowski of San Rafael, have been named senior associates at the San Francisco architectural firm of Rex Whitaker Allen and Associates.

Drever Lechowski

Drever, who is in charge of management for the firm, joined Allen in 1963. He has served as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission of the Tamalpais Community Services District and is a director of the district.

Lechowski, who is director of design, joined the firm in 1964. He had design responsibility for two hospitals which won the 1971 annual design award of Progressive Architecture magazine.

Both men have been associated with the conception of design of several major hospitals in Northern California.

REAL ESTATE: Peter Fitzhugh of Ross has joined the San Rafael sales staff of Frank Howard Allen and Co. he is a commercial and investment property specialist and was previously with William S. Johnstone, Inc. of Tiburon.

MOTORCRAFT: Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael Volkswagen dealer, will hold its annual European Tourist and Travel Night next Friday at 8 p.m., when auto touring in Europe will be discussed in movies, color slides and by speakers Leo S. Noah and Don McPherson, who will answer questions on transportation from the U.S., auto delivery in Europe and offer another four suggestions

Stan Wisnes of Isi-Wisnes, Inc., San Rafael recently took part in a big truck driveaway promotion at International Harvester's plant in San Leandro which generated orders for more than 500 International trucks.

Gross Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — National Bankamericard Inc. reported a third quarter gross volume Monday of $871.49 million, compared with $704.35 million for the same period a year ago.

Early Hour Stocks Show Slight Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) —Gold mining and selected electronic issues paced a small advance on the New York Stock Exchange through the first two hours of trading today.

Motors and airlines generally tacked on fractions, while steels, chemicals, oils, rails and aircrafts traded in narrowly irregular fashion.

The Pay Board, one of the units responsible for establishing guidelines for the administration's Phase Two Economic program, voted Monday to hold future pay increases to about 5.5 per cent and bar most workers from collecting wages lost during President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze which ends Nov. 13. The move, bitterly opposed by labor, raised the question of whether labor representatives will continue to participate on the board.

On Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was ahead around 3 points at 840.61, and advances topped declines, 727 to 384, among the 1,433 issues crossing the tape.

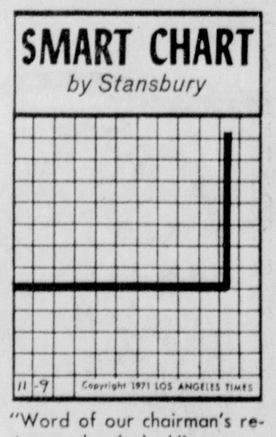
Prices also pointed higher in light trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were TWA warrants up 3-8 on a volume of around 30,000, Syntex more than a point higher on 18,000 shares, and Presley Development fractionally higher on 15,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Bausch & Lomb and IBM gained more than 2 apiece.

Gold mining shares up a point or so were Dome Mines and American-South African Investment.

Also a point or so higher were Polaroid, Xerox, Walt Disney, and Northwest Airlines.



"Word of our chairman's retirement has leaked."

Credit Plan

LOS ANGELES (BW) — National Airlines has entered into a new $175 million credit agreement with its regular group of lending banks led by Chemical Bank.

Real Estate Syndication and Financial Planning

Lack of predictability in mutual fund and stock market investments, together with the "non-inflation proof" returns of saving institutions, are causing many investors to turn to real estate, and real estate syndication.

As much as we believe in real estate syndication for TAX SHELTER, HIGH INCOME, CAPITAL GAINS and EQUITY ACCUMULATION, we discourage such investments made without knowledgeable and competent financial planning.

Our expertise in these areas has previously been available only on a private client basis, but is now expanded to include public offerings.

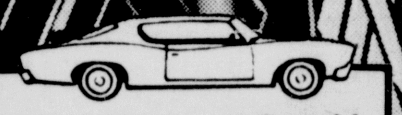
4-PLY NYLON CORD

Riverside® HST HIGH SPEED TIRE

Rugged, 4-ply nylon cord body for greater strength, durability, and resistance to puncture and impact damage. Wrap-around tread design improves steering response, and stability for easier, more comfortable driving at high speeds. Deep tread, fortified with a long-mileage additive for long dependable wear.



Blow-up now and avoid a blow-out later. Inflate your tires to the recommended pressure. Too much or too little inflation causes tire wear, poor ride, and handling.
